

Oregon Glee and Mandolin Club, Appearing at Grand Opera House Tonight

AUDIENCE CALLED FOR STILL MORE

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON CLUB CAPTURED BY PORTLAND AUDIENCE THAT REFUSED TO LET THE BOYS OFF WITH A DOZEN ENCORES—THE BIG HIT OF THE SEASON HERE TONIGHT.

The Oregonian this morning says: "More! more! more!" That was what the audience at the Helig Theater demanded of the University of Oregon Glee and Mandolin Club Saturday night. "Repeated encores of such number told the success of the university men, who are now in the middle of their annual tour. Theatrical stars have appeared at the Helig this season; drama, musical comedy and opera have scored this success; but no greater hit has been made than that of Saturday night. Every seat in the theater was occupied. It was a mixed audience of critical appearance and was swept away by college talent.

"The performance and concert was not the average university 'rah' rah' and merit of college life that carries with it recollections of youth and inspiration to the juvenile. It was a program of musical numbers, sketches and specialties that would give any audience its money's worth.

"The feature of the entertainment was the presentation of William Lal, a Chinese tenor soloist. The audience looked for a comedy act, but when Lal appeared and sang it sat up and took notice. Lal not only has a fine voice, but knows how to use it. In 'I'll Sing Three Songs of Araby,' Lal surprised the audience and received repeated encores. His nationality was not forgotten. It added to the enthusiasm.

"The Suffragette Trio, written and sung by Rafael Geisler and Francis Curtis, both of Portland, and Jerry Martin, of Klamath Falls, was a sketch the audience appreciated with several encores. Attired in bloomers and peroxidized wigs, the trio appeared, and the plaintive wail, 'Oh, why don't Oregon let us vote?' at the end of each stanza, caused a loud demonstration in the audience. Their appearance is a hobby in response to one of the encores made a big hit.

"In the closing sketch, 'At Dops Center,' the German band, a good burlesque on 'The Hungry Seventh minus one,' was highly appreciated, and in response to the encore, Burns Powell played a trombone solo beyond the amateur class, and the audience was not satisfied until it heard more.

"The sketch showed the Glee and Mandolin Club marooned at a country tavern, the manager taking the best room in the house, while 'the boys' remained in the office, waiting for a train that was six hours late. To pass the time, the village constable was called, and as a joke he was introduced to the crowd as a congregation of German students. William Lal brought the house down when he answered the introduction in a platter of Chinese.

I. M. Glen, the faculty member, who trained the club, also came in for his share of encores by singing in Italian, and each time the chorus and mandolin club appeared, they were required to sing and play more.

"If the University of Oregon Glee and Mandolin Club should appear again, it is safe to say that there would not be standing room."

A BAD COLD EASILY BROKEN

There is not one grain of quinine in Pape's Cold Compound, which, when taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will surely end the grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headaches, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, catarrhal affections, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than $50,000, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere except in the world which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

SALEM BREWING COMPANY TO ERECT FINE BUILDING

Workmen are now busily engaged in removing the old buildings from the property of the Salem Brewing Association on Commercial street, and as soon as their labors are completed and plans and specifications are decided upon, the association will award a contract for the erection of a large and handsome brick structure upon the property.

The plans are being prepared by architects now, but until they are formally presented to the association, and accepted, the management will not be in position to give a description of the structure which it proposes to erect. It will be at least three stories in height, however, and it may be that it will be made a five-story structure, and will have a frontage of 75 feet on Commercial street and a depth of 50 feet. The building will be connected with the present brewing plant and will be used as a brew house and office. With the erection and completion of the building the association will have one of the most modern and complete brewing institutions in the state.

The building will reflect the latest designs of the architectural world, and will be equipped with the most modern brewing machinery. The cost of the structure will be between $50,000 and $40,000.

LOS ANGELES PREPARES FOR AVIATION MEETING

Workmen today began the erection of hangars on the Dominguez aviation field, where the Los Angeles municipal aviation meet will be begun according to present plans. December 24 Contractors will begin to clear the ground before the end of the week, and the construction of the immense stands that are planned will be started.

Sufficient funds to guarantee the success of the meet have been promised by business men and the committee is busy negotiating with famous birdmen. Willard, Hoxsey, Brookins, Mars, Latham and Knabenshue already have promised to appear.

SIWASHES STUCK ON MOVING PICTURE SHOWS
Juneau, Alaska, Dec. 12.—Juneau and Douglas Island are alive with new amusement enterprises for the benefit of the Indian natives who have earned large sums during the summer and fall in the fisheries and are now able to pay 20 cents each to view motion pictures in the several small halls recently built here. A roller skating rink was opened a fortnight ago on a venture and the Indians are spending 12 to 15 hours a day mastering the "figure eight" and the dove tail movements.

The management has set aside one night for the exclusive use of the natives.

IT IS The Autopiano

The Standard of The World

The Autopiano

Everywhere a piano is regarded as a household necessity, but the Autopiano, the modern perfect piano, which enables every one to play both the old way by hand and the new way by use of the perforated music roll, is an instrument that seems destined to supersede the regular piano in almost every home. The Solist Autopiano was the first perfect player piano made and the enthusiastic and unsolicited endorsement accorded this marvelous instrument by men and women prominent in every walk of life are conclusive evidence that the Solist Autopiano is the "ONE PERFECT PLAYER PIANO." Over two thousand of these fine instruments have been sold by us in Oregon alone.

The increasing desire for real music in the United States during the past five years is due in no small measure to the introduction of the player piano. Grand operas, heretofore appreciated only by those who were emusicians in every sense of the word, are now understood and enjoyed by people who have not had the opportunity of receiving a musical education. To the real musician who can at a single glance detect the merits or shortcomings of musical instruments, the Autopiano is a continual delight. It is surprising to listen to the perfect rendition of famous compositions properly played on the Autopiano. The inexperienced performer, with but a few moments' practice, and by following a few little suggestions can duplicate all the musical effects achieved by great pianists. That the Autopiano is the personal choice of some of the most famous musicians and artists demonstrates decisively the artistic superiority of this marvelous instrument.

It may not be known generally, but the largest number of player pianos are now manufactured in the United States by the Autopiano Company. This fact is not surprising when you know that the Autopiano alone, by its many exclusive features and improvements, has overcome the various defects that all other player pianos are troubled with.

Eilers Music House is the sole factory distributor of the Autopiano for Western America. We gladly recommend it as the best and most satisfactory player piano. Our intimate knowledge and varied experience with the many makes of player pianos should make us competent to decide the point, even though it were one of extreme difficulty, but even to the layman the numerous exclusive advantages of the Autopiano are so apparent as to admit of no discussion. For this reason Eilers Music House, and many of the most reliable music houses in the largest Eastern cities have discontinued the sale of player pianos that, while considered best at one time, have failed to keep up with the progress of the trade. You are cordially invited to hear and compare the Autopiano at our spacious display room.

BOY NEARLY DROWNS IN MUD HOLE IN STREET

Phillip Wheeler, aged three, a grandson of Mrs. Huffman, was nearly drowned in a large mud hole at the intersection of Sixth and Market streets in North Salem yesterday. He was completely immersed in water and mud and if it had not been for the timely aid of an old gentleman who pulled him out, he would no doubt have drowned, as the water is about two and a half feet deep.

The hole was caused by the improvement of one street butting up against an unimproved street, and there being no way left for the water draining down it to get past the unimproved street. This improvement is now in litigation; the residents of that section claiming that there was no grade made for the water to run off. While the child was not seriously hurt, they think similar accidents are liable to happen at any time during the winter.
