STATE WANTS A NEW DEAL

The exposure of methods at one of the state institutions by Senator Bowerman was overdue, but nevertheless acceptable. The state of Oregon is suffering from an overdose of officialism in many forms.

It applies from garret to the cellar, and extends from one corner of the state to the other.

That is why the people repeatedly elect a governor of the opposite party, and expect that the broom will be applied.

Acting Governor Bowerman made only one mistake, and that was to not have begun the exposure process as soon as he was in office.

But in a way his hands were tied, as he had been rejected by the people themselves, and it was not up to him to use sapolio.

But the people are thankful to him for doing what he did in the senate—not as against Superintendent Steiner, but as a healthy step in the right direction.

The condition has come about where the state and the taxpayer exist for the benefit of the officials and the beneficiaries. For even one ray of light from the inside, such as Bowerman has turned on, the people are thankful, and say amen.

What could not an official do on the inside to clean out the "Eugene" stables by exposing every department?

What does all this reveal, but that the state government has not now, and has not had, a business administration in any manner.

The Ladd & Tilton bank at Portland that does a business of fifteen millions, or five times as much as the state, does not cost one-tenth the sum to manage.

This, in a way, illustrates what might be done in the management of state affairs by a business administration.

There will be a great squirming and fluttering in official circles to have the probe go no further, to have the light turned off at this point, but it should not stop.

POLICEMAN OBJECTED TO COSTUME

WAS GOING TO RUN DISCIPLE OF GREEK COSTUME IN FOR WEARING WHAT HE DID NOT HAVE ON—CELT AGAINST GREEK.

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE)

Portland, Or., Jan. 20.—His feet encased in sandals, his shins exposed and garbed in a thing which looked like a sheet, Raymond Duncan, disseminator of the "new Hellenism," ran into the rank modernist, in the person of Patrolman Cameron. There were words. Today Chief of Police Cox is in receipt of a letter from Duncan, mailed from Seattle, in which Duncan accuses the policeman of a breach of the laws of hospitality.

According to his secretary, Duncan was plunging through the rain to the depot to take a train to Seattle, and carry the new creed to the benighted dwellers of the Sound city. With sour demeanor and poised club Cameron blocked his way.

"What sort of a country be ye from?" asked Cameron.

"I'm an American, sir."

"Then something's wrong with ye. I have a notion to run ye in for wearin' what ye ain't got on."

Duncan explained that they were on their way to catch a train.

"All right, then. Go on, but be sure you don't remember to come back," said Cameron.

THEY WANT EGGS

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE)

Stockton, Cal., Jan. 20.—Resolutions urging the legislature to pass a law compelling dealers to sell eggs by the pound were unanimously adopted at a meeting of the San Joaquin County Poultry Association.

HELD UP STREET CAR

IN LOS ANGELES

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE)

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 20.—Following a score of robberies, which have occurred during the last three weeks, a street car was held up at 48th and Arlington avenue by two masked and armed men early today. Conductor Greer and Motorman Patton were relieved of $45 and two gold watches.

In Astoria also, many people were not counted, asserts the reliable Budget.

DISCUSSES THE DEATH PENALTY

JESSE P. WEBB UNDER SENTENCE OF DEATH, WRITES HIS OPINION ON CAPITAL PUNISHMENT IS IMPERSONAL VEIN.

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE)

Portland, Or., Jan. 20.—Couching his argument in calm, judicial phrasing, Jesse P. Webb, of Seattle, who is under sentence for the murder of Wm. A. Johnson, the victim of the Portland "trunk mystery," has written an article for a local newspaper, decrying capital punishment. The article will be published today. Coolly he discussed the different forms of capital punishment.

"Of these," he writes, "electrocution is the most diabolical."

Webb's article reads like a brief, so free is it from anything hysterical. He says that he believes he is more competent to write on the subject than the ordinary man, "for," he exclaims, "the noose is dangling around my neck."

He treats premeditated murder exhaustively, saying that not one murderer in 100 is premeditated, for the murderer, to use his own words, "forgets circumstances in the heat of the quarrel with passion burning his soul."

Johnson, Webb and Mrs. Carrie Kersh, with whom Webb had been living in Spokane, came to Portland together. Johnson was wealthy. In the afternoon on the day of their arrival Webb purchased a trunk, had it sent to a hotel where the trio had registered, and later in the day checked it for Puyallup, Wash. Shortly before midnight one of the baggage men in the union passenger depot noticed blood trickling out of one corner of the trunk. When the police and coroner investigated they found that Johnson had been terribly beaten and crammed into the trunk before he died. Mrs. Kersh recently was sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary, and Webb is to hang for the crime.

FEDERATION HAS A BUSY AFTERNOON

The recommendation to abolish the so-called "third degree" was endorsed.

The proposed child labor law, which covers the ground quite thoroughly, was adopted with slight amendments.

The resolution to refer to the executive board the investigation of vocational diseases was introduced. Adopted.

The abuse of the restraining injunction was the actuating force back of a resolution on the subject, which was adopted and the subject matter referred to the executive board.

The protection of the salmon of the Columbia river, as well as those of other streams, was also approved.

That ten hours is too long for a woman to work in one day is the sentiment of the Federation, as expressed in their vote on the question.

The views of Superintendent James, of the state penitentiary, as regards the extension of the parole system were considered entirely right and proper, and concurred in accordingly.

The house bill of Libby, of Marion, designed to protect the men employed on rail lines, elicited considerable discussion, as many of the delegates thought it was out of the province of the convention, but after an explanation by the chairman of the law and legislation committee, it was endorsed.

A house bill slightly amending the present factory inspection law was endorsed. An age limit bill for the drivers of motor vehicles was also approved.

The eight-hour law for all state, county and municipal work went through with colors flying.

In view of the fact that the people of the state have, by their vote, taken from the legislature the right to make or alter the laws on taxation, a bill to amend was not endorsed.

That the plumbing business of the state should be properly inspected and supervised is the substance of a measure that was referred to the incoming executive board.

A request was ordered forwarded to State Labor Commissioner Hoff that he furnish data on the accidents and fatalities throughout the state.

House bill No. 18 of Abbott, which was tangled up in a resolution concerning the sailor laws, was segregated and vigorously opposed.

The balance of the measure was referred to the waterfront organizations of Portland.

Redmond is now lighted by electricity.

BACHACHE AND KIDNEY MISERY SIMPLY VANISH

In all the world there is no man or woman who can afford to neglect the slightest kidney disorder for one single day.

Kidney diseases are the most dangerous, because the first signs are seen in other parts of the body before anything wrong is noticed with the kidneys themselves.

Some of the symptoms, though, cannot be mistaken; for instance, a constant aching or misery in the back, sides or loins, or headaches and dizzy spells, nervous twitchings, disturbed sleep, inflamed or puffy eyelids, heart palpitations, rheumatic pains, weakness, bilious stomach or a feeling of languor and fatigue. Sick, unhealthy kidneys also cause thick, cloudy, offensive urine or it is full of sediment, irregular of passage and often uncontrollable or attended by a sensation of scalding.

The time to cure kidney trouble is before it settles into Diabetes, Dropsy, Gravel, or Bright's Disease. The moment you suspect the slightest kidney, bladder or urinary disorder, begin taking Pape's Diuretic as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere in the world, which will effect so prompt a cure. In just a few days you feel and know that the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs are healthy clean and normal and all danger passed.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will vouch for the responsibility of Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who prepare Pape's Diuretic—50 cent treatment—sold by every druggist in the world.

RABID COYOTES RAID VILLAGE IN BAKER COUNTY

SEVERAL PERSONS AND MANY DOGS BITTEN—FORMER WILL BE SENT TO PASTEUR INSTITUTE, AND EVERY DOG IN TOWN HAS BEEN KILLED.

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE)

Baker, Or., Jan. 20.—Following a charge of rabid coyotes into the village of Durkee last night, citizens armed themselves, and until early today hunted down and shot every dog they could find. No live canine could be found on the streets today. Several persons were attacked by the mad coyotes, according to a telephone message received here, and it is probable that they will be sent to Portland for Pasteur treatment.

The dogs were killed, as a number of them were bitten by coyotes, and it was feared that they would go mad. This is the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant that mad coyotes banded together.
