JUDGE BUTLER TO CLOSE CAMPAIGN IN GRAND RALLY AT OPERA HOUSE

ELOQUENT BUNCHGRASSER WILL GET GREAT WELCOME FROM SALEM FOLKS TONIGHT

Other Speakers As Well As Many Candidates Will Be There and so Will McElroy's Band and... Want a Seat You Will Have to Be There Early --- Mr. Butler is not Only a Brilliant Speaker but an Able Lawyer and His Friends Predict for Him a High Place in the Councils of the State.

The Republican State and County campaign in Marion county will wind up this evening with a grand rally at the opera house, in this city, upon which occasion Judge R. R. Butler of Condon, whose ability as an orator and eloquent speaker is well known not only in the state but throughout the nation, will be the principal speaker and there is no doubt that the house will be crowded to hear him. There will be other speakers, candidates for office and otherwise, to entertain the audience and it is expected to mark a fitting close to one of the most animated and strenuous political campaigns that has ever been conducted in the county.

band, under the leadership of Prof. Willis McElroy, will render several selections of band music upon the streets prior to the meeting and one or two pieces upon the stage of the opera house immediately preceding the speaking, and it is expected that it will be one of the most rousing and enthusiastic political meetings that has ever been held in the county. Not in years has Oregon had an election of such surpassing portent. The breach between the wings of the Republican party which at first threatened to send it down to defeat has fortunately been healed and, this too, by the broadminded views taken by the anti-assembly wing, which regardless of the position taken by its candidates before the primaries, considered it their duty to stand behind every man who received the primary nomination. In fact they insist that it is every good citizen's duty to stand firmly behind the people's nominees. Pre-primary quarrels have been forgotten and most of the recriminations, at least forgotten. It is peculiarly fitting that here at the state capital one of the best and most forceful speakers, one of the brightest of Oregon's coming men, one who in fact has arrived, should make the final address of the campaign, and here almost under the dome of the capitol, speak of the merits of the Republican candidates who will so soon be filling the offices in it. By all means hear Judge Butler tonight if you enjoy a brilliant and logical speech.

The Butcher's Cemetery. Havana, Nov. 5.—A mass of human bones, believed to be the relics of Cuban refugees shot down at the orders of Captain General Weyler during the Cuban revolution, after summary court martial, was uncovered here today by sewer excavators. The bones were found in a park in the central part of the city. There was no cemetery near. The theory that it is the burying ground of unfortunates who fell under "the butchers" orders, is considered the most plausible.

Just as we go to press a telegram was received announcing that Judge Butler was taken sick on the train at Umatilla and cannot be here. Judge Grant Dimmick and Hon. Walter Toole have been engaged by wire to fill the date and will be here to speak in Judge Butler's place.

Journal Will Get Returns. The Capital Journal will receive full election returns over its leased wire next Tuesday night. These returns will be not only from all points in Oregon but from the entire United States. Owing to difference in time the far eastern returns should be complete enough to indicate the winners. This is also true of Oregon as partial returns will give a pretty good hunch as to results. Watch the Journal bulletin boards Tuesday night.

ANOTHER RAILROAD IN OREGON

The Oregon Trunk Line Now Building Up the Deschutes Will Build Track Into Rich Harney Country.

MADRAS TO SILVER LAKE

Has Filed Survey of New Line to Connect with the Line of the Deschutes in Crook County Near Madras—Will Tap Some of the Finest and Richest Valleys in Central and Southern Oregon.

Lakeview, Ore., Nov. 5.—The Oregon Trunk Railway, which is building southward along the Deschutes river, has filed a survey for an east and west line in the government land office here to run from a point on Crooked river south of Madras, Crook county, to which point rails will be laid from the Columbia river by February 1, 1911, thence to a point in Harney county, near Silver Lake. The new survey will open to settlement much of the fertile lands that lie within the Lakeview land district and covers some of the finest valleys in Central and Southern Oregon.

One feature of the new survey is that it will give the people of the North end of Lake county a competing line against the Oregon Eastern

MUCH INTEREST IS TAKEN IN CITY ELECTION

At the close of the registration books at the city hall last evening, they showed a total registration of all voters in the seven wards of the city, for the primary election, in progress this afternoon, to be 1825, which is a very material increase over the registration of a year ago and indicates that a lively and more than usual interest is being taken in the city election.

The chief interest in the city election is centered in the race for the mayoralty, which has boiled down to Louis Lachmund, a prominent citizen and business man of this city, better known as the "Fighting Alderman" of the second ward, and H. S. Gile, of the firm of H. S. Gile & Co., both of whom are running upon the Republican ticket and have been induced to make the race for the office by their friends, and, as both are highly honorable men and prominent in the business affairs of the city, and popular, the race will doubtless be close and interesting. There being no Democratic candidates for the office, the Democrats will write in the name of Frank W. Durbin upon their ticket.

The contests for aldermanic honors in the several wards of the city are based principally upon local conditions, public improvements, etc., and partisan politics do not enter into the election to any appreciable extent. The polls opened at 12 o'clock noon, today and will remain open until 7 this evening, and it is expected that an unusually large vote will be polled for the city primary election.

INTENSE INTEREST IN ELECTIONS HOTTEST CAMPAIGN IN MANY YEARS

Both Claim New York. New York, Nov. 5.—Chairman Huppuch of the Democratic state committee claims John A. Dix will carry the state by a plurality of $50,000. Republican Chairman Proutie concedes that Henry L. Stimson, Republican gubernatorial nominee will run 15,000 behind the ticket. It is claimed that the up-state majority for Stimson, however, will be 167,000, and conceding that Dix carries Greater New York by 67,000. The Republicans figure Stimson will have 100,000 in the state.

DR. W. S. MOTT FOR STATE SENATOR

This gentleman is one of the Democratic nominees for state senator from Marion county. He has been long known as a successful physician in the Capital City where he has built a beautiful home and invested his money. He has educated his sons in Oregon institutions and is generally speaking to be classed among progressive citizens. Dr. Mott is a bedrock Democrat and stands for all the Reform legislation adopted by the people of Oregon.

A Difference of Opinion.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—The Democratic state committee claims a Democratic landslide for Lawton Hemans, candidate for governor. They predict he will be elected by a plurality of 25,000. The Republican committee claims the election of Osborne, their candidate, by a plurality of 75,000.

SPECIAL SESSION OF COUNCIL

TABLES THE INITIATIVE PETITION TO MAKE WATER BOARD ACCOUNTABLE TO THE PEOPLE—ELLIOT OFFERS SUBSTITUTE WHICH IS ALSO TABLED.

On petition of eight aldermen the Salem city council held a special session Friday night to consider the proposed amendment to the water board feature of the charter, to make the same non-partisan and composed of three members instead of five named by the council. Alderman Stols raised the point that there was no one to vouch for the correctness of the proposed amendment which was attached to the initiative petitions, and on motion the amendment was tabled.

Before it was tabled Alderman Elliott proposed an amendment to allow the water board to be chosen for the present by the city council, but in future to be elected by the people. This was also tabled on the same objections. Those present were the mayor, Alderman Elliott, Greenbaum, Hatch, Hill, Low, Manning, Moffett, Johnson, Sauter, Stols. The amendment cannot now be submitted at the general election, and the citizens' committee backing it may bring it up at a special election. One of the committee said:

"We feel that we have been shut out on technicalities, and that the city council has made up its mind to name the water board and are unwilling to leave it to the people or the mayor to appoint. We can hold or recall or the board after they are elected by the people, but we have no control what ever over the water board elected by the city council."

ALL EYES ARE ON NEW YORK AND OHIO BECAUSE THEY ARE TEDDY'S AND TAFT'S STATES

Indications Are that Democrats May Elect Majority in Congress Though This is by No Means Certain as Situation Has Improved Recently---All States but Maine and Vermont Hold Congressional, and 25 States Hold State Elections Tuesday Next.

New York, Nov. 5.—In most of the states of the union today the congressional campaign is drawing to a close. In a few states the red fire will glow on Monday evening and a few husky voiced campaign speakers will address such voters as will listen on the eve of election. But the real close of the campaign is today.

In every state except Maine and Vermont congressional elections will be held. In 25 states complete new state tickets will be voted for. In some of the states the gubernatorial fights are considered characteristic and indicative of the struggle two years hence, when a new president will be chosen. Not since 1890, when the house of representatives was returned sweepingly Democratic with a Republican president and a Republican senate, has an "off year" election aroused such interest.

Conditions Similar to 1890. Politicians of the older school declare that conditions today are similar to those of 1890, and that the election now has the same Democratic trend that was noted when the voters of the United States, after placing Benjamin Harrison in the presidential chair, gave him a congress consisting of 236 Democrats and 88 Republicans in the house during the second half of his administration.

The revulsion of political feeling which Democrats profess to have seen and which admittedly has worried the Republican leaders, may leave the present incumbent of the white house in the same predicament in which General Harrison found himself, the older politicians predict.

Voters Deeply Interested.

For this reason, and because of the insurgent independent movement which has gathered greater impetus than ever before in its history, the coming elections are being watched with interest throughout the country. Leaders in most of the states north of Mason and Dixon's line, and in some of those south of it, where the independent insurgent movement is the real issue, declare that the interest of the voters themselves is deeper than is usual in a congressional election, and they are predicting that an unusually heavy vote will be cast.

In a few of the states the gubernatorial contest overshadows the congressional elections. One of the states in New York, where the issue is admittedly Theodore Roosevelt. In spite of the fact that the direct primary is playing a part in the campaign and that the tariff plank of the Republican platform has been the cause of some dissension within the ranks of the party, the question of the influence and following of the former president is the factor that is taking the center of the stage.

The Fight in New York.

The colonel himself has entered heart and soul into the fight. He has stumped the state from end to end in the interest of Henry L. Stimson, the Republican nominee for governor, and the attacks of John A. Dix, Democratic candidate, and his following, have been largely directed against Roosevelt, and his

DEMOCRAT GETS FINE RECEPTION

BIG CROWD AT THE OPERA HOUSE LAST NIGHT GIVES OSWALD WEST A WARM WELCOME THAT MAKES HIM FEEL PROUD.

Whether elected or defeated, Oswald West will always have a pleasant memory of his home coming at the close of his campaign for surely the warm greeting given him last night at the Grand Opera House was enough to make a cigar stand Indian warm up and smile. At 3 o'clock every seat in the opera house from pit to "nigger heaven" was filled and all available standing room was taken.

After a song "America" by Mrs. Hinges, who was compelled to respond to an encore, Mr. West faced the people of his home town. He was visibly affected by the warm greeting given him by the big audience, and expressed his feelings at being "welcomed home." He spoke of his love for Salem whose streets and byways were his childhood's playground and of the gratification it afforded him to know that the campaign stories concerning him being crooked could find and evidently had found no one who believed him crooked or dishonest among those of his home town where his daily life was known. He explained fully the matter of the mileage, which the Oregonian and other papers have accused him of taking wrongfully, and incidentally in this connection expressed his regret that one who had grown up with him, the Statesman editor, should for the purpose of gaining a political point, prostitute his paper to print the defamatory statements sent him, and which
