TROUBLE STILL FEARED IN JALISCO OTHER MEXICAN CITIES ARE QUIET

ALL RIOTING HAS STOPPED BUT THE FEELING IS BITTER DISPATCHES ARE CENSORED

Mexican Consul at Eagle Pass Today Began an Investigation of the Lynching of Antonio Rodriguez at Rock Springs, Texas, Which Started All the Trouble--To Prevent Further Rioting All the Regular Sunday Bull Fights Have Been Ordered Postponed by Diaz.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 12.—Though it is feared that anti-American rioting may break out in the state of Jalisco, and particularly in Guadalajara, where the feeling against Americans is very bitter, the conditions otherwise throughout the country are reported today as normal. Dispatches received here today from Mexico City, Monterey and other principal cities in the republic say that quiet has been restored, and that the soldiers and rurales who still patrol the streets, have little to do.

No arrests have been made within the last 24 hours, it is reported, and it is believed by the authorities that, outside of the state of Jalisco, there is little fear of other outbreaks. As a precaution, however, against demonstrations tomorrow, bull fights throughout the republic have been prohibited.

Rioting at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, where the American consulate was attacked and partially wrecked, has been stopped, and today the little town across the border from Eagle Pass is reported quiet. Troops, both federal and rurales, are stationed near the town, and can be rushed in to guard American property, if it is deemed necessary. A guard has been placed about the partially wrecked consulate.

The Mexican consul at Eagle Pass today began an investigation of the lynching of Antonio Rodriguez at Rock Springs, whose death was the immediate cause of the demonstration at the Mexican capital. Governor Campbell has arranged to give ample protection to the consul while the investigation is under way. In the meantime the state authorities are investigating the matter on their own account, and will report the earliest possible moment to the state department at Washington.

The feeling at Rock Springs has not been changed by the riots in Mexico. The people of the place freely express the opinion that Rodriguez deserved

Fire at Nebraska University.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 12.—Fire started this morning in the mechanics and arts building of the University of Nebraska, and half an hour later it was stated that the structure was doomed to destruction. The value of the mechanics and art building is approximately $200,000. After a hard fight the firemen succeeded in saving the adjoining buildings and a part of the mechanics and arts building. The total damage was $50,000, without insurance.

the fate that was given him, and say they are justified in burning him at the stake.

Dispatches Are Censored.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 12.—Paul Hudson, president of the Mexican Herald Publishing Company, of Mexico City, telegraphed today to his mother here, as follows:

"All quiet today. United States and Mexico acted promptly and in perfect harmony in suppressing riot, Wilson not in danger. Herald building somewhat damaged."

It is believed that the original message was censored, and contained important news.

Count Tolstoi Disappears.

London, Nov. 12.—The family of Count Leo Tolstoi, distraught at the disappearance of the famous Russian writer, today organized a searching party. Several individual attempts were made to find Tolstoi, but, according to a Moscow dispatch, these have been futile. Tolstoi left home declaring that he intended to spend the remainder of his life in solitary retirement.

A dispatch to Reuter's Agency asserts that the Countess Tolstoi twice attempted to commit suicide through grief over her husband's disappearance on October 10.

CHARGED WITH POISONING HUSBAND MAY HAVE TO ANSWER FOR MURDER

A SERVANT WHEN MARRIED SHE BECAME AMBITIOUS FOR A HIGH PLACE IN SOCIETY

Prosecutor Claims He Has Evidence That She Was in League With a Young Man to Poison Her Husband, and With His Wealth Break Into Society---Aged Millionaire J. O. Schenck, Though Near Death in the Hospital, Loyal Stands by His Wife and Thinks Her Innocent.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 12.—In a jail cell, hung with damask tapestries, Mrs. Laura Schenck, fashionably gowned, sits on an embroidered couch, awaiting word from the Wheeling hospital that shall tell her whether she later will face a charge of murder. Her husband, John O. Schenck, millionaire packer, whom she is accused of having poisoned, is reported to be dying.

It is intimated by Prosecutor Handlan that a physician and a society man will be involved in the trial of the woman as the result of an alleged plot to kill her husband. Chemists examining medicines and lithia water in which Mrs. Schenck is alleged to have mixed poison said today that only persons skilled in handling drugs could have so graduated the doses as to avoid suspicion for so long. From this, it is believed, that an effort will be made to prove that a physician tutored Mrs. Schenck in the methods, it is alleged, she used in attempting the death of her husband.

Twelve years ago Schenck redeemed the woman from poverty and married her. As far as friends know, their relations always have been friendly. Mrs. Schenck refuses to discuss the case and spends her hours in the cell playing solitaire.

Laura Farnsworth Schenck was born on a farm and came here 15 years ago. After her arrival here she worked as a domestic for several years, and the last 12 years have been devoted by her to assiduous attempts to mount the society ladder.

PASSSED OUT PENNILESS AND ALONE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 12.—Penniless and alone in the world, Judge Linquist, a member of the expedition that searched the Arctic regions for Explorer Greeley, committed suicide early today in a cheap hotel. In an old and worn suit case in his room Deputy Coroner Borthwick found discharges from the army and navy, and letters and credentials which told of a life of daring and hardship.

The discharge from the navy say that Linquist had been a seaman on the United States revenue cutter Bear. He had been a member of the expedition to Point Barrow, Alaska, and had aided in the rescue of the whalers caught in the ice. His discharge from the United States army told of his bravery in the battle with the Apaches at Little Dry Creek, N. M. There were credentials and letters which recounted experiences as a member of the Greeley relief expedition, and bravery in battles with the Indians on the plains.
