WILL INVESTIGATE THE ASYLUM SENATE AGREES WITH THE HOUSE

LOOKS GOOD FOR ASTORIA SENATOR MALARKEY MAD SAYS THE OUTFIT "LIED"

Dr. Owen Adair's Bill Got the Same Treatment It Proposes for the Criminals--Senate Shows Disposition to Celebrate the Winning of the Northwest in a Decent Manner--Malarkey Denounces Statement in the Portland Daily News.

After involving the senate in a protracted discussion, the bill of Dr. Owen Adair, a lady physician of Astoria, introduced in the senate by Senator Albee, and which had for its object the prevention of procreation of confirmed criminals, insane persons, idiots, imbeciles and rapists went down to defeat before that body by a vote of 16 to 14 this forenoon. The bill came back from the committee with a majority report adverse to its passage, and a minority report in favor of it, and it was on the substitution of the minority report for the majority report that the vote was taken.

Senator Albee lead the forces favorable to the bill and Senator Abraham those opposed to it. Albee believed that it was a wise measure and pointed out that the legislature, in passing it would follow in the footsteps of Indiana. Senator Abraham took the position that it was but a freak measure, which would add further distinction to Oregon's system of government. Senator Carson and Senator Sinnott maintained that it was unconstitutional on the ground that the constitution provided no unusual or cruel punishment should be inflicted upon an inmate of the state prison.

The bill passed the legislature of last year, but was vetoed by Governor Chamberlain.

To Investigate Asylum. A resolution already passed by the house, and asking for the appointment of a committee of two from the senate and three from the house to investigate the management of the State Hospital for the Insane was passed after a long debate on the question. A number of the senators were opposed to the appointment of the committee, as there was not sufficient time in which to make the investigation, and advocated the proposition of having a committee appointed at the end of the session to make a thorough investigation of all the state institutions. A vote disclosed that there were 20 favorable to the resolution and 10 against it.

Her lifeboats were smashed and the main salon was damaged by heavy seas. The Hill liner, the Minnesota, is reported to have had a rough passage. The Minnesota arrived at Yokohama two days late on account of a broken propeller shaft.

Five Children Killed.

Roslyn, Jan. 26.—The five children of Matt Harrison are dead, Harrison is in a serious condition, and Mrs. Harrison is recovering today. All were injured when a can of powder, set off by a spark from a cigarette being smoked by Harrison, let go. The explosion practically wrecked the interior of the house, and fatally burned the children, who were playing on the floor.

Harrison, who was a miner, was filling a small canteen from a 25-pound can of blasting powder.

ALL ARE ASTONISHED AT EXCELLENCE OF WORK AND POVERTY OF EQUIPMENT

State Furnishes "a Palatial Dormitory" for Sixteen Girls and a Place for Thirty Young Men--Equipment for Girls' Gymnasium Is Primitive, But the Girls Bathe Regularly--Other Visitors, as Well as Law Makers, Astonished at Pauper-Like Conditions, Which Should Be Bettered at Once.

The legislative junket to Eugene Wednesday was attended by about 60 members of the general assembly, many newspaper men, prominent citizens and a sprinkling of ladies. Passenger Agent Jenkins, of the Southern Pacific Company, made it a pleasant personally conducted excursion.

Arrived at Eugene about noon there were motorcars and street cars to convey the visitors to the University campus where, before and after partaking of an appetizing lunch, the legislators went through the plant for higher education materielled by Oregon.

Banquet at Osborn. The Hotel Osborn served a dinner to the excursion at 6 o'clock, at which over 200 partook of a bill of fare on hand-painted menu cards, served by colored waiters, with colored lights. Forty-five sat in the Japanese tea room and 225 in the main dining room. The guests enjoyed the wonderful Japanese tea room and the Louis Quinze parlor.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MONOPOLY ATTACKED IN THE LEGISLATURE

Report of Judiciary Committee That Amee's Bill to Regulate Transmission of News Be Indefinitely Postponed Meets With Opposition--Made Special Order.

H. B. 86, by Amee, aimed at press news monopoly, got an adverse report and a motion to table was made by Fouts to prevent indefinite postponement. Lost.

The bill was then discussed, and Mr. Amee championed his bill. A press association was a monopoly, in spite of what Mr. Brooke said. The name press association was a cloak for a monopoly that had been maintained for 60 years. The same law sought here had been held up 188 times in Iowa and Nebraska. This bill had brought all the telegraph and telephone companies to Salem. This bill deserved thorough consideration, as it lined up all corporations.

Buchanan attacked the bill, as in violation of the constitution as embracing several subjects under one title.

Abrams defended the Associated Press. This bill attacked the private personal property of the newspapers. The legislature could no more demand that a newspaper turn over its dispatches to a competitor any more than it could demand that a man give up the books in his private library. Abrams eulogized the Associated Press as the greatest news gathering agency in the world. A newspaper of any size (like The Capital Journal) has its own leased wire, with an operator in its own office.

Thompson made an able attack on the bill, and sustained the report of the judiciary committee. That committee had given the corporations affected a hearing. The bill was clearly unconstitutional.

Fouts moved to make it a special order Monday at 2 p. m. Abrams demanded an immediate vote.

Brownhill favored time to consider and debate. If this bill was aimed at a trust, turn on the light. Give the members a chance to investigate and to discuss the bill. Fouts' motion for special order adopted.

This will precipitate one of the biggest fights of the session.

CHINAMAN WILL MAKE A NEW FOOD

THAT IS HE WILL EXTRACT FROM THE SOYA BEAN EVERYTHING IN THE EATING LINE FROM SOUP TO CAKE AND JELLIES.

Paris, Jan. 26.—If Li Yu Lin's soya beans prove to be as nutritious as he claims, he will have done more to reduce the high cost of living than all the tariff experts combined.

So confident is Yin that his discovery will prove a boon to a "squeezed" humanity that he has spent $100,000 in equipping a factory for the promotion of semi-artificial food. The plant opened for business today.

Here, according to Yin, are the substances extracted from the soya bean: Cheese, milk, coffee, caffeine, jellies, oil, flour bread, biscuits, cakes, sauces and a variety of vegetables.

Yin is 29 years old and an experienced chemist. His workmen are Chinese, the machine is of Chinese invention and the raw material comes from China.
