REPUBLICANS ORGANIZE FOR THE CAMPAIGN

Multnomah County conditions are about as hot as they are likely to be here in Multnomah County, and the debate among the various factions, will be carried on with great interest and enthusiasm. The Republican party, however, appears to be in a much better position than the Democratic party, and the result of the election will probably be decided in the third district.

In the third district, the Republicans have a large majority, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The Republicans are well organized, and have a large number of active workers.

The Democratic party, on the other hand, is in a much weaker position, and has only a small number of active workers.

The result of the election in the third district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the second district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the second district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the second district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the first district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the first district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the first district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

The Republicans are well organized, and have a large number of active workers.

The Democratic party, on the other hand, is in a much weaker position, and has only a small number of active workers.

The result of the election in the third district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the second district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the second district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the second district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the first district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the first district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the first district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

The Republicans are well organized, and have a large number of active workers.

The Democratic party, on the other hand, is in a much weaker position, and has only a small number of active workers.

The result of the election in the third district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the second district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the second district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the second district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the first district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the first district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the first district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

The Republicans are well organized, and have a large number of active workers.

The Democratic party, on the other hand, is in a much weaker position, and has only a small number of active workers.

The result of the election in the third district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the second district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the second district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the second district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the first district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the first district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the first district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

The Republicans are well organized, and have a large number of active workers.

The Democratic party, on the other hand, is in a much weaker position, and has only a small number of active workers.

The result of the election in the third district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the second district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the second district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the second district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.

In the first district, the Republicans are in a much better position than the Democratic party.

The Republicans have a large majority in the first district, and the Democratic party is in a much worse position.

The result of the election in the first district will probably be decided by the votes of the farmers.