Hit a Wood Wagon—Saturday evening about 7 o'clock a street car on Commercial ran into a wagon loaded with wood, and firewood took a tumble that will not benefit consumers. The horses had fortunately gotten across the track and were uninjured. The motorist was said to be blameless by those who saw the accident as there is practically about as much light at the crossing of Union and Commercial, where the accident occurred, as a lightning bug would shed if penned in a beer bottle.

The Scotchman and Yankee Girl—Singers and dancers and a new change of moving pictures. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Wexford.

THE NOBLE COUNT AND BLOODED DOG STRIKE HARD LINES

HIS BLUE-BLOODED NIBS HAS TO APPEAR BEFORE THE VULGAR PUBLIC IN VAUDEVILLE—HE HATES IT, BUT NEEDS THE MONEY.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Count Jacques Alexander von Marik De Beaufort, whose domestic infidelities and fistic exploits have engaged a great part of the attention of the Chicago press for several weeks will, if nothing interferes, make his debut as a vocalist and lecturer this afternoon at a Chicago vaudeville theatre. The count will be supported by his blooded bulldog "Sancho."

When the count was told last night that it was rumored that when he steps out to the footlights the first thing he would notice would be a shower of antiquated eggs, he said: "Will nothing satisfy this man Killgallen. If Killgallen knew how distasteful it is for me to appear before the vulgar mob, he would rejoice that I have this engagement. I hate it, I tell you I hate it. It is only for the money that I do it."

The count denied that he would describe his marital troubles from the footlights. "I intend only to sing two songs in English and one in French," the count continued. "The French song is called 'When Love Is Gone.' The English songs have not been decided upon. In addition I shall deliver a short lecture on dogs."

WHITE SLAVERS GET LONG TERM IN PENITENTIARY

Portland, Ore., Nov. 21.—Convicted under the federal statute prohibiting white slave trafficking, George Kavaliu, a graduate of the university of Athens, Greece, and James Takos, were sentenced to long terms in the penitentiary today by Judge Wolverton, of the United States district court. According to Federal Prosecutor McCourt, the two men were the first to be convicted under the "white slave" law. Kavaliu, who was the ringleader, was sentenced to eight years penal servitude and Takos to six years. They were convicted on the charge of having brought two young girls from Eureka, California, to Portland for immoral purposes.

KIERMAN WANTS THE MATTER RE-HEARD

A petition for a rehearing in the case of Frank Kierman against the City of Portland was filed this morning with the clerk of the supreme court.

This case was instituted by Kierman against the city of Portland with the view of preventing the issuance of bonds for the construction of what is known as the Broadway bridge across the Willamette river on the ground that the provision of the city charter under which the bonds were issued had not been adopted in a manner provided by law. Both the circuit and the supreme court decided in favor of the city. The attorneys of Kierman now contend in their petition for rehearing that there are some grave constitutional questions involved, both federal and state, and that in order that the court may intelligently deal with them, a rehearing is necessary.

THE KAISER HAS PROBABLY GONE "DRY"

Berlin, Nov. 21.—"The next war will be won by the nation with the smallest liquor bill," declared Emperor William today, at the opening of a naval college at Elansburg. "We all want to be well grounded in religious convictions," the kaiser continued, "and want temperance as one of our chief virtues. The good fighting man must be a good man physically, and this is impossible to the man who drinks to excess."

A Card.

The undersigned wish to thank their many friends for kindnesses on the occasion of the illness and death of their mother, Mrs. Bogus, and especially for the many beautiful gifts of flowers at her funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Al. Marvin, Mrs. George Washburn, Mrs. John Durno.

The man who is always willing to give half the road seldom stands in need of help but that he gets it.

SCOTCH VERDICT OF NOT PROVEN FOR LORIMER

Washington, Nov. 21.—Senator Burrows this afternoon said that the Lorimer investigating committee expects to report early in the coming session of congress. It is believed that the majority will report that the charges were not proved that William Lorimer of Illinois, obtained his election to the United States senate through legislative bribery.

Campaign Expenses.

Several candidates for office at the recent election today filed the statement of their campaign expenses with the secretary of state. Among the number filed there are two—James A. Chinnock, who was elected superintendent for water division district No. 1, and Hon. F. W. Benson, elected secretary of state, who have the distinction of not having expended a single penny during the campaign.

The other filings statements are J. W. Hamilton, candidate for judge in the second judicial district, whose expenses amounted to $233.23; John S. Hodgins, candidate for district attorney for the tenth judicial district, whose expenses amounted to $206.22; and Hon. T. B. Kay, elected treasurer, who spent $279.50.

DIED.

PERSONALS

Dad Geier left Thursday for Klamath Falls, San Francisco, Santa Rosa, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, and may visit the hot place before he returns.

J. C. Alken, of Roseburg, has been spending two weeks at Portland, and stopped off to see his cousin, R. D. Allen, of this city. Mr. Allen is the man who got over the fence for a third term as county clerk.

Dr. W. W. Kimmel and Attorney N. M. Newport, of Lebanon, were guests at the new Hotel Marion Saturday.

Master Fish Warden Clanton is back from a visit to eastern Oregon. G. L. Berry, a Seattle, circulation manager of the "Westerner," is in the city on business.

Hon. A. M. Gilbert, who has been confined to the house with a sick spell, was out on the streets today for the first time in several weeks.

Hon. Will R. King, justice of the supreme court, who ran about $60 ahead of his ticket, has decided to make his permanent residence in this city and open a law office and try to get the business of some of those who voted for him.

Henry M. Hansen, for some time with The Journal as city editor, and who has been employed on some of the larger papers of the Northwest, has returned to Salem to work at his former job. He likes Salem and the people seem to like his work wherever he holds down a desk.

Too often men bow the knee to the god of Things as They Were. It is one thing to make money, and quite another thing to wisely use the profits of one's labor.
