ABE ATTELL WILL HAVE TO LEAVE THE RING

Cleveland, O., Jan. 31.—Following an examination today by physicians, it is feared that Abe Attell's fighting days are over, as a result of the fracture of his right arm, received in his fight last night with Tommy Kilbane, of Cleveland. The accident occurred in the fourth round. The men had been fighting at a terrific pace, when the men went into a clinch. Both fell to the floor with Attell underneath. Attell was rushed to a hospital, where it was found that the "funny" bone in his right arm was broken. Physicians say that his arm probably will be of little use hereafter. Kilbane was given the decision on a technicality.

MADLINE WILL GET SCALP LOCK OF PLENTY HAWK

Billings, Mont., Jan. 31.—Madeline Sullivan, of Chicago, is speeding to the Crow reservation today to secure the release of "Plenty Hawk," the richest young buck of the tribe, whom she says she is determined to marry. Hawk was jailed for filling up on firewater with a number of other braves. The girl came to Billings yesterday to secure a marriage license but found that "Plenty Hawk" would have to make the application.

FIFTEEN KILLED BY SNOW SLIDE

THREE KNOWN TO BE DEAD AND REPORT SAYS TWELVE OTHERS WERE KILLED WHEN SLIDE STRUCK MINING SHAFT.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 31.—Three men are known to be dead and an unconfirmed report says 12 others were killed when an avalanche of snow and rock struck a shaft of the Utah Coalfield mine at Park City today. Rescuers began work at once. The number of men at work in the shaft at the time of the slide is not known, but it is believed there were about 15. The shaft caved in for several hundred feet. Heavy rains on the piles of snow caused the slide.

THE EIGHT HOUR BILL PASSED.

Senator Miller had some petitions from the interests at Lebanon protesting against the passage of the bill, and that being considerable of a burg and the interests there of some consequence he wanted the petitions passed around for the consideration of the senate. Slow talking Senator Abraham wanted an amendment attached empowering the labor commissioner to except institutions from the purview of the bill whenever in his discretion conditions warranted it. It was read and as soon as put to a vote the senate promptly voted it down.

Stannett Pleads for Bill.

"There have been more or less objections urged to the bill," began Senator Stannett in talking on it. "They are urged every time that such a measure comes up and for the purpose of defeating it. If we are going to listen to them we will never obtain relief for the classes that demand and need it. "You can always hear the constitutional question raised that the laboring man's right to contract his labor must not be violated but that argument is but sounding brass and tinkling cymbals and don't let technical statements blind you to oppression. The manufacturer can adjust himself to the bill and cannot suffer but the laboring man can. He is forced to work if he wants to earn his daily bread and for the hours and the wage demanded. The manufacturer pays by the hour and whether he works one shift or three he pays no more.

Stands for Better Race.

The bill stands for the interests of a better race, a better manhood and a better womanhood and I am going to vote for it. The other day when the bill for abolishing capital punishment was under consideration I heard some of the senators extend much concern and anxiety for red-handed murderers and I am going to ask them to stretch it so as to extend it to a people whose conditions are intolerable."

Senator McCulloch made a strong and eloquent plea for the bill. Senator's Albee and Oliver also spoke in behalf of the measure.

When it was brought to a vote five members—Senators Barrett, Bowerman, Burgess, Norton and Wood voted against it.

Nearly all of the forenoon of the senate was taken up in considering the bill the remainder of the business being of a routine character and but little of it.

Bend has secured a big ice crop.

KILLED BY AUTO THAT RAN AWAY

BIG MACHINE GETS AWAY FROM CHAFFEUR AND RUNS AMUCK IN SEATTLE—SMASHES INTO A STREET CAR AFTER KILLING ELMER COLLINS.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 31.—A big seven-passenger automobile without driver or passengers, dashed crazily down Cherry street hill in the crowded downtown business section at midnight and ran over and killed Elmer Connors, a 19-year-old youth who came to Seattle yesterday from Waterbury, Connecticut. The machine had gotten away from the chauffeur, who had left it standing in front of the Seattle Athletic club. Connors, with a companion, was crossing the street on Third avenue when the big car, running at a terrific rate of speed struck him in the side, killing him almost instantly. He was thrown about 20 feet to the side and the big car, continuing in his wild career, crashed into a street car which was taking on passengers.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT TALENT LAST NIGHT

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Medford, Jan. 31.—Citizens of the little town of Talent, just south of this city, are today searching for some clue as to the origin of a disastrous fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, which destroyed the building occupied by the Marion Tryer hardware store, the C. W. Wolter's mercantile store, the State Bank of Talent, J. F. Norman's barber shop and John Conway's shoe store.

The fire started shortly after 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, and although calls for assistance were sent to the fire department of Medford and Ashland, the local volunteer brigade at Talent succeeded in getting the flames under control before the Ashland apparatus arrived.

The total loss is placed at between $25,000 and $30,000, part of which is covered by insurance.

They are interested in telephone legislation, and appeared before the judiciary committee to compel connections for small companies.

They showed that there are different systems, even among the independent lines, and ask laws to allow use of connecting lines by paying the tolls.

ANOTHER FINE PLAY AT THE GRAND

"The Squaw Man" last night drew, as it should, a crowded house. The play is a strong one and with perhaps one exception the company is strong. One of the "catchiest things about the presentation was the appearance of little 3-year-old Dick Hayden, who appeared in one scene, a bright-eyed chubby little fellow, though somewhat sleepy, who did his little stunt splendidly and made every woman in the audience want to take him up in her arms and hug him.

"The Squaw Man" is up to standard in every respect and is another feather in the cap of the management. A continuation of this class of plays means good patronage and the acquiring of the theater habit by Salem people.

The forecast is based upon the youngsters which Vanderbilt has in his stables, including 11 3-year-olds, and 13 2-year-olds.
