

HE MIXED RELIGION AND POLITICS

SENATOR ABRAHAM'S OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNOR WITH AN ENDORSEMENT OF THE "HUGHES-TAFT-ROOSEVELT PLAN" WHICH IS SURELY BROAD ENOUGH TO COVER ALMOST EVERYTHING.

(Eugene Register.) Religion and politics were deftly intertwined by Senator Albert Abraham in the course of his address at the inauguration of his campaign for the republican nomination for governor last night at the court house.

Senator Abraham penetrated the fastnesses of the enemy. He decried Bourneism, alluding to the latter's "mysterious ways". He spoke of imminent Sunday legislation and paid especial attention to the Hughes direct primary bill of New York, advocacy of which as an amendment to the Oregon law he is making a special feature of his campaign. The "Hughes-Taft-Roosevelt" plan is Senator Abraham's program and he lived up to his slogan last night.

Senator Abraham was introduced by Colonel W. G. D. Mercer, who was most laudatory in his comments regarding the candidate. He said Senator Abraham had made many friends and they all believed he would win the nomination for governor. He regretted he could not speak at length to the same effect but added he wanted to hear Senator Abraham himself.

When Senator Abraham rose to his feet the hall was well filled. Particularly noticeable was a number of the leaders of both the local assembly and anti assembly camps. There was considerable enthusiasm and when the speaker sat down he was given a rousing hand clap. Senator Abraham seemed to be exceptionally pleased and said he could not wish for an audience better than he had had that night and it was the kind he had hoped to have but feared he would not have for his opening speech.

Senator Abraham struck an unique note when he declared his belief in the Divine origin of our government. He said it was his belief it was founded on the Bible. He instanced history to show that at critical times in the life of the nation, the people had been ordered to get on their knees and pray for deliverance and he asserted that Lincoln had declared that the reverses of people were owing to their sins.

"I may have peculiar beliefs," he continued, "but I am by nature a religious man. I have great faith in the religious basis of our government, which was founded on our faith in a Divine Being. Numbers of time has the nation been called to its knees in prayer."

"But the only way in which the government can take part in the religious life of the people is by reasonable legislation such as a Sunday closing law that will enable our people to worship according to the dictates of their consciences."

"In Multnomah county is one-third of the population of the state. It was there that Judge Gantenben declared our present Sunday closing law unconstitutional, but I believe that were that law now to be taken to the supreme court, as it is at present constituted, it would be declared unconstitutional."

"I may be mistaken. I do not pretend to have a better knowledge of things than other men, but I think I know people.

"A Sunday closing law was introduced," Senator Abraham went on, "at the last session of the legislature. It was defeated. It was not to make a 'blue' or a drastic law, but simply because the present law had been set aside."

"There are but one or two states that have no Sunday closing law. We don't realize the importance of what it means to have a Sunday law. I think that you, gentlemen, are as much interested in having our Sunday law preserved as you are in the preservation of the republican party. Granted it is observed here, but it is not observed elsewhere and if this keeps on we shall soon have no Sunday, as is the condition in France today. Two years ago Italy had no Sunday law. Italy has now and I was told at the last session of the legislature that while there was dissatisfaction for one or two Sundays, now there is nothing but unbounded satisfaction."

It was when he began to talk on the inroads upon and depletions from the ranks of the republican party that the senator became even more earnest.

He told the old story from Greek mythology of how Mercury stole Apollo's sheep, leading, or rather dragging them by their tails from the cavern in which they were. By this means the sheep left no tracks and could not be traced as there was nothing to show they had left the cave.

"Members of the republican party are being dragged tail foremost from that party," then asserted the gubernatorial candidate. "None seems to know when it is done and only Mr. Bourne and Mr. U'Ren seem to know just how it is done. The ranks of the party are being depleted in a most mysterious way and probably no one but these gentlemen could tell us the reason."

As a remedy for this situation, Senator Abraham urged a consolidation of the ranks of the party, a general "pull-together" movement. He believed, he said, in government by the party and of the party. He thought the people should control the party and rule, but through the party.

The Hughes Plan.

He illustrated this by the effects of an amendment such as he proposes to the direct primary law on the lines of the Governor Hughes' bill. By means of this amendment, at the primaries by means of committees to form state and county committees would be placed on the ballot by petition. These committees, when elected, would have the right to 'designate' officers for the various state and county offices. Men so 'designated' would then be able to go on the ballot without petitions. Their so doing would not prevent others going before the electors by means of petitions and by such means getting on the ballot.

But on the nominees of the committees the party would be able to consolidate. There would be no 'hole and corner' methods, the committees would meet publicly and elect viva voce. There could be no charge of collusion and hiding of the manner in which the votes were cast.

"As things are at present," then contended the speaker, "there is practically no difference between a democrat and a republican. At least only one man in 100 has the nerve to call himself a nominee of the party after he gets the nomination."

In these effective words the senator paid his respects to the would-be officeholders of the shilly-shally order.

Senator Abraham showed he did not agree with the assembly. "The assembly candidates," he said, "and by them I mean men such as Senator Bowron and other principal nominees, have showed by their declarations they do not want to amend the primary law. Why not? If it is a good thing it ought to be done away with. To legalize the assembly an amendment should be made to the primary law."

"Whether I win this campaign or whether I lose, I am still going to urge an amendment to the law on the lines of the Hughes bill."

Senator Abraham was clean cut and forcible in his arguments. He made a most favorable impression and many members of the audience stopped a while to congratulate the speaker and to pledge their support.

POLLARDS ARE COMING TO SALEM

WILL PRESENT THE MOST DELIGHTFUL OF ALL COMIC OPERAS AT THE GRAND NEXT MONDAY NIGHT—A FINE COMPANY.

Several years ago there was printed in a Dramatic paper a story given by Mrs. Chester, of the Pollard Lilliputian Opera company, to the effect that she intended bringing back to this country all of the early favorites of the first and second Lilliputian companies, now practically well grown up, to be formed into an adult company for a tour of the United States and Canada. For various reasons, the scheme was postponed until this season. The management has been successful in organizing this company, to be sent on the road with an equipment quite up to the standard of this management's other companies that have appeared in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and America. Their appearance in this city will be most cordially welcomed.

The entire production of the National-Pollard Opera company will be found in keeping with the most exacting demands, and the Pollard adults will more than duplicate the splendid success achieved by their younger associates of the footlights, for they have among their number the best that have graduated from the Lilliputians of the last 15 years. They will appear in Gilbert and Sullivan's ever popular "The Mikado," at the Grand Opera House, Monday, September 5, 1910. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50.

Secure your seats for "The Mikado" next Saturday morning early, for the National-Pollard Opera company is going to pay us a visit and produce Gilbert and Sullivan's great satirical Japanese opera, "The Mikado." It may not edify our Japanese neighbors, but they will have to laugh at Alf Pollard's Ko-Ko, for he's the funniest comedian that ever essayed the part. Eva Pollard is the Yum-Yum, and Jack Pollard the Mikado. The company combines the strength of both the National and the adult Pollards, and the performance they give of "The Mikado" is one that will long be remembered.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

It is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equalling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or parrot for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortland St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

Arbuckles Cornering the Coffee.
Cincinnati, O., Sept. 1.—An attempt to control the coffee supply of the world is laid at the door of Arbuckle Bros. by a coffee merchant, a member of the Gasser Coffee company of this city.

The Arbuckles are said to have combined with the Brazilian government. They have issued orders to brokers here to buy all the available coffee in the market and have purchased extensively in the New York market.

The cheaper brands are the ones most sought. Coffee already has advanced two cents a pound and dealers declare it will go higher.

Have You Ever Said: "I don't see how all the Magazines live?"

Undoubtedly you have. Probably you have often stood before some news stand and wondered what magazines to buy. There are a lot of magazines. Most of them are mighty good and most of them live because they are good.

But there's one magazine that not only lives but GROWS. There are fifteen or more good reasons for this in every issue. These reasons are its "unbeatable" features—the special articles obtained at enormous cost—the best fiction in the world—and its powerful, sincere editorial purpose.

The September number for example: Every feature is a big one. It is actually stuffed with big, vital news—information that you ought to have, articles that explain things, stories that every member of your family will read with intense delight. Here are some of the extra good things:

- Splendid Fiction. Stories—fine ones—by Arthur Stringer, Alice Brown, Mary Heaton Vorse, George Fitch and John Fleming Wilson.
- "The Tooth Tinkers"—An account by Roy L. McCardell of "Painless Parkers" and their swindles.
- "The Czar of Footwear"—Startling facts—all brand new—about the Shoe Machinery Trust, by Judson C. Welliver.
- "In Reno Riotous"—A great story of the Johnson-Jeffries fight, by Harris Merton Lyon, filled with personality, crowded with local color, and illustrated just right.

The magazine that not only lives but grows is the magazine that is giving to the country "Peary's Own Story," a $50,000 feature; it is the magazine that is publishing the first English translation in America of M. Rostand's world famous drama "Chantecler." It is "the Best Magazine in America" and it is called

ACT QUICKLY.

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Salem.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this. F. A. Sutton, Hoyt & West streets, Salem, Oregon, says: "For 10 or 12 years, rheumatism and kidney trouble were the plague of my life. I suffered intensely from a pain in the small of my back and was often unable to move. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but to no avail, and I was in a bad way when I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Dr. Stone's Drug store. They benefited me at once and after I had taken the contents of three boxes, I was free from every symptom of kidney complaint. My health is now of the best. I cannot recommend Doan's Kidney Pills too highly." (Statement given January 31 1906.)

Re-Endorsement.
On November 22, 1909 Mr. Sutton confirmed his former statement, saying: "I willingly reiterate all I have previously said in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy cured me three years ago and I have had no return of kidney trouble." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

More than 400,000 persons emigrated from this country during the year 1907. This is a much smaller number than shown in the previous year.
