

A "Meeting and Beating" Competition SHOE SALE

We do not claim that "without exception" all our Shoes are new Fall stock although we have a larger percent of new shoes than any other store in this town. Nor do we claim that we are touching bed-rock prices as some one may make prices even lower than ours, but if they do they might as well give away the shoes as we expect to lose money while this sale is on. No prices will be changed on our stock but we will make the following cuts:

POP CORN MOLASSES AND FLAVOR

ATTORNEY-GENERAL SEARCHES THE BOOKS FOR INFORMATION ON COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT ON THE ABOVE COMBINATION.

Whether the applied trade mark, "Pop Corn Crisp; Molasses Flavor," can be construed to be so similar in ideas that it will operate as an infringement upon the registered trade mark "Molasses Pop Corn Crisp," is a problem with which Chief Clerk Corey found himself confronted this morning, and he has referred it to Attorney-General Crawford for solution.

The question came up when the Standard Crisp Company, of Portland, applied to the secretary of state to have the words "pop corn crisp; molasses flavor," registered as a trade mark. An objection was made to its being registered by the Coast Crisp Company, also of Portland, on the ground that it infringed upon its registered trade mark, "molasses pop corn crisp." The trade mark law for this state was enacted about 48 years ago, and since that time there has been no amendment made to it. Under its provisions it does not seem to give the secretary of state any discretion in rejecting applications for trade mark, where there is an apparent infringement, nor does it define clearly as to what constitutes infringement.

There seems to be, according to the attorney-general, a conflict in the court decisions on the latter question. Some hold that where a single different word is used in a trade mark which it is applied to have registered, it cannot be designated as an infringement. Other decisions hold that where there is such a similarity of words and ideas that to register the trade mark would operate to the injury of some company which already has a trade mark registered it constitutes an infringement. The attorney-general is inclined to favor the latter view, but would express no definite opinion until he had fully investigated the decisions on the subject.

The law on the registration of trade marks in the state is said to be, not only indefinite and uncertain in its provision, but obsolete, and to be in need of amendment in many particulars.

RIVERTON FIGHTING CAR LINE

STREET CAR COMPANY SIDETRACKS THE TOWN WHEN COMMUTERS REFUSE TO PAY EXTRA FARE — TWENTY-FIVE ARE ARRESTED.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 21.—Twenty-five residents of Riverton, a suburb of Seattle, were arrested by deputy sheriffs today upon their refusal to pay the increased carfare recently imposed by the Interurban electric lines terminating in Seattle.

The arrests are the culmination of bitter controversy between the transportation company and the citizens of Riverton, over the fact that under the new schedule of rates, the fare was almost doubled.

The residents contended themselves with vehement protest until Sunday morning, when through a preconcerted plan all Riverton commuters refused to pay more than the old rate. Cars were stopped on the sidings in rapid succession, and finally to relieve the congestion, the company set out the cars containing Riverton passengers, and eliminated the little hamlet as far as its being a regular stopping place until six o'clock in the evening, when deputy sheriffs appeared on the scene and restored traffic.

More than 200 persons were involved in Sunday's dispute.

From 8 o'clock Sunday morning until 6 o'clock in the evening the interurban cars did not even hesitate at Riverton, thereby making it impossible for passengers to catch the trains.

Bright and early today the trouble was renewed and the arrests of the indignant commuters resulted.

The people of Riverton are thoroughly aroused over what they consider discrimination on the part of the interurban company and are rallying to the support of their incarcerated fellow citizens.

HIS WIFE BEAT HIM FOR BOTH THE OFFICES

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 21.—A peculiar situation in connection with the recent election is reported from Green Creek precinct, one of the heavily populated rural precincts in Idaho county, where A. J. Hoffman, who was running for two offices, constable and justice of the peace, was defeated by his own wife. She received two votes to her husband's one.

Some of Hoffman's friends suggested to several that they write the name of Mrs. Hoffman on the ballot and vote for her instead of her husband. The joke took so well that, after the official canvass, just completed, Hoffman found that he was in the "also ran class."

Mrs. Hoffman has declined to qualify for either place, but her friends assert that she has the courage and ability to fill either place, and are endeavoring to induce her to select either one or the other of them, if not both.

Should she accept she will be the only woman occupying such a position in the Northwest.

MRS. SCHENCK BEFORE THE COURT THIS MORNING

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Laura Schenk, charged with having attempted to poison her husband, John O. Schenk, millionaire packer, appeared in criminal court here today for arraignment. Her attorneys asked for a continuance until they had argued on five separate pleas for dismissal of the indictment.

Mrs. Schenk, who was fashionably attired and appeared undisturbed at the prospect of trial, was returned to jail. Prosecutor Handlan announced that the trial probably would begin December 10.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by all dealers.

A thankful heart, a filled stomach, and a warm shelter make a pretty fair equipment with which to enter the winter.

Lane back comes on suddenly and is extremely painful. It is caused by rheumatism of the muscles. Quick relief is afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by all dealers.

ALL TEXAS AROUSSED OVER FIGHT

TROOPS ARE POURING INTO DEL RIO AND MARATHON, AND WILDEST EXCITEMENT PREVAILS OVER REPORTED FIGHTS

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 21.—The Zatecas outbreak has been part of a "Red Sunday" demonstration planned as a forerunner of a revolution, is the general belief here today. Two thousand persons participated in the disorders, according to private telegrams received in El Paso. The demonstration was directed against the Mexican government, and not against Americans, it was authoritatively learned today. It is not believed that any Americans were among the 100 reported killed.

Zacatecas is the pivotal city in the state of Zacatecas, in the central part of the republic.

Troops today are pouring into Del Rio and Marathon, on the Texas border, as the result of a report that American scouts and Mexicans clashed in a sharp skirmish. The wildest excitement reigns in both towns, and posess are being hastily formed to protect the border.

STOCKMEN AND INDIANS HAVE FIGHT

TWO INDIANS KILLED AND TWO WOUNDED IN PITCHED BATTLE ON THE CROW RESERVATION — INDIANS IMPOUNDED RANGER'S CATTLE.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 21.—In a fight between Indians from the Crow reservation and cattlemen on the reservation, two Indians were killed and two wounded, according to report that reached here today.

A sheriff's posse is enroute to the scene of the conflict, while the district attorney is investigating charges that the Indians were fired upon from ambush. It is charged that the cattlemen were the aggressors and arrests of well known men are expected to follow.

The fight is said to have grown out of a law barring the cattlemen from using the reservation lands as ranges. Disregarding this law, the cattlemen, it is alleged, drove their stock on the Indian lands, and the Indians, rounding them up, held them for a ransom of $5 per head. According to reports reaching here, the cattlemen conferred and decided upon concerted attack, firing on the Indians from ambush. Five cattlemen are said to be under surveillance awaiting the arrival of the sheriff's party.

Will Fly To Cuba.

Havana, Nov. 21.—A flight from Havana to Key West in an aeroplane is the latest thriller to be contemplated by aviators. An offer to fly over that route was made today by John B. Moissant to President Gomez, of Cuba. Moissant is seeking the aid of the Cuban chief executive in promoting a two-weeks' aviation meet in the islands, and would terminate it with the attempt he proposed.

The feat is considered one of the most hazardous ever attempted by birdmen. Practically the entire flight would have to be made over water. This might not seem so bad, only for the knowledge that a man would be torn to pieces within a few minutes after he struck the water by man-eating sharks that infest the sea in those waters.

Sudden squalls are common occurrences also in the gulf region, making air flights doubly hazardous.

Estray Notice.

Notice is hereby given that I have taken up and impounded the following described animals found roaming at large in the city of Salem:

One black spring heifer calf.

One Jersey spring heifer calf, with white on nose.

The owner of said animals can have the same by proving property and paying the legal charges and keeping, etc., and in default thereof for five days I will proceed to sell said animals at public auction, as provided in ordinance No. 429 of the aforesaid city.
