SALEM WILL WELCOME GOVERNOR BOWERMAN.

This city should turn out and Give Governor Bowerman the most cordial welcome ever given any man who ran for governor.

He was reared at Salem, read law at Willamette University, and now comes back to become a permanent resident at the Capital City.

He is a young man of liberal and progressive ideas, and who is not afraid to take the higher ground adopted by the people at the primaries.

He does not belong to the generation of politicians who spent half their time knifing one another, when they were not knifing the party.

Jay Bowerman stands for United Republicanism and people's laws.

Salem people will honor themselves Saturday night by honoring a man of the newer generation, who has the welfare of the state at heart, and is not afraid.

Let us give him a rousing welcome, and say to him we are with you governor for a new deal and a clean deal and a square deal, and we will back you for all that is right.

Governor Bowerman will spend Saturday in Salem meeting the people and will address the people at night at the Grand opera house, with other speakers.

WHY LET GO OF THE RAILROAD AMENDMENT.

In an elaborate argument the Oregonian tries to show that the voters should not hang onto the Railroad Amendment to the Oregon Constitution.

Without going into the merits of the amendment itself, the Oregonian article ought to convince anyone that the amendment is a good thing to hang onto.

The Oregonian claims it has served its purpose of inducing the Hill and Harriman systems to undertake the development of the great interior of Oregon.

It says the Hill and Harriman systems alone are spending over twenty million dollars building into unprofitable territory where their lines will not pay.

The adoption of the amendment by the last legislature and its submission to the people at the November election certainly accomplished that result.

Therefore, let the Amendment go to the Devil! What absurdity!

CONGRESSMAN HAWLEY, COME OUT FOR THE LAWS.

Congressman Hawley should follow the example of Jay Bowerman, and bow down to the will of the people, and come out for the Direct Primary law and Statement No. One.

When asked by the Grange once if he would uphold that law he evaded making any answer, and there is still an answer due from Mr. Hawley to the people of this district.

He can no longer be a law unto himself, but should accept the verdict of the people against the Assembly plan, and tell the people that he upholds the principles of the Direct Primary and Direct election of Senators.

If Republican leaders will quit fighting these laws and support the nominees of the Republican party, they need have no more Democratic United States Senators from Oregon.

Mr. Hawley should have that respect for the decision of the people against Machine rule and Cannonism to come out in a manly way and accept the verdict of the people.

If he does not do that he will not be entitled to the respect of Republicans who stand for these principles and his claim to be the representative of the people of this district will not stand upon a solid basis.

Come out, dear brother, and get into the People's Band Wagon.

LET THERE BE COMMON SENSE AMENDMENTS.

The people have decreed that the principles of the Direct Primary law and the Direct Election of Senators, according to Statement No. One, shall not be tampered with in Oregon.

But this means that those laws shall be made more practical and workable and that manhood suffrage shall be made the supreme test of their practicability.

A Direct Primary held on Saturday afternoon, when farmers and laborers are practically shut out is a crime against the people.

A registration law that prevents thousands of honest, hard working citizens and taxpayers from getting registered is a crime.

An election system that makes it impossible for about one-fourth to one-half of the people to vote needs revolutionizing.

There is no longer that sacred dread of touching the handiwork of Mr. U'Ren and other reformers that there once was.

Let us get ready to apply a little plain horse sense to the whole situation, and get rid of superstitious dread of fakers.

The principles are established and now let us return to an era of common horse sense intelligence.

No law or system that excludes one common, ordinary, decent man who is a citizen and a taxpayer from voting is American or worthy to be respected as a law.

WILL SING HERE IN FIVE LANGUAGES

ELLEN BEACH YAW, THE MODEST LITTLE LADY WITH A FLUTE IN HER THROAT IS A FINE LINGUIST AS WELL AS A SONG BIRD.

HOW WOULD you like to be tied to a woman who could talk in five languages, Cradlebaugh? Ellen Beach Yaw's concert programs are frequently in five languages. Her last program, indeed, contained just that number. She sang masterpieces in English, French, Italian, German and Spanish. Apart from the knowledge of vocal art required to successfully interpret the melodies of so many schools, the linguistic difficulties of this feat alone are colossal. It is difficult enough to present two languages upon one program. Such difficulty, for instance, might be shown in the Italian-English list of numbers. Add French—and do you know that French, so closely allied to Italian, has all the difference in

BOWERMAN'S PLURALITY IS 2,934

PRACTICALLY COMPLETE RETURNS FROM THE WHOLE STATE ARE IN—WEST'S MAJORITY OVER MEYERS IS 3,150.

Portland, Or., Oct. 7.—Official returns of the recent state-wide primary from all counties, save Morrow and Harney, today gives Jay Bowerman, Republican gubernatorial nominee, a plurality of 2,934 over his nearest opponent, Grant Dimick. Bowerman received a total of 16,735 votes, Grant Dimick 13,751, E. Hofer 6,665, and Albert Abraham 6,184. On the Democratic ticket, Oswald West is shown to have a majority of 3,150 over Jefferson Myers for the gubernatorial nomination, the total standing, West 6,693 and Myers 3,543. From Harney county the returns are complete with the exception of the figures on nine small precincts, the total vote in which will not aggregate more than 50. Morrow county is complete but for one small the world. Words which look alike in print are utterly unlike in pronunciation. Intonations, inflections, vocal sounds—there is an inseparable gulf between France and Italy in this respect; and it is extraordinarily difficult to converse in two languages, in the course of an evening, without making an absurd mixture of them.

Add just one more language, and that, too, of Latin root, Spanish. Now Spanish presents a new face upon its Latin base, and there the singer has three tongues which she must not confound, and in all three much of the spelling is entirely alike.

English is a complete right-about-face. English for the Latin, whether French, Italian or Spanish, is indeed a tongue-twister; and Miss Yaw has said, after an experience in opera, more than once, that it seemed as though, for a moment, she had forgotten how to pronounce her own language.

The fifth language, German, is utterly unlike any of the preceding ones. That which an Italian or a Frenchman always does in his conversation, a German absolutely could not do. And to the Italian or the Frenchman the sentences of the German sound like the guttural explosions of a genuine barbarian.

The successful combination of five wholly different tongues upon one musical program is an extraordinary feat, and Miss Yaw's successful mastery of the task is a tribute of education and cosmopolitan training which is hers, entirely apart from her famous musical gifts.

Several pupils have not yet entered, on account of being kept out on account of fall work not having been completed, but these will enter at least by the beginning of the second month. The rains in the past two weeks have started the grass, and milk cows and beef stock look well. The two colleges here are in fine working order, but their enrollment has not been ascertained, but will be reported next week. Mr. Pimm has finished his house, and has a family living in it. The house for President Kindall, of the College of Philomath, is nearing completion. H. B. Ferguson bought out Mrs. Lisle, and has moved in. J. L. Clemmens has his house under roof, and is now putting in the windows. S. A. DE VANEY. France Will Recognize It. (Continued from page 1.) CONVICTS SECURE ARMS AND ESCAPE FROM PRISON

Ossing, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Five Sing Sing convicts, heavily armed, escaped from the penitentiary here today after binding two jailers, sawing the bars off a chapel window and severing the telephone wires. Their precautions delayed pursuit for a time and they had a good start of the officers, who followed as soon as the alarm was given. The penitentiary guards, who are in pursuit, also are prepared for a desperate fight.
