PASSENGER ANSWERING DESCRIPTION OF DENTIST WANTED IN LONDON FOR MURDER ALIGHTS FROM STEAMER MEGANTIC AT MONTREAL, WITH WOMAN, AND DISAPPEARS.

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Montreal, July 19.—A passenger tallying with the description of Dr. Hawley Crippen sent out by the London police was on the White Star Dominion liner Megantic which arrived at Montreal yesterday from Liverpool. The Megantic left Liverpool on July 8, the day on which Dr. Crippen is supposed to have left England. On arrival here the passenger in question accompanied by a woman, took a cab and has not been seen since.

SOLID WEEK OF WATER FROLICS

From August 15th to 22nd inclusive, Coos Bay will be the scene of continuous merriment.

During that week there will be Motor Boat Races of the class of "General II," "Seattle Spirit," "Wolf II," and other fast boats of 30 miles an hour or better. A large prize will be hung up for this event, also a valuable Loving Cup, by the Coos Bay Motor Boat club, which association will have charge of the water sports. The club has a large program of small races daily.

A magnificent water parade daily, both in the afternoon and evening, a pageant of floats worth going miles to see.

There will be clam bakes, barbecues, beach rides, sea bathing, hunting and fishing parties, automobilizing, carnival attractions, receptions, conventions, and a general good time for all.

The auto road from Roseburg is in fine shape, the trip being made daily in seven hours. Auto parties may go there in perfect confidence of reaching the place without mishap, as there has been many thousands of dollars spent on the road putting it in fine shape.

At this season of the year, while the people of the Willamette Valley are sweltering with the heat, Coos Bay is at her best, enjoying a cool and refreshing sea breeze, which to believe fully one must experience personally.

A move is on foot and the committee has assurances of obtaining two or three battleships or cruisers, to appear in the offing during the week. This will afford an opportunity to go on board our great gun boats, a privilege rarely extended the average civilian.

Information regarding the Carnival and Regatta may be had by addressing the Secretary of the Coos Bay Deep Waterway Carnival and Regatta.

The Best Time for a Bath

On this point there is considerable difference of opinion. The general idea is that the best and most convenient time for taking a bath is just after getting out of bed in the morning, and there can be no doubt that a cold bath then does act as an invigorating tonic to the system. Dr. Richardson, however, and other eminent authorities on hygiene maintain that this theory is incorrect and that if for any reason it is impossible to carry out complete ablution twice a day, which is beyond question the best plan, then general ablution is best just before going to bed. "There is no practice," says Dr. Richardson, "more objectionable than to go to bed closely wrapped up in the dust and dirt that accumulate on the surface of the body during the day, nor is there anything I know so conducive to the best of sleepers from the adoption of this simple rule. If the time to sound sleep as a tepid douche just before getting into bed. I have many times known bed sleepers be body be well sponged over before going to bed the morning ablution—though it is still better to carry it out—need not of necessity be so general.

ON RECORD FOR PURE ARTICLE

to the arena to explain that the mayor at first had considered the price of the plant exorbitant; that he had labored to bring about a reduction, and therefore had taken his first stand against the purchase, and upon failing to secure it, and after considering all the phases of the question decided that the purchase of the plant was the easiest way of solving the city's pure water question.

Councilman Stoltz left the chair long enough to explain the mayor's attitude, and then launched out in defense of the resolution.

Must Have Mountain Water.

The resolution read that in the event of the purchase of the present plant the city should install a gravity water system from some point above Mehama. Councilman Lachmund moved an amendment which would make it read that the city install a system which would secure pure water from any source.

Mr. Lachmund in stating his position on the subject said that he felt that with the installation of a filtration plant pure water could be secured from the river, and he opposed a resolution that would eliminate the Willamette from consideration as a water source.

Councilman Stoltz held that the people were entitled to an expression of the council as to its attitude—as to what it proposed doing should the people vote for the purchase of the plant. "People generally," he said, would favor the purchase of the plant, if assured the council would connect it up with the mountain gravity system. He expressed himself as in favor of purchasing the plant, for a number of reasons, and as favoring the proposition of going to the mountains for water.

Councilman Huckestein reviewed the situation, and ended by expressing himself in favor of purchasing the plant, and securing water from the mountains. Councilmen Elliott and Greenbaum expressed themselves as being of the same mind. The general opinion prevailed, it was contended by all of them, that the river water was not pure, and the only solution was mountain water.

Finally the amendment came to a vote and it was lost. The original resolution was then balloted upon, and it passed without a dissenting vote.

Resolution as Passed.

The resolution as passed is as follows:

"Whereas, The question of acquiring a present water system by purchase will be submitted to the voters of Salem at a special election in August; and,

"Whereas, It would seem expedient and proper that the Salem city council should declare itself in such a manner that would leave no doubt in the mind of the people of Salem as to the plans and purposes of this administration in the purchase of the Salem water plant; therefore be it

"Resolved, That it is the plan of the present council that should the vote of the people of Salem be favorable to the purchase of the present plant that immediate steps be taken to install a gravity system from some point above Mehama.

"Resolved, That we favor the purchase of the Salem Water Company's plant, as proposed by ordinance recently adopted by this council, and give the following as a few of the most apparent reasons on which we recommend the purchase: Foremost of all arguments stand the great fact that something must be done to give every family of Salem good water and to so increase the supply of good water that every state institution in and about Salem can be taken care of; to meet this great fact and remove the reflection on the good name of our city should be the foremost in the minds of each and every voter.

The purchase of the present plant seems to us the quickest way to bring about the necessary relief. It would at once put back of the water supply the consciousness of municipal ownership. It will give the city all of the present income, and with the means provided for will enable the city to supply all parts of the city with water and greatly increase the income of the city. The purchase of the present plant will greatly assist the city in placing the bonds for the purchase, as well as extension, and will avoid the confusion of parceling the present mains, the digging up of our paved streets, and the great expense to the individual property owners of making the change to a new system. This item would amount to many thousands of dollars, to say nothing of years of delay.

"Resolved, That we invite the closest possible study of this question; all the procedure of the council is open for the people of Salem, and a careful and honest study of this vital question so closely affecting the great interests of all."

GRINDS OUT SOME MINOR DECISIONS

SUPREME COURT HANDS DOWN OPINION FOR INJURY SUSTAINED BY LABORER AND DECIDES FOUR OTHER CASES ON APPEAL.

The supreme court this morning affirmed the judgment of the lower tribunal in the case of Frank Miller against Brown & McCabe, and the original judgment which awards Miller damages to the amount of $1,750 for injuries sustained while loading some lumber for the defendant, stands.

Miller, when the accident occurred, was engaged in loading lumber on a steamer in Portland. His duties consisted in placing the planks in position as they were loaded on the boat, and while a plank was being lifted on it, it seems the winch broke and the plank was hurled upon him, breaking his leg.

Four Other Cases Decided.

The order of the circuit court allowing the defendants to re-open the case of J. H. Fildes, appellant, and plaintiff against J. T. Milner, et al. a case from Tillamook county was sustained, and the case remanded for trial.

The judgment in the case of George Porter, et al., appellants against S. B. Pettengill, a Josephine county case, was reversed. This involved the question of the priority of certain water rights.

A reversal was also made in the case of Charles H. Bean, appellant against S. B. Pettengill, the issue involved, being the removal of the appellant from the position of administrator for an estate. This case was from the circuit court of Josephine county.

The judgment of the Washington county court in the case of A. L. Langley against Al Abraham Kessler, respondent, was affirmed. The issue involved was the quieting of title to certain real property.

Don't Neglect Orchard.

No one thing seems more difficult to impress upon the minds of the farmer and fruit grower than the fact that the orchard, like other growing crops, needs care and culture, and that when neglected they will tell the sad story, the same as other farm crops. No crop will repay care and cultivation better than an orchard and no crop will suffer more by neglect. For the first five or six years the trees should be cultivated and after this a system of cultivation, cover crops and grasses may be introduced according to the growth of the trees and the amount of the fruit produced.

On most soils there will be sufficient natural fertility to produce a favorable growth of wood and I believe that it will be more profitable to use no fertilizer until after the trees begin to produce fruit. Some times when the soil is deficient in available plant food it may be an advantage to use a mineral fertilizer, but as a rule, I believe that better trees are grown from the natural fertility of the soil, and that a better root system is developed than when there is manure and commercial fertilizers used to hasten the growth of the trees.

After the roots interlock each other so that they occupy all of the soil, they have utilized practically all of the available plant food in the soil and if the trees produce superior fruit they must be liberally fertilized. The use of legumes as a source of nitrogen and an incomplete fertilizer rich in phosphoric acid and potash is the most efficient and economical method of fertilizing the orchard. —Western Farm Journal.

Milwaukee Vacation Schools.

Vacation schools offer not a task but a privilege to those pupils who attend, and that it is so regarded applications and waiting lists show, says the Milwaukee Free Press. More would-be pupils apply than can possibly be accommodated. Book learning is not the mode at the vacation school, where the more social method of oral instruction with demonstration takes its place, since entertainment as well as instruction is the aim, and pupils are introduced to a form of knowledge which will give them new resources for their leisure hours. Instead of memorizing or poring over figures the eager classes are given manual training, gymnastics, and, best of all, are taken to the parks or the country once a week for nature study, or to vacant lots to learn something about flower and vegetable gardening.

FATHERS INDULGE IN TRIFLES.

It did not make it any more legal, and it did not increase the knowledge of the councilmen as to the subject, but the idea percolated into the minds of Councilmen Lachmund and Manning that the ordinance would not be constitutional without it and for just 24 minutes the ears of the spectators were lacerated to the quick with uninteresting descriptions and legal phrases—phrases that go clear through the dictionary and back again to express a single idea. During its reading the councilmen amused themselves by reading and drawing pictures, and when it came to an end and was finally passed, they celebrated the occasion by having the clerk read the toast about "the girl with the high-heeled shoes, and the—" well, ask the councilmen about the rest of the toast.

Besides passing this bill, the council also passed a bill levying the assessment of the same street from Shipping to Madison street. The total cost of the latter was estimated at $2763.54, and that for the first was $59,771.61.

Streets Completed.

The street committee made a favorable report upon the bid of August Kerberger for the improvement of Ferry street from Twelfth to Fourteenth, and the contract was awarded to him.

The city engineer stated that sufficient work had been done on Saginaw street to warrant the payment of 80 per cent of the contract price to the contractor, and it was so ordered. Similar action was taken with relation to South Commercial street, Fourteenth, Broadway, and in the case of Miller street the full amount of the contract was ordered paid.

Plans and specifications for the improvement of Mill street from Twelfth to the Southern Pacific tracks were adopted, and so were plans and specifications for the improvement of an alley in blocks 22 and 23, and also for an alley in blocks 22, 23, 34 and 35.

To Build Sidewalks.

The city was authorized to enter into a contract for the purchase of a strip of land 30 feet wide lying in Fourteenth street between Chemeke-ta and Center from the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for the consideration of $250. The company held the absolute title to the land, and it was interfering with street improvement, and it was this that prompted the council to purchase it.

A resolution directing property owners on the South side of Ferry street, for a distance of 102 feet, to build a sidewalk was adopted. A similar resolution directing that a cement sidewalk be built on the east side of Twelfth street from the alley north of Court to Center street was referred to the city attorney. A resolution which has for its object the construction of a cement sidewalk on the north side of Ferry from Commercial to the Club stables was adopted.

The property owners on Twelfth street, from Mission to Bellevue to Mission, petitioned for the improvement of that street and the petition was granted.

A petition for the vacation of an alley in block 13, Meyers' addition, was laid on the table.

Bids Were Considered.

Bids were opened and a contract awarded for the improvement of Cherry Avenue from Highland to Lo-

Cape Cod and Its Name.

It is not a euphonious name—Cape Cod. Indeed, it is strikingly abrupt and business like as a designation for that long beckoning finger of land that seems to be eternally summoning all Europe to come over and play in our yard.

Cape Ann, rounding on the north of Boston as Cape Cod encircles Massachusetts waters on the south, has an even snappier name, though the associations with some unexpressive she savor more of romance than those with the funny tribe do. And speaking of Cape Cod, an English paper lately commented on the utter lack of humor in New Englanders, proved by the significance they give and the reverent respect they show to the historic codfish at the Massachusetts State House. Let not the Londoner suppose that we do not recognize the humorous possibilities in this particular fetish, but the associations with the sturdy pioneers of the land and the hardy toilers on the sea loom so much larger than the absurdities that even the daring American wit has let the codfish alone.

Dynamite Hurts Three.

Eugene, Or., July 19.—Dominic Estrada and Augustine Estrada, Mexicans, and O. Callurgo, Italian, are lying at the Eugene General Hospital suffering greatly as the result of a premature dynamite explosion on the Southern Pacific's Natron extension.

The accident occurred as the men were lighting the fuse of a charge, which went off unexpectedly. All the injured will live.
