ATHLETICS WIN THE THIRD GAME OF SERIES BY A SCORE OF 12 TO 5

OUT-BATTED OUT-FIELDED OUT-PITCHER OUT-CLASSED, CUBS LOSE THIRD GAME

They Were Not Outgamed, But That Was Their Only Redeeming Quality---Cub Twirlers Were Erratic and Each Apparently Worse than the Man Whose Place He Took---Athletics Ran in a Bunch of Five in the Eighth---but This Just to Show What They Could Do---Chicago Beaten From the Start.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Outbatted, pitched let in two more Cubs. He outfielded, outpitched but not outgamed, the Chicago Cubs lost their third straight game to the Philadelphia Athletics by a score of 12 to 5 this afternoon.

The avalanche of runs for Mack's Americans resulted from 14 hits by the men from Philadelphia, combined with five errors and erratic pitching by three Cub twirlers.

Chance had relied upon Ed Ruelbach to hold the oncoming Athletics to a loss. He lasted two innings, McIntyre, who relieved him, lasted a third of an inning, and Pfeister, who went in with a forlorn hope facing him, was slammed liberally while his namesake made errors behind him.

Coombs was erratic as in the game at Philadelphia on Tuesday but he steadied after the third inning, after three runs had been made off him, and allowed no further scoring until the eighth, when his wild pitch let in two more Cubs. He more than evened, however, with three healthy swats.

The game was played in a heavy rain and for a time it looked as though the game would be called before the necessary five innings had elapsed.

The world's series now stands Philadelphia 3; Chicago 0.

In spite of the rain the attendance was over 20,000.

Before the game the Athletics and Cubs came in for ovations from the crowd. Johnny Evers, still on crutches, watched the defeat of his team from a press box.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Rain fell during a greater part of the night, but ceased at 9 o'clock this morning, and a cold wind sprang up. It was announced, however, that the Philadelphia-Chicago baseball game would not be postponed, unless rain again falls.

In the event of a postponement, the Lawless Nicaragua.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 20.—Private cable messages received from Nicaragua state that rioting at Managua is increasing. They express the fear that President Estrada will not be able much longer to cope with the disturbances.

A mob at Lyon stoned a train carrying Dr. Cardenas, a revolutionist, who had been exiled by President Zelaya.

National and American champions will play three successive games in Chicago, including one on Sunday.

The fans are denouncing the ticket arrangements, whereby speculators are allowed to sell reserved seats for as high as $20 and $25 apiece.

Undiscouraged by a cold drizzle and a temperature beneath 50 degrees, hundreds of fans rolled out of warm blankets at 1 o'clock this morning and lined up outside the National league baseball grounds to get first choice of the seats for this afternoon's game between the Cubs and the Athletics.

By the time the gates were opened at 9 o'clock thousands were waiting in line, and it was predicted that the attendance would surpass that of either of the games played in Philadelphia, unless rain again falls.

Philadelphia fans, here in thousands, became more and more boisterous as the morning wore on, and it seemed there would be no postponement. Gathered in groups of 20 to Stirling's Fierce Fire.

Chico, Cal., Oct. 20.—The inhabitants of Stirling City, which narrowly escaped destruction yesterday, are today resting from their labors, after fighting to a standstill one of the most stubborn village fires in the state's history.

After burning 12 hours, consuming 18 buildings, the flames were controlled late last night.

The huge plant of the Diamond Match Company barely escaped destruction.

Nearly the entire town is owned by the company, which rents the dwellings to its workmen. Stirling City's population is about 300.

Somewhere above the Canadian forests the four balloons still unheard from are supposed to be heading in a straight line toward Hudson bay. They are the America II (United States); Helvetia (Switzerland); Azuria (Switzerland); and the Dusseldorf II (Germany).

SIX KILLED BY BOILER EXPLOSION

SEVERAL OF THE MEN IN THE BOILER ROOM WERE HURLED A FULL BLOCK—THE BUILDING WAS TOTALLY WRECKED.

New York, Oct. 20.—Six men were blown to atoms, two were fatally injured and nearly 20 others severely hurt in a boiler explosion at the American Manufacturing Company's plant, a jute concern, at Green Point, L. I., today.

Twelve men were in the boiler room at the time of the explosion, and several of them were hurled a city block by the force of the blast.

As the boiler let go a panic started among 2500 employees of the company, and many were bruised and trapped in the rush and fight for the exits.

The walls of the building were wrecked, and four cylinder heads were driven upwards through three stories of the building, endangering the lives of scores of employees.

A GREAT AUDIENCE GREET'S DARROW AND HEARS MASTERFUL ARGUMENT

GREAT CRIMINAL LAWYER TELLS WHAT CAUSES CRIME IT'S NOT DRINK BUT POVERTY

Want and Hunger and the Relations of the Sexes the Principal Causes of Crimes---Drunkenness Not a Crime Only an Error of Judgement---"Liberty" the Chain Running Through His Entire Argument---The Right of Man to Select His Course in Life, to Rule Himself---No One Man Good Enough to Rule Another.

It was standing room only last night at 8 o'clock when the band stopped playing in front of the Grand Opera house, and after that time hundreds were turned away, unable to gain even the lobby. Promptly at 8 the band appeared on the stage and was playing as the curtain lifted. After it, in a few well chosen words Mr. A. N. Gilbert introduced the speaker of the evening, Clarence E. Darrow, whose name and fame as a speaker, and more than that, even, as a criminal lawyer, had drawn the vast crowd to hear him.

He came to the front and with his hands in his pockets began an argument against prohibition that lasted for two hours actual, and about 10 minutes elapsed time. Darrow is tall, his face rather of the square build, given somewhat to angles; "massive" is your first impression. His forehead broad and high, hair, dark and rather thin; thin lips, with his right eyebrow marking the "greater circle" up towards the northeast corner of his forehead. He is fluent rather than flowery; though at times his imagery gave a suggestion of floweryness. Force, power, ability, strength, courage, tenacity, all of these are suggested to you at first sight of him.

He began by saying he believed the prohibitionists were honest, well meaning, fairly intelligent and good. They were in fact too good: "If they were not so good, they would be better."

He took up one by one the claims of the prohibitionists, that intoxicating liquors, "rum," was the cause of most of the crimes. That it was responsible for poverty; and the many other counts in the indictment; and when he was through with each in its turn, it was left without a shred of defense.

He has a keen sense of humor, and his description of the early day temperance meetings in his little home town in Ohio, where there was no saloons, and only one drunkard, just enough for a fearful example, and where he with the others attended temperance meetings and

CRIPPEN'S STORY IS CREDIBLE

TOOK THE STAND THIS MORNING AND SHOWED ABSOLUTELY NO SIGNS OF THE EPIDEMIC—SAYS HIS WIFE SIMPLY LEFT HIM.

London, Oct. 20.—Dr. H. H. Crippen took the witness stand in his own defense this afternoon to answer to a charge of having murdered his wife, Belle Elmore-Crippen, for the love of his typist, Miss Ethel Clara Lenoze.

Crippen indicated that he would seek to prove that his wife was not dead, but that she fled to America to join Bruce Miller, a Chicago friend. Crippen was dapper of appearance and somewhat of manner. He displayed absolutely no signs of nervousness.

After outlining his medical career, he said: "I knew my wife was friendly with Miller, and often upbraided her for corresponding with him. In 1904, Cora, which is Mrs. Crippen's right name, admitted her fondness for Miller, and I ceased cohabiting with her, and from that time our relations were strained."

"Repeatedly she threatened to leave me, saying that she would go to America to join Miller. The last time I saw her was January 31 of this year, and I believe she fled to America."

"In an effort to avoid a scandal I concocted a story that she had gone to America to attend to private business for me in California, and that while en route she had died and was incinerated in America. I simply couldn't face my friends and admit that my wife had deserted me."

"Monday night before she left I wrote a letter in her name to the Music Hall Ladies' Guild, resigning

Railroad Washed Away.

Savannah, Oct. 20.—Cable messages from Key West indicate that the greatest damage done by the Florida hurricane was to shipping. The Norwegian steamer Fos still is stranded and a Standard Oil barge is ashore at Island Key.

The Keys lighthouse was blown down and the East coast railroad below Miami was washed out.

Trunk Liner Ashore.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 20.—According to advices received this afternoon, the French liner Louisiana, plying between Havre and New Orleans, is ashore on a reef off Key West. It is reported that half of her 700 passengers have been taken off safely.

Many Vessels Wrecked.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 20.—Steamers arriving here report a death list of at least 100 in the Gulf of Mexico that swept the southern states.

Many vessels were reported sink under conditions in which it was impossible to offer aid. The steamer Carthage, four hundred miles at sea, sent a wireless message that she reported the schooner Beacher waterlogged, early today. The schooner's crew refused to abandon their craft. A tow line was thrown but the cable parted and the vessel drifted away.

A number of shipwrecked boats were sighted, aboard which were no signs of life, and it is thought that the crews probably were drowned.
