DEVELOPMENT BOOSTERS ON THREE DAYS

MORE RAILROADS ARE BUILDING IN OREGON THAN ANY PACIFIC COAST STATE—ONE REASON IS IT IS THE RICHEST TERRITORY YET UNEXPLOITED

That this state is now entering upon a great era of railroad building and that now is the time to do the utmost to attract settlers is the belief of Theodore B. Wilcox, president of the Oregon Development League, in telling of the publicity to campaign that will be planned at the annual convention of the league to be held at Salem next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"I venture to predict," said President Wilcox, "that no state in the union will build more railroads than Oregon during the next five years, with the possible exception of Montana, which is 50 per cent larger and where conditions are the same as here.

"This makes the time particularly opportune to work for the development of this state. The new roads now building will bring in many new settlers and the commercial clubs of the state will attend to their distribution.

"The coming convention will be a valuable opportunity for the representatives of the various commercial bodies to get together and exchange ideas, gather inspiration and receive encouragement for the coming year."

President Wilcox is on the program for an address and it will be the most notable of the convention. Thoroughly conversant as he is with the industrial development of the Pacific Northwest, anything he may say of the future of this great region will be listened to with interest.

Announcements of great importance in the railroad situation are expected from the officials of the Hill lines. James J. Hill himself plans to attend if he can get away from New York in time to reach Salem for the convention and it is thought probable he will make definite statements regarding the building of new lines in the Northwest.

There is a wealth of other talent on the program that promises to make the coming gathering the most interesting far in the history of the league.

The Southern Pacific officials will be present and have something to say to Salem people. They also do things occasionally.

THE COUNTRY'S POPULATION IS 92,000,000

Washington, Nov. 26.—The population of the United States today is approximately 92,000,000, according to experts of the census bureau, who base their estimate on the population of 16 states and two territories already given out.

The exact figures they have compiled, counting Alaska, are 91,851,389. The census figures were taken last April, and at the rate of increase for the last 10 years, the difference between that figure and 92,000,000 almost would have been made up.

According to the census bureau, the percentage of increase for the nation at large will exceed the rate of the separate states. The states and territories already announced show an average increase of 26.02 per cent.

NO HOPE FOR TEN MINERS ENTOMBED

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Evansville, Ind., Nov. 26.—Rescuers emerging from the mine of the Providence Coal company at Providence, Kentucky, today reported the mine filled with gas, and that the 10 miners entombed in mine No. 3 have been given up as dead. The men have been shut in for 24 hours, and until the gases are worked out rescuers will not be able to reach them. The entombed men are in the lowest level of the mine.

WILLAMETTE OWES MUCH TO COACH SWEETLAND

The Willamette University football team has probably been the most successful of any that the University has heretofore put out. Though her scores against the smaller schools have not been very large it is because of the fact that Coach Sweetland instructed his men not to run up large scores of special reasons of his own. When the local team played Hill's Military Academy it would have been possible for the Willamette bunch to have scored between 60 and 70 points on them. The same with Mt. Angel college. It was not evident to the spectators that in the game with the O. A. C. that Willamette had the stronger team and it was merely a fluke that O. A. C. scored at all.

With the exception of McRae at end, the team is practically what it was last year but the change in the plays and fertile brain of the coach developed a unity of play and interference which has puzzled the best of them.

SOLDIER JAIL BREAKERS ARE BEHIND BARS

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Fort Stevens, Or., Nov. 26.—A double guard was placed over the guard house at the fort here today following the capture of Privates Baldrige, Roberts, Johnson and Ward, who escaped early in the week from the prison.

The men were taken prisoners by Private Peterson and Smith, who captured them at Svensen, a small station 23 miles from here, which they had entered to renew their food supplies.

The men's escape from the prison was carefully planned and daringly carried out. A posse of 200 soldiers searched the hills for the escaped men for two days.

Mt. Taft is wondering if Ohio really is "his own state."

THE SLEEPING SICKNESS OF BOOSTING CLUBS

WILL BE DISCUSSED AT SALEM WITH THE LID OFF—HOW TO BRING THE DEAD TO LIFE AGAIN.

"Sick Commercial Clubs and How to Cure Them," is the subject to be discussed thoroughly at the Oregon Development League convention on Monday. Officials of the sick clubs will be present, and will be asked to describe their symptoms fully, so that the proper course may be followed in treating the disease. Ailing clubs, hampered by arrested development, lack of nourishment, cataplexy or the fatal sleeping sickness, as well as other maladies that overtake commercial bodies, will be treated by experts.

Specialists coming. Specialists who have been called into consultation to give their advice on the ills of the sick club's include such noted professional men as J. R. MacLean, of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce; Secretary A. L. Sommers, of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce; Francis Hopo, of the California Development Board; Tom Richardson, of Portland; C. C. Chapman, secretary of the League; Reilly Atkinson, secretary of the League of Southern Idaho Commercial Clubs; Secretary J. E. Barnes of Southwest Washington Development Association, and others.

Portland Apple Show.

Portland will decorate in honor of the Oregon Apple Show to be held there November 30 and December 1 and 2. There will be decorations in the windows throughout the city, on the streets and in the button holes of pedestrians' coats about town.

The change in the location of the show to the building at the southwest corner of Fifth and Washington streets is meeting with the approval of every one.

President Elliott Coming.

Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, will be at the Salem congress and will attend the apple show, and speak to the people. His position as the head of a great railway system, and president of the Spokane National Apple Show, give his remarks a special significance, for he is a leading authority on apple growing.

Scientists who have made the business of apple growing a life-long study are on the program for illuminating addresses on the problems the orchardist has to face. Such experts in horticulture as Prof. C. I. Lewis, A. S. Thornber, C. E. Bradley and H. S. Jackson are on the program. Maxwell Smith, editor of "Fruit Magazine," and manager of the Canadian Apple Show, will speak.

ALASKA SCHOONER WRECKS FOUR SAILORS PERISH

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Juneau, Alaska, Nov. 26.—Word was received here today of the wreck of the schooner Sea Light, near Cape Ommaney, at the southern end of Barren Island, in a severe storm Monday. Four sailors perished. When the vessel struck the crew of eight divided and left on the open seas in two dories. One of the latter boats got into Sitka last night, with the four men scarcely able to speak, so terrible had been the hardships they endured. There is little doubt that the other dory drifted north and was lost.

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 26.—Clarence D. Hillman, the Seattle millionaire real estate opera'or, must plead to the several indictments charging him with conspiracy to defraud by use of the mails, December 1. This is the decision of Judge Donworth, who has been considering Hillman's motion to quash the indictments. The indictments are sustained, and Hillman must go to trial. BERING RIVER FLOOD DID BUT LITTLE DAMAGE

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Cordova, Alaska, Nov. 26.—Fears of loss of life in the Glacial flood which swept down the Bering river yesterday were allayed today when further reports were received from Katala saying that searching parties had failed to find anything to indicate that fatalities had resulted from the flood.

The water subsided rapidly and today the Bering river assumed its normal condition.

That greater damage was not done by the rush of water and icebergs is attributed to the mildness of the weather. The river was not frozen over to a great depth and consequently the water flowed freely preventing jams with the serious results that would have followed.
