DIAMONDS

Don't buy common diamonds when the same money will secure one of our fine white gems. Remember that badly imperfect and straw colored diamonds soon become unattractive to the wearer, as they show their poor qualities in comparison with the first-class article---and you know diamonds always will be compared. One good diamond is worth more than half a dozen poor ones.

ARE AFTER MAKERS OF MOONSHINE

FEDERAL AGENTS SAY COAST MOUNTAIN MOONSHINERS FIND GOOD MARKET FOR THEIR PRODUCTS IN THE DRY COUNTIES.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Portland, Ore., Dec. 17.—United State revenue officers have begun a campaign against moonshiners who are said to be operating illicit stills in the coast range mountains in Lane, Josephine and Douglas counties.

It was learned today that federal agents have been working for several months in locating various stills in Southern Oregon and that a number of arrests probably will be made in the near future.
L. F. McPherson, an old resident along the Siuslaw river, was arrested by the government detectives yesterday. He is charged with having operated a still for the manufacture of prune brandy.

A still which McPherson admitted belonged to him, was captured by the officers and has been turned over to the collector of Internal Revenue Dunne. It is said that the McPherson plant was capable of turning out 40 gallons of "pure prune juice" daily.
According to federal agents the coast mountain moonshiners have found a ready market for their liquors at Cottage Grove and other dry towns in the southern part of the state.
It is asserted that a number of small stills are in operation. Prune brandy and other alcoholic beverages made from fruits are being manufactured in the mountain stills it is said.
A general strike at Melbourne, Australia, is advancing the price of provisions.

COLORADO MINES IN BAD SHAPE

LABOR COMMISSIONER BURKE SAYS MORE EXPLOSIONS IN COAL MINES ARE CERTAIN UNLESS CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVED.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Denver, Colo., Dec. 17.—All hope of rescuing alive the 10 miners entombed in tunnel No. 2 of the Leyden mine was abandoned today when the first division of oxygen-helmeted searchers returned to the surface and reported that they had failed to find the imprisoned men.
A relief corps that followed the first division then set out to explore the extreme right wing of the mine, the only part of the tunnel that the searchers have not yet reached. At 10 o'clock this morning the men had been entombed 62 hours.
State Labor Commissioner Brake, who has been investigating the Leyden explosion, today predicted that others of the same kind would follow in mines in this vicinity within the next six months unless radical steps are taken to safeguard against it.

"There will be more explosions and more dead miners unless something is done," said the commissioner. "The Colorado Fuel and Iron company's mines at Hastings, Sopris and Engleville, are in particularly bad shape, and it is by belief that explosions will occur there unless radical measures are taken to safeguard the men."

THE PRETTY CO-EDS WILL GET BUSY

GIRL STUDENTS OF WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY TO ORGANIZE POLITICAL CLUBS AND TAKE PART IN THE POLITICAL GAME.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] University of Washington, Dec. 17.—Taking advantage of their newly acquired right to the ballot, co-eds of the university are planning to enter largely into the political life of the state. It was learned today that a number of the college women have banded together with the view of organizing political clubs.
"We believe that the younger women should take the lead among the women voters," said one of the leading co-eds today. "We propose to vote as often as we can and will attempt to employ our franchise wisely. The idea that a young woman will vote for a man simply because he is good looking is absurd. A woman really can 'size up' a man much sooner than another man can do it."

The women of the university take the stand that they must be active in politics or their voice in the affairs of the state and nation will be ignored.
