ENGLAND AND RUSSIA LOCK HORNS

PERSIAN SOLDIERS GIVE BATTLE TO ENGLISH MARINES—RUSSIA AT THE BOTTOM OF THE TROUBLE AND WILL BACK PERSIA.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Teheran, Nov. 4.—A pitched battle between invading forces of English troops, landed under cover of the British warships, and Persian soldiers occurred today near Kishm, in the Straits of Ormuz. It was reported that many were killed and wounded on both sides. The commander of the British cruiser Porpoise is reported wounded.

The conflict is expected by diplomats here to result in serious differences between England and Russia over the latter's attempt to obtain a trade port on the Indian ocean. It is predicted that Germany and France also will be drawn into the struggle. A considerable Russian force, acting as workmen and also as police along the line of the proposed Teheran railroad to the Persian gulf is in Persia, and in the event of British success it is believed the czar will support the Persian cause.

According to more specific advices, the Prosperine landed marines several days ago at Lingah, which is across the straits of Ormuz from Kishm island, on the Persian gulf. Blue jackets were landed today, following an attack on the marines by Persian troops. The result of the battle and the number of casualties was not known at Teheran this afternoon.

It was announced that England's action was taken ostensibly "to preserve order in the British sphere of influence in Persia."

It was learned today on the highest authority that Russia and England are working hand in hand, instead of at odds. It is generally believed that the lion and the bear, who have jealously watched each other's progress in Asia, have come to a secret agreement for dividing Persia.

Russia needs Persia for a seaport in Asia that is not ice-bound. Heretofore diplomats in Asia have predicted conflict over the division between England and Russia. Now, it appears, Russia sees an opportunity to attain her object, with the assistance of Great Britain.

Germany, France and Austria, who have large interests in the trans-Persian railroad, are expected to oppose England's action in landing men and creating a casus belli. It would not be surprising, say close observers of the situation, if Germany, France and Austria should go to any length to prevent the partition of the Shah's domain.

Seeing that the ports in Persia on the Gulf of Oman and the Arabian sea were open the year around, the czar began the resuscitation of Persia backed by his Cossacks, he established Russian banks, schools, railroads, churches and mercantile enterprises in the principal cities and placed his advisors close to the Persian throne.

England, fearing that the closely guarded Indian frontier in Baluchistan and Afghanistan, with their famous mountain passes, the Khyber and the Peiwar, might be menaced, began the Anglicizing of that part of Persia within the British "sphere of influence." Incidentally England strengthened her position in India.

Recently England notified Persia that unless better order was maintained it would invade the country, and restore peace, charging the Persian government an indemnity.

The threat was made with the knowledge that Persia would be unable to pay the indemnity, would suffer loss of customs houses, and the result would be annexation of a part of Persian territory to the British empire in Asia. British forces, therefore, were landed in pursuance of this policy.

Turkey's interests probably will be cast with those of France, Germany and Austria, in opposition to the czar's acquisition of Persian seaports, through fear that their peace—and in this instance Turkey's possessions in Asia—territory itself would be menaced.

England and Russia appear to have the whip hand because of the presence of great numbers of Russian and British subjects in Persia, and because of larger armed forces. The other powers, however, are expected to act in concert to prevent the proposed division of the Persian domain, and it is believed that the diplomatic game in the land of Iran is near the breaking point.

CLACKAMAS DEMOCRATIC MEETING AT SANDY

Sheriff Robt. Beatie, of Oregon City, who is candidate for county judge, was one of the plain practical speakers Saturday night.

O. D. Eby, of Oregon City, who is out for state senator against Walter Dimick, made a very capturing talk as far as getting votes is concerned.

Chas. Thompson, of Sherwood, who is out for commissioner, is also a good campaigner and pleased the crowd.

Ernst T. Maas, of Willamette, is out for sheriff and is winning support from all parties. He is well known at Salem where he married his wife and also did a lot of overhead work for the streetcar lines.

H. W. Lang, of Welch's P. O., who is out for county clerk, pleased the crowd very much by his plain sensible talk.

August Ohlhoff, of Portland, was present and made an energetic plea for the German society that is very strong here.

Gus Schnoerr, of Willamette, was also present and is one of the most eloquent speakers in both English and German.

Melning Bros. have a big department store at Sandy on the top of the hill.

Casper Junker owns the hotel, saloon, public hall, livery stable and several houses and is the big booster for Sandy.

The Strauss Lumber company does a big business sawing ties and building material, most of which is shipped out by Boring.

There is a large amount of travel through here towards the big timber about Mt. Hood, which is not far away.

JOHNSON A STRONG MAN FOR PLACE

Walter W. Johnson, Republican candidate for the nomination for the office of city marshal, at the primaries, which will be held throughout the city tomorrow, has a record as an officer of the law and apprehender of criminals that is unsurpassed and, if elected to the important office to which he aspires will doubtless give excellent satisfaction.

Mr. Johnson has been reared in this city and needs no introduction to the citizens of Salem. He served for several years as a member of the fire department, as driver of the hose wagon and in other capacities and served as chief of the department for two years. He has also served upon the local police force, both regular and special, for about two years and he acquitted himself with credit in that capacity. His reputation as a fearless man and officer and unflinching in the enforcement of the laws of the city and the state is well established and he has been responsible for the running down of some of the most desperate criminals that have been apprehended in the county and state in years. A vote for Mr. Johnson for the nomination to the office of city marshal is a vote for law and order and, if elected, there is assurance that the laws of the city will be enforced to the letter under his leadership.

INDICTED FOR PADDING THE CENSUS

GOVERNMENT GOES AFTER ITS EMPLOYE AND HAS HIM INDICTED—STUFFING SEATTLE'S CENSUS RETURNS.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 4.—Dr. Fruman J. Shadd is in Seattle today seeking to engage counsel to fight the indictment found by the federal grand jury in which Shadd, who was employed as a census enumerator last summer, is accused of padding the rolls.

There are four counts in the Shadd indictment. The first charges him with the enumeration of 15 fictitious persons as from the Arcade block, in Seattle, and supplying the necessary bogus information to complete the schedule. The second charges that Shadd listed 14 Chinese as living at "Pier 7." The third charges him with listing 100 bogus names from the Savoy hotel, and the fourth charges listing 100 fake names as "marines" from "Pier 6." The padded schedules are made part of the indictment.

Dr. Shadd denied today that he had padded the census or that he was actuated by any other desire than to obtain a fair count. He said that the major portion of his work was done under the direction of William Marks, the special agent in charge of the district to which he was assigned.

LOSS FROM FIRES UNUSUALLY LIGHT

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Olympia, Wash., Nov. 4.—Although Eastern Washington suffered heavily from forest fire loss this summer the fire loss in Western Washington was the lowest in its recorded history.

According to the report of Chief Forester Simons, of the Washington Fire Association, just made public, the total value of virgin forest destroyed was $100,000. Approximately only 1800 acres of the 15,000 attacked was burned, despite the fact that the summer was unusually dry and the fires numerous.

Thousands of acres of logged-over land were burned over. This, however, was not counted as a loss, owing to the fact that the destruction of the stumps and second growth enhanced the value of the lands.

SENSE OF HUMOROUS HIGHLY DEVELOPED

Eagle, Wis., Nov. 4.—The second death from a joke at the expense of the hobble skirt is recorded today. Edward Boesingham, 70, a tailor, laughed himself to death after hearing his daughter read an article which said that following the hobble skirt, women would wear rings in their noses.

Recently a prominent jurist died of apoplexy from laughter over an equally "killing" statement that "a woman in a hobble skirt reminded a man of a giraffe in a barrel hoop."

A well chosen state development commission can straighten out the present state lands tangle in one, two, three order.

Judge Wm. Galloway Candidate for Re-election.

Judge W. M. Ramsey says: "A Judge should love justice and hate iniquity and possess a robust integrity, and be able to hold the scales of justice firmly and evenly. He should be no respecter of persons, deciding for or against parties as their rights appear to him according to the measures of the law. He should be no trimmer. I have known Judge Galloway for many years, and I believe he possesses those judicial qualities. He has in more than one instance in the past shown that he has the courage to stand by his convictions of duty in difficult positions, and if elected, I believe he will make a good record for honesty and courage."

UNSKILLED LABORERS JOIN UNIONS

TWO THOUSAND IN LOS ANGELES WILL BECOME UNION MEN BY REASON OF BIG DEMONSTRATION MADE YESTERDAY.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 4.—As a direct result of the union labor parade last night 2000 unskilled laborers in Los Angeles will become union men. The majority if these are foreigner laborers.

Under the direction of Austin Lewis, of San Francisco, 1800 foreign laborers marched in the parade, forming one of the largest divisions in the procession. Lewis said today that plans for organizing these men are under way, and that they will be initiated at the Labor Temple November 8.

More than 15,000 men marched last night from the Labor Temple to Fiesta Park, where a labor rally was held. An address was delivered by J. Stitt Wilson, Socialist candidate for governor, and several prominent state labor leaders made speeches. There was no disorder, the extra police details that had been posted, having nothing to do.

WILL HOLD IMMENSE FIRE SALE

GOVERNMENT WILL SELL NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF STANDING TIMBER DAMAGED BY FIRE THIS YEAR

Portland, Ore., Nov. 4.—Probably the largest "fire sale" of damaged stock ever held in the United States is being planned by the forest service when 900,000,000 feet of timber on government reserves will be thrown on the market in Northern Idaho and Western Montana.

Word reached here today that the work of the government estimators have progressed far in their work of going over the white pine belt and that the sale will be held soon. The estimators are working under the direction of District Forester Greeley who was one of the leaders in the fight against the destructive forest fires in the Northwest this summer.

It is planned to offer the entire lot of timber at approximately $1 a thousand. Already a number of logging interests in the vicinity of the big burns have filed applications to purchase and from the inquiries which are being answered from both the Portland and Missoula offices, the sale is attracting much attention.

MACHINES DAMAGED BY STORM

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Baltimore, Md., Nov. 4.—Wind, snow and sleet damaged the foreign and American aeroplanes in which were stored the aeroplanes of Count De Lesseps, Latham, Radley, Drexel, Willard, Ely and McArdie, causing an indefinite postponement today of the aviation meet planned at Hagerstown. The damage to the flying machines is estimated at $50,000.

The planes of the French and English aviators were buried in the ruins of the foreign hangar, and it is believed that they will be a total loss. The American hangar collapsed at midnight, causing serious damage to the machines of the American entrants in the meet.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry, cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
