ANOTHER OPEN LETTER TO HON. C. B. MOORES

Is Invited to Produce Author of Specific Charges or Be Considered the Author of the Letter Himself—Invited to Debate Assembly Versus Direct Primary.

The Oregonian of July 9 allows Hon. C. B. Moores three columns of space to discuss men of prominence in state affairs none of whom would be allowed three lines to reply, and makes this statement:

Recently a prominent citizen of Salem, declaring his own financial responsibility and his readiness to back his charges in the courts, made bold to file specific charges with President Taft. These charges elicited no response and Colonel David M. Dunne was instructed to renew his bond as Collector of Internal Revenue.

The above was published July 9, and has not been replied to. I have a right to know the name of the accuser, and the person making the accusation referred to above.

The above reference was the first ever made public about the "specific charges" filed with the president. As the editor of this paper never wrote to Mr. Taft asking for an appointment, this unknown "Prominent Citizen" should be revealed when he attacks a man under cover.

Hon. C. B. Moores is a man of prominence and the self-appointed champion and safe-guarder of the state in many ways.

I call upon him again to produce the letter and the name of the prominent citizen, or stand before the people as a defamer of others.

I care nothing about the contents of the letter, which was never filed with the public records in the case.

But the accusation of "specific charges" any man in public life has a right to know whence they came and the author.

Mr. Moores and I differ about the merits of the Direct Primary and Statement No. 1, and if he wants to debate that question before any public audience in the state I will be glad to meet him.

He stands for the sacred rights of predatory political methods where Republicanism is to be rewarded at public expense.

I believe in reducing the rewards of political activity to a minimum, and would wipe out a great many commissions and boards and jobs that he considers sacred political property of politicians.

These are matters of minor importance, but his insinuation of specific charges I do resent as cowardly and pusillanimous in the line of political warfare.

My good name and honor are as dear to me as his, and all I have ever said about him has been for the public records, and not for some nameless citizen of such prominence as to have influence with the president.

It seems to me it is up to Mr. Moores to produce that letter and that "prominent citizen" unless he wishes to infer he wrote it himself.

DISCUSSES THE ASSEMBLY.

Ed. Journal:—You have been speaking very softly of the Assembly. M. L. Jones said they had not named a farmer on the floor, and it is pretty near true. But what are we doing, when we send so many officials and ex-officials to manage Republican party matters? Are there no men in the party any more but officers and ex-officers who are good enough for the purposes of assemblies? There is a fine list of delegates to the state assembly, composed of Col. Poorman of legislative fame, W. W. Hall who was county clerk, Jesse Settlement who was in the legislature, A. M. La Follette who was representative and M. L. Jones who ran for county judge, W. L. Jones, county chairman and who ran for recorder, Lieut. Eldridge who was in the paymasters department and is alderman, Dave Drager who is county recorder, Albert Sutton who has the bootblack stand at the state house, L. T. Reynolds of the state board of horticulture and member of the legislature, W. P. Campbell, assistant superintendent of the Chemawa Indian school, Geo. G. Bingham attorney for the S. P. Co., Dr. Smith of the Feeble Minded Institute, John Roland who was county clerk and has had several state jobs, L. J. Adams attorney for the S. P. Co., Dr. Brooks pension examiner, District Attorney McNary, ex-penitentiary superintendent Gilbert, school director Moores, Chas. A. Murphy of the Feeble Minded Institute, Frank Southwick state contractor, R. W. Craig, postmaster, B. F. West, secretary Republican club, W. S. Hurst of the state anti-saloon league, Alderman Carson and Elliott, Ex-Sheriff Culver and Ex-Sheriff Knight, ex-

senator Hobson, ex-commissioner Watson and who the rest of the delegates are I don't know. But if they don't drive a hard bargain for fat offices with the man they vote for Governor and every other office I am a sucker from high up the creek. These men are experts in profitable politics and I will bet every one gets his little promise of a place before he delivers the goods. I have lived in Salem for forty years and I never saw the office-holding class so rampant. Those men like Frank Wrightman, little Doc Smith and others who are not yet delegates will show up down there with proxies. We thought proxies were forbidden but about half the assembly votes outside of the city were cast on proxies. I suppose the proxy business will be just as strong at Portland a week from Thursday. The assembly was about a half-baked old-fashioned convention, but it was slated just as completely as any convention I ever saw. The slate was broken on Ed. McKinney and I felt sorry for him, as he has been hankering to get at the trough for years and it was a sad sight to see the faithfulness of the McKinney boys rewarded the way it was. They were all three in the convention and John W. Made a great many good motions and suggestions, but it seems the farm boys were not in the game for a minute. I know the names of six of the nine men who met the night before and made up the ticket that was put through and the other three are promised me, and if I get them I will give them to you to print just to show the boys from the country the way they were put under the road roller.

ANOTHER BALLOON TURNS TURTLE IN MID-AIR KILLING FIVE MEN

Cologne, July 13.—Carrying five men to death, the dirigible balloon Erbsloeh fell 5000 feet near Pascheid, West Germany, today. Herr Erbsloeh, constructor of the dirigible, and an inventor of renown, is among the dead.

The aeroplane, although only a sixth as large as the Zeppelin craft, had made several successful flights with passengers. The Erbsloeh ascended from Dusseldorf shortly after sunrise, carrying, besides the inventor, two companions and two professional chauffeurs, who were acting as mechanics.

Near Pascheid one of the balloon nets, of which there were 12, set in a rigid frame like water tight compartments of a ship, burst and the gas bag it enclosed exploded. The other bags were ripped to pieces, and the aluminum car with its passengers and heavy engines dropped like a plummet.

The car turned over before those inside could leap from it. The engines, which were attached to the car, were driven into the earth by the impact of the fall, and the men, caught in the descending car, were half buried in the earth.

CHICAGO TO TEACH CHILDREN TO SWIM

Chicago, July 13.—"Every boy and girl ought to know how to swim," said Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of public schools today, and recently elected head of the National Educational Association "and every boy and girl attending the public schools will soon be compelled to learn to swim, just as he or she is taught to read and write in the regular grammar course.

"Every teacher ought to know how to swim, and the first step in accomplishing this fact will be the introduction into our teachers' training course at the normal school of a course in swimming.

"Eventually we will establish swimming tanks in each of the high schools throughout the city and the children attending the various grammar schools can be brought to the high schools to receive their practical training.

"Instruction in the proper way to swim can be given in the class room, but the actual practice will have quicker results and will rob the water of whatever terror it has for some of the more timid."

Obituary.

Frank A. Colony, son of Charles E. and Eleanor M. Colony, born May 11, 1859, near Iowa City, Iowa, was married February 22, 1882 to Miss Eliza E. Elliott. Three children were born to them, one son and two daughters, one daughter died in infancy.

He was educated in Iowa City schools, the State University and Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Illinois. In his 17th year he gave his heart to God and consecrated his life to his service. Early in life he received a definite call to preach the Gospel. He received license to enter the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church in Des Moines conference in 1888. Joined the South Dakota conference in 1890. In 1892 transferred to Nebraska conference where he preached with great acceptability, holding pastorates in some of the best churches in that conference, where by his kindness, gentleness and large heartedness, together with unusual pupil ability made him countless numbers of friends wherever he went, always a help and inspiration to the people. His best monument will be the people he has helped to a better life.

In 1907 while in his third year in York, Nebraska, ill health compelled him to take a superannuated relation to that conference which he held to the time of his death. In the hope of regaining his health and again taking up active work in the ministry, he came with his family to the Pacific coast and located in this city, where he had already at the time of his death, made hosts of friends. After several months of bodily pain and suffering, his life ended in calm and peaceful rest. Those left to mourn the loss of a loved one are his wife, son Elliott daughter Eleanor, father, three sisters and three brothers. His father and one sister came from Iowa City to be with him during his last days before he entered the heavenly mansions.

Insurgency in England. LONDON, July 13.—"Insurgency" and "progressive tactics" are not alone confined to the American legislative body. Premier Asquith is encountering the reform element of the Liberal party, and is believed to have fallen in his attempt to force the Liberals into an agreement with the Conservatives for indefinite shelving of the reform program, for which it has been working.

Rheumatism

Is A Constitutional Disease. It manifests itself in local aches and pains,—inflamed joints and stiff muscles,—but it cannot be cured by local applications. It requires constitutional treatment, and the best is a course of the great blood purifying and tonic medicine Hood's Sarsaparilla which corrects the acid condition of the blood and builds up the system. Get it today in usual liquid form or choicest tablets called Sarsatabs.

Watch Found Hanging to Bough Year After Loss.

A pocket watch has been discovered in the woods near Riverhead, N. Y., but was not arrested. It was a twig.

In December, 1908, L. M. Raynor, of Riverhead, was in the woods, and unknown to him at the time a twig picked his pocket, neatly extracting his watch. He did not know of his loss until he reached home, and he did not know what had become of the watch. Walking in the woods recently, Raynor saw his watch depending from a twig about the level of his head. He believed he must have bent the branch down while passing and that his pocket was picked at that time.
