

COMMENDS THE LOCAL COMPANY

MAJOR WALTER WILSON INSPECTS COMPANY M OF THE OREGON NATIONAL GUARD AND HAS WORDS OF HIGH PRAISE FOR IT.

At Company M, of the local organization of the state militia, is composed of a high class of men, husky and of fine appearance and of a class capable of doing excellent service in the field, if called upon to do so, and ranks well up to the highest standard of soldiery, is the opinion expressed by Major Walter W. Wilson, of the Third regiment, O. N. G., who conducted an official inspection of the local company at the armory last evening.

"The attendance was out somewhat," said Major Wilson, in speaking of the matter, "probably on account of the banquet, but the company made a good showing, and the officers and men are deserving of commendation for the interest taken in bringing the company up to the highest standard attained in military excellence and discipline. The company is composed of a fine class of men, husky and of fine appearance, and of such class as would perform splendid duty in the field. Their uniforms and equipment was in excellent condition, and I was much pleased with the interest manifested in the work by the officers and men."

Major Wilson, who served during the Spanish and Filipino wars, with a Portland company of the Second regiment Oregon volunteers, has a high ideal of what constitutes a good soldier and citizen, and his experience in military affairs places him in the position of a high authority upon all matters of a military nature. In the past it has been the rule to permit the officers of the local organizations to conduct the quarterly inspection of their respective commands, but the new colonel of the Third regiment, T. N. Dunbar, has put into effect a new order of things, under which all inspections, quarterly and otherwise, are to be conducted by the majors of the battalions, which places the state militia on a par with the United States regular army, and will have a tendency to raise the standard of citizen soldiery. This new order places the Salem, Oregon City and Woodburn companies in competition with the Portland companies for competitive military honors, in department, discipline, etc., and will serve to stir up a higher sense of pride and duty among the officers and men of the organizations.

ASSEMBLYITES PLEDGE THEIR HEARTY SUPPORT

LEADERS OF THAT FACTION EXPRESS LOYALTY TO THE WHOLE REPUBLICAN TICKET AS NOMINATED.

The hatchet is buried. The stiletto is sheathed. There "ain't goin' to be any more cuttin' in our family." Harmony and good feeling is the prevailing sentiment in the ranks of the Republican party today, and the dove of peace coos softly and contentedly once more on the gable of the mansion of the G. O. P. in Oregon.

"The Direct Primary has come to stay in Oregon, and Jay Bowerman, Republican nominee for governor, will be the next governor of the state of Oregon by a majority of 25,000 votes and the entire Republican ticket in Oregon, state, district and county will be elected in proportion; the claims of the Democratic and other enemies to the contrary notwithstanding." That is the slogan of the Republican party as suggested by one of the principal speakers, and adopted by the gathering of happy, feasting and love-making Republicans of Salem and Marion county, which surrounded the festive board at the new garage building on Commercial street last evening.

This banquet was given in ratification of the results of the primaries in Marion county, and was attended by large representations of Republicans and addressed by some of the leading Republicans of the state. It was one of the most harmonious political assemblages ever held in this city or county in which the "Get Together" spirit predominated and "stuck out in bunches" throughout; and its influence for the complete harmonization of all factions in the ranks of the Republican party of the state will penetrate to the uttermost crannies and crevices of the commonwealth and result in the election of the full Republican ticket.

There is to be no more "assembly" and "anti-assembly"; no more "Statement No. 1," nor "anti-Statement No. 1"; no more "Bourneism" nor "renegade Republicanism." In fact all "isms" were entirely, effectively and everlastingly eliminated from the calendar of the Republican party in the state of Oregon on Saturday, September 24; not only "twigs" of the proverbial olive branch (the emblem of peace) were distributed freely among the 200 guests upon this grand and festive occasion, but the "peace lotion," was handed out by the "branch, tree and roots" and gladness and good-fellowship reigned supreme.

The speakers were Walter L. Tooze, J. H. Ackerman, P. H. D'Arcy, C. N. McArthur, Dr. J. N. Smith, W. C. Hawley, C. B. Moores, L. R. Alderman, John A. Carson, and Hal D. Patton. Telegrams were read from Dimick, Abraham, Kay, Malarky, and Jay Bowerman. Woods' Confectionery got up the menu and McElroy's orchestra furnished the music.

Albert N. Gille, deputy assessor, Wm. P. Lord, assistant code commissioner and Rev. Paul S. Bandy were the committee in charge.

KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Or Your Hair Will Fall Out Till You Become Bald.

Modern science has discovered that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp in scales, as it burrows down to the roots of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing falling hair, and ultimately, baldness. After Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, discovered the dandruff germ, all efforts to find a remedy failed until the great laboratory discovery was made which resulted in Newbro's Herpicide. It alone of all other hair preparations kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff, hair grows luxuriantly. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. J. C. Perry, Special Agent.

A STUBBORN CINDERELLA AND HER PRETTY SISTERS

Dainty Girls and Delightful Music Give Life and Movement to a Charming Musical Comedy.

"A Stubborn Cinderella" is one of the latest musical plays from the prolific pens of Will M. Hough and Frank R. Adams, with music by Joseph Howard, and has registered an impression upon the newspapers and dramatic critics and the playgoer public unparalleled in theatrical history. The play is upon a decidedly higher plane than their former successes, "The Time, The Place and The Girl," "The Goddess of Liberty," etc. "A Stubborn Cinderella" has never been equalled in the metropolis of the West. Heretofore the plays of these authors have been full of slang and dealt with incidents in the lives of the middle-class working people; but in "A Stubborn Cinderella" they have chosen college boys and girls, the unsophisticated daughter of a Scottish earl and various other representatives of a smarter class of society for the principal characters. The "brothers" or pony ballet as they are better known, who have always been such a feature in the former plays of the above mentioned authors, are still conspicuous in "A Stubborn Cinderella."

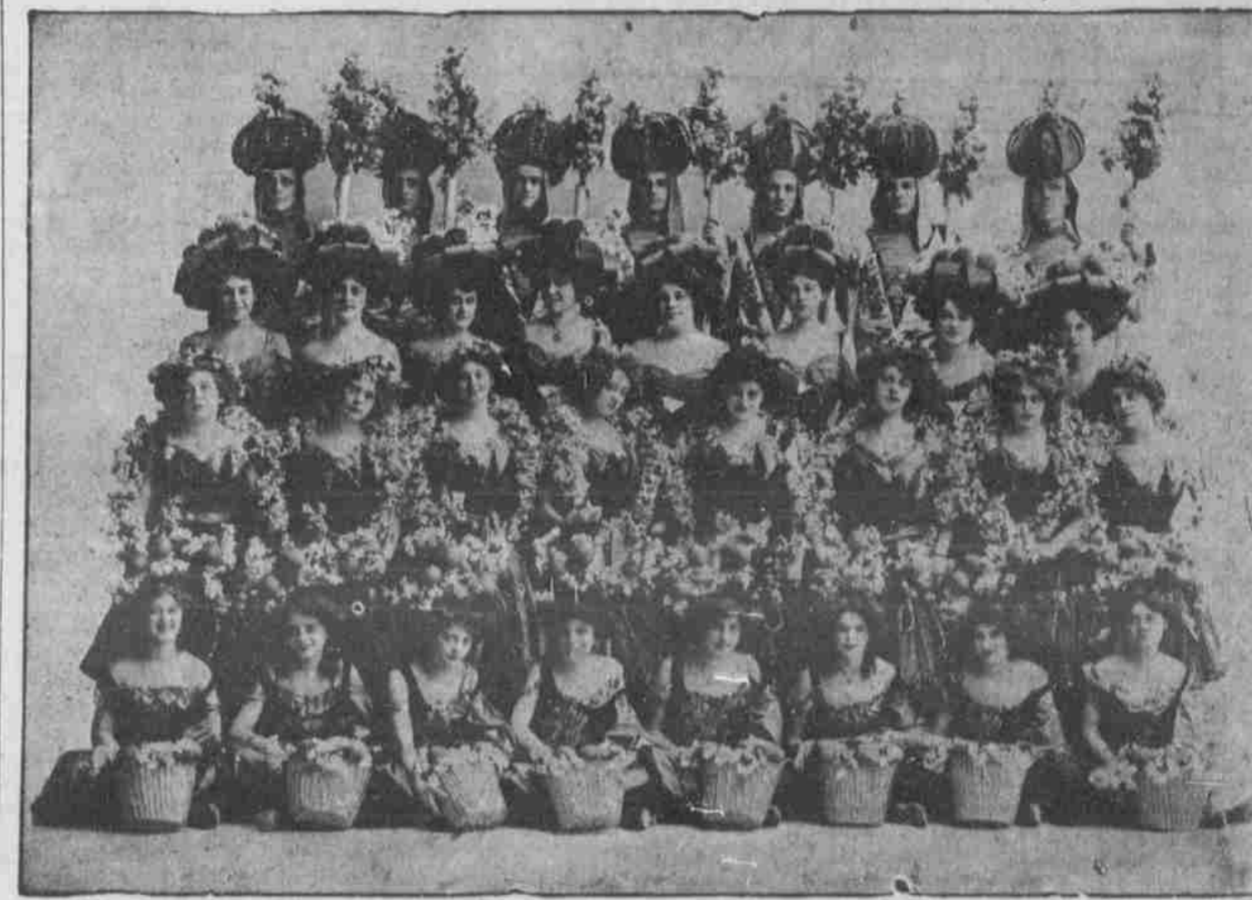

This production has a marvellously pretty and fascinating chorus, one that could only be gathered by a producer so, sincere in his efforts to do things right and exceptionally well as is Chas. A. Goettler, who, through his many years in connection with musical comedies, is in a position to get "the pick of the bunch". Of the costumes it is only necessary to say that, to the casual spectator, it is a matter of wonder how the girls find time to make their changes, so rapidly do they discard one set of gowns for another, each more handsome than the first, until in the last scene they seem to have reached the absolute culmination of gorgeousness and magnificence, with their orange-colored costumes of the California Orange Pets. The production was staged by that master of this line of theatrical endeavor, George Marion, whose hand directed the production of "The Merry Widow," "The Prince of Pilsen," "The College Widow," "The County Chairman," "The Sultan of Sulu," and a dozen of other plays which in years gone by have been standards of comparison by which other men's efforts were judged.

The cast seems incomparable, both from its brilliancy, individuality and harmonious blending. Coit A'bertson, who interprets the part of Max, is a comedian of high degree. He plays the leading part of "A Stubborn Cinderella" and has made a decided hit. He is one of the most popular American comedians and has been with a number of successes the past few years. Hazel Kirke received many encores after each of her songs, but the last one she sings, "When You First Kiss the Last Girl You Love," at the finale of the play, has nightly aroused such enthusiasm as never was seen before, unless possibly in grand opera. Others in the cast are the diminutive little Lillian Goldsmith, who is really a master of the art of dancing; Mable Charlehois, Neal Burns, Dan Moyles, Bobbie Wagner and Linford Leferson.

There are twenty song numbers, most of which are termed hits. The cast is exceptionally large and the whole production is one of the best musical comedies that will be seen here this season and has "quality" stamped all over it.

This attraction comes here to the Grand Opera House on Monday, October 3rd.

The October Strand. In the Strand for October Conan Doyle returns to one of his best known characters—Brigadier Gerard. In the present story the famous author relates in the Brigadier's own words how Etienne Gerard came to get married and the account is written with all Conan Doyle's customary fascination and humor. Besides "The Marriage of the Brigadier" there are ten other stories by such writers as E. Phillips Oppenheim, E. M. Jameson, Richard Marsh, A. T. Quiller-Couch ("Q"), E. Temple Thurston and other well-known authors. The articles are as interesting and "unusual" as ever.

The October Everybody's. Rex Beach begins a new serial in the October Everybody's, a story of the big ditch we are cutting across the Isthmus. It was in this magazine that "The Spoilers" was published, five years ago, and Mr. Beach's position as an American novelist became assured. In the new story, "The Ne'er-Do-Well," the author turns from Alaska to Panama, from Bering Sea to the Caribbean for his spirited plot and romance. The magazine is uncommonly varied in the type of its articles. Lincoln Steffens continues his study of organized business and the virtual monarchy under which it has fallen.

AN OLD-TIME PRESCRIPTION In a modern product. From time immemorial sage and saffron have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost every one knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wescb's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.
