RETURNS SOME NOT TRUE BILLS

The Marion county grand jury, which has been in session since Monday, made its first report this morning covering four criminal cases that was up for its consideration, all of which were not true bills and the indictments will probably be dismissed by the court at the October session. J. H. Peterson, "Lucky Jack," was acquitted of the charge of "wanton and malicious injury to personal property," the striking and breaking of the leg of a bull calf, the property of Fred Stover, upon the main highway south of this city, with his automobile, in July of this year. No bill was found against Manuel Fon Sea, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon alleged to have been committed upon the person of A. J. Arnold, who claims that Fon Sea cut him with a knife in this city during an altercation July 10. Frank Bligh, manager of the Star theater of this city, was not indicted on the charge of "exhibiting immoral and obscene pictures" in the display of reproductions of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, which charge was made by the Good Citizenship League of this city, July 15, and Gus Dawick was treated the same way as to the charge of the larceny of a bicycle, alleged to have been committed July 19, the wheel in question being the property of R. J. Hendricks.

HOP MARKET IS GROWING RATHER LIVELY

A slight flurry has been created in the hop market, locally, on account of the reported sale of several lots of hops in this district within the past 24 hours, the heaviest purchaser, it is understood, being Louis Lachmund, but several other buyers are in the field with orders, and the scramble for possession of the cream of the 1910 crop is getting interesting. Several sales have been reported, but as the buyers are in the country, and could not be seen today, confirmation or denial could not be obtained. The price quoted ranges from 8 cents to 13, and even 13 1/2 cents has been reported as having been offered for the strictly choice article, but no sales have been reported at this latter quotation. The harvest of the Oregon crop is practically over, some of the largest yards still having a few days' picking to be done to finish up, and, since the growers generally devoted their efforts to clean picking, and the avoidance of mould, it is predicted that this year's crop of "beer berries" will be best, in point of quality, in years, which means the best in the world. The prospective yield, earlier in the season, was somewhat curtailed by reason of the recent rains, and other adverse weather conditions, and the actual yield is variously estimated at from 80,000 to 90,000 bales.

REMEMBERS WHEN HE WAS A FLOATER

To float around the water for three hours in the chill of the morning upon the high seas with ten fathoms of water underneath, and the only visible means of support being a small stick of timber divided between three people, one of whom was dead, "makes a fine bath," says Bert W. Graham, a grain dealer, of Portland, "but no more of them for your Uncle Dudley." Mr. Gibson is one of the few survivors of the wreck of the steamer Columbia, which was sunk off the California coast in July, 1907, after a collision with the tramp steamer Sag Pedro in a dense fog, and just about midnight, and he feels that he is extremely lucky to be still counted among the living. He floated around in the cold water for over three hours, until he and another male companion and the corpse of a young woman, who died of the cold, fright and physical exhaustion, before they were rescued by a lifeboat crew, and he says that he could not have held on another five minutes. Mr. Graham is a business visitor to Salem today, and called upon his old friend, the governor's private secretary, "Pat" McArthur, at the state house this morning.

LA FOLLETTE'S CONDITION CONTINUES FAVORABLE

Rochester, Minn., Oct. 5.—Although Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, who yesterday underwent an operation at the Mayo brothers hospital here, is not yet out of danger, his condition is very favorable today. "Senator LaFollette passed a fairly good night," said an official bulletin issued at the hospital. "He slept well after midnight. His condition is normal and his functions are acting splendidly. Everything is favorable." His physicians say Senator LaFollette's condition is improving hourly.

WINNER OF OVER FIFTY STAKE RACES

"Otto Wawa," sired by Iroquois, arrived in the city yesterday en route to Independence, and is now the property of W. W. Percival, the well-known turfman. Iroquois is the only American horse that ever crossed the water and won the English derby. Otto Wawa is a stallion, 10 years old, and has won 51 stake races. His weight is 1260 pounds, which is very large for a racer. He is one of a string of 12 thoroughbreds owned by Mr. Percival. Worry is simply trying to live two days at a time—one is enough.

PORTUGAL PROCLAIMS A REPUBLIC

London, Oct. 5.—Sir Francis Villiers, the British minister to Portugal, today cabled the foreign office that the revolutionists at Lisbon have issued a formal proclamation of a republic. A portion of the despatch made public says: "Severe fighting was in progress last night and today troops stationed at the capital and surrounding garrisons have gone over to the revolutionists. A republic has been proclaimed. The announcement was received enthusiastically by the population. I believe a provisional government is in process of formation. King Manuel is reported at Mefta. Queen Amelia and the prince Royal have left the capital and yesterday took refuge at Cascaes." Sir Francis' telegram is the first official communication received directly from Lisbon and is believed to upset the theory that the king has gone to England on a British warship. Mefta is eight miles north of Lisbon in the province of Estremadura.
