WILL HOLD FUNERAL TOMORROW

The funeral of Joshua Smith, who was drowned in Mill Creek at the Winter street bridge Wednesday night, and whose body was recovered near the Bush bridge on Church street yesterday afternoon will be held from the Unitarian church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The body was discovered by a searching party which was organized by Dr. D. L. Smith, noble grand of the local lodge of Odd Fellows. The party consisted of the outstart entirely of members of the lodge, but after the search was launched, it was also joined by others. The body was first discovered by H. L. Ellis. It was found in a clump of trees and partly covered by debris, near the shore where the Bush and Mill creek unite and but a short distance from where Mr. Smith's horse was found on the night of the drowning. The water where it was discovered was but two feet deep and by reason of the action of the current formed itself into an eddy and it was probably the eddy which prevented the body from being carried further down stream. The piece of rope which had been tied around his waist Wednesday night when an attempt was made to rescue him was found upon his person.

Upon the discovery of the body, Chief of Police Hamilton was notified and it was taken to the morgue of the Undertaking firm of Lehman & Clough.

P. J. JOHNSON HAS ACCIDENT ON S. P. TRESTLE

P. J. Johnson sustained painful but not serious injuries last night when he drove off the Southern Pacific railroad trestle over North Mill creek, on Twelfth street.

Johnson was returning to his home in the country, and was driving a single rig. That portion of the street near the trestle is dark, and it is presumed that when the turn in it was reached Johnson became confused and drove down the railroad track. Upon reaching the trestle the wheels of the rig slid over the side of the track, and horse and driver fell for a distance of about 15 feet, alighting on the bank of the creek. Johnson's cries for help attracted people living in the vicinity, and he was taken to the Sanitarium for treatment, and is said to be resting easy today. The horse escaped without injuries of any consequence.

Land owners north of Ontario will water a new area by putting in a pumping plant.

INDIGESTION GOES AND STOMACH FEELS FINE

Every family here ought to keep some Diapiesin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

The harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out of order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because, it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery at any drug store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent boxes contain more than sufficient to cure almost any case of indigestion or any other stomach trouble.

CAMERON HAS BOTH EYES OUT FOR SOCRATES

Portland, Ore., Jan. 21.—If Socrates the ancient Greek philosopher, would come suddenly to life and happen to stray on the beat of Patrolman Cameron, he would be arrested on account of his Grecian garb.

In defending himself today of the charge of having been uncivil to Raymond Duncan, exponent of ancient Grecian habits, and wearer of old time Hellenic costumes, Cameron declared that he stopped Duncan because he believed at first that the modern Greek was a poorly clad woman.

"I saw what I thought was a poorly clad woman," said Cameron in his official report, "and I went up to her and asked her if she was a woman and he replied and said she was a man."

Chief of Police Cox told Cameron that Duncan was wearing the garb of Socrates. But it did not impress the patrolman.

"If this fellow Socrates comes on my beat, I'll pinch him, too," said the bluecoat, as he backed from the chief's presence.

COULD NOT SLEEP DURING THE NIGHT

San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 21.—After working at night continuously for 15 years, Charles Hardy, of Denver, unable to sleep, except during the day, endeavored to break himself of the habit. The effort cost him his mind, and in a fit of temporary insanity he killed himself. Hardy, who for 15 years was a night watchman for the Denver Clay Company, came here recently. Failing to secure the work to which he was accustomed, he took a day position, but found he could not sleep at night. He broke down yesterday and shot himself to death.

LITTLE BANTAM WEIGHTS FEEL 'PRETTY SCRAPPY'

Port au Prince, Hayti, Jan. 21.—Battle is expected at or near Sal-trom; Hayti, within the next few hours between a force from Santo Domingo, which crossed the border at Grand Grozier, and is marching toward the former town, and the troops of the Haytian republic. Large forces of infantry and artillery are being rushed to the front, all efforts at conciliation by the British and German residents having apparently failed.

WILL PAY INDEMNITY FOR EXECUTING CANNON

New Orleans, La., Jan. 21.—News that the Nicaraguan government, in explanation for the execution of Leroy Cannon, the American filibuster, will bestow a large pension on his relatives was brought from Nicaragua by Colonel Paul Mason of New York, who arrived here today. Mason said that prompt action would be taken in the matter.

MARTIN EGAN HIS PRIVATE SECRETARY

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 21.—Martin Egan, mentioned in Washington dispatches as the probable successor to Charles D. Norton as secretary to President Taft, is a former San Francisco newspaper man, whose sisters live there now. He is editor of the Manila Times, and has been much associated with Taft in the Philippines and Washington. Egan accompanied Taft on his tour of the world.

Mrs. Egan was Eleanor Franklin, a magazine writer.

Egan was offered the position of secretary some time ago, but refused on account of the salary being $5,000, which is less than he receives in Manila.

Taft wants Egan particularly to handle the press, as Egan is very popular, and has held high journalistic positions. Egan came hurriedly from Manila to San Francisco five days ago, at the request of Taft. Egan is 38 years old, was born in Oakland, Cal., and has lived in Manila, Tokio and London as a correspondent.

FIRE CRACKERS ARE FORBIDDEN IN PORTLAND

Portland, Ore., Jan. 21.—A noiseless echo of Portland's sane Fourth of July will obtain here China New Year's and the two weeks' celebration of the Chinaman will go on without the usual accompaniment of fire-crackers if the order issued by Chief of Police Cox today stands.

Cox denied permission on orders from the health and police committee.

The Chinese are making strenuous efforts to have the ukase rescinded.

Several months ago the council passed an ordinance providing for a sane Fourth in which the firing of fire crackers and other explosives was prohibited. For this reason the Orientals' petition was denied.

ABANDONED BY CHILDREN OLD MAN DISAPPEARS

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 21.—Officials of the Legal Aid Society and the police today are searching for John W. Applegate, 88, once famous civil engineer, who, disappointed because he has not received help from children who loved him in the days when he was wealthy, has disappeared. Applegate recently served ten days for vagrancy. Former friends wrote to his children in Philadelphia and Newport. The letters have remained unanswered.

Dou't Fail to Attend the Recital at the Salem Opera House, Tuesday, January 24, at 8 p. m. Doors open at 7:45

M. L. Bowman. Pauline Miller Chapman. Wm. R. Boone.

Mr. Bowman has interpreted all the premier roles of grand opera in nearly every city in America, and enjoys the distinguished honor of being accounted America's greatest Basso-Cantante.

His qualification will no doubt enable him to maintain that proud position for his generation. His complete mastery of his art enables him to reach the lower notes of the scale, retaining the velvet richness of the tones.

The charm of his song is greatly enhanced by the purity of the pronunciation of the words of his text, without marring the harmony of the tonal poem.

His mastery of acoustic is marvelous and was achieved by years of study and experience. The small room or the great auditorium yield to his vocal exploitation, so that the close auditor and the person in the far corner of the auditorium are able to enjoy to the fullest his marvelous interpretation of the most difficult roles.

These talented artists will afford a rare and unusual opportunity to musicians and music lovers, and a brilliant, satisfactory and delightful entertainment for all classes of amusement seekers to hear a superb recital.

Salem Opera House, Tues., Jan. 24 at 8:15 p. m. Admission $1.00
