

MILLIONAIRE HAS A DIET OF JUST ACORNS

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Fort Worth, Tex., April 4.—Formally recognizing the "unwritten law" as justification for killing, 12 jurors here today are trying Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks on the charge of having murdered Mrs. Mary Binford, a former society favorite, three months ago in a department store here.

Mrs. Brooks testified today that Mrs. Binford had alienated Brooks' affections, causing him to neglect her and resulted in the shooting. Both of the women were church workers.

Before accepting the veniremen, the attorneys for the defense asked whether they believed in the "unwritten law." Every juror declared that he did.

Special Session of Congress.

tion submitting to the states a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by popular vote.

"Third—Such change in the rules of the house as are necessary to a thorough and intelligent consideration of the measures which come before it.

"Fourth—To carry out economy on public expenses, that labor may be more lightly burdened."

"In literal fulfillment of our retrenchment promises we have begun by cutting the house's running expenses by $188,000 annually. Economy, like charity, begins at home. That's where we began. We cannot, with straight faces and clear consciences, reform expenses elsewhere unless we reform them at the fountain head.

"The constitution gives the house practical control of the country's purse strings, and the house should insist resolutely and firmly on exercising this control, to the end that the appropriation bills may be reduced to meet the needs of a government economically and effectively administered. It is our duty to provide every dollar needed for the proper and economical conduct of the government, but it is equally our duty to prevent waste and extravagance in the public expenditure, for we should never forget that it is difficult for millions of families now to live in decency and comfort. Surely it is the part of wisdom, statesmanship, humanitarianism and patriotism so to legislate as to regulate their burdens to the minimum.

"Fifth—The publication of campaign contributions and disbursements before election. The average citizen, is absolutely honest and he demands honesty and cleanliness in politics. He believes too much money is spent on elections and he purposes to end this condition. Our solemn duty is to carry out his patriotic wishes, to the end that this mighty republic shall not be destroyed by the corruption of its elections.

"Sixth—The admission of Arizona and New Mexico. I violate no confidence in saying that, so far as this house is concerned, both speedily will be admitted to statehood.

"These are a few of the things we have promised. We are not only going to fulfill them but we have already begun the great task. What we have done is only an earnest of what we shall do. We today represent progress to the American people, and the rest will follow.

"No man is fit to be a law giver to a great people who yields to the demands and solicitations of the few who have access to his ear, but is forgetful of the vast multitude who never hear his voice or look upon his face. I suggest to my fellow members on both sides of this big aisle, which is the line of demarcation between us as political partisans but not as American citizens, that he serves his party best who serves his country best.

"I am now ready to take the oath as speaker, and I ask Mr. Talbot of Maryland to administer it."

He took the oath of office and proceeded in turn to administer it to the members. They were called in groups to the clear space between the seats and the clerk's desk and with upraised hands subscribed to the oath as pronounced by the speaker.

Proceedings differed somewhat in the senate, it being a continuing body. That is, one-third of the members retire or are elected every two years, but two-thirds of the membership are full-fledged with authority and qualified for business at the beginning of a new congress.

With Aldrich, Hale, Kean, Scott, Burrows, Carter and others of the Standpat leaders missing, the attendance on the floor presented an almost startling scene to those familiar with the senate of recent years. There was no Aldrich to direct the proceedings. Progressives, with their increased numbers and prestige, showed a serene and contented mood.

Vice President Sherman, ruddy with the glow of health, well-groomed, as usual, and also with a faring carnation on the lapel of his coat as usual, stopped into the chamber at one minute to twelve as se-ately as though there had been no break in the session. He announced prayer by the chaplain and when that was over the clerk was directed to read the president's proclamation calling the extraordinary session.

The roll was called. Reasons for the absence of a number of members were given by their colleagues.

Re-elected senators and the new recruits were lined up in front of the seats and facing the vice president. He administered the oath prescribed by law.

Resolutions were adopted directing the secretary to notify the house that the senate was ready for business and for the appointment of a committee to join the house committee in visiting the white house to inform the president that congress was ready to hear from him.

A count of noses and affiliations today showed that the Republican insurgents will hold the balance of power in the new senate. They number 12 and the influence of Cummins and La Follette looms large.

The Republican regulars predict that the Democrats will not vote solidly together and that this will wreck calculations that have been based on an expected combination between the Democrats and the progressives.

CHAMP CLARK DID NOT DRIVE THE MULE TEAM

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Washington, April 4.—Champ Clark did not drive the mules. Reports that the new speaker would journey to the house of congress today behind a pair of Missouri camels failed. Despite the rain, Clark, ignoring the speaker's automobile, walked to a common, ordinary street car, rode in it until near the capitol and then walked there to take up his new duties of presiding over the national house. Clark will walk to work daily, unless it rains, when he will fall back on the street cars.

Regulars Go In Camp at San Diego.

San Diego, Calif., April 4.—The provisional brigade of regulars under General Bliss went into camp for maneuvers at Grossmont, 12 miles from San Diego, today, marching from their camp at Point Loma, which they have occupied since they were assembled here as a result of orders from Washington a month ago. General Bliss declined to say how long the men will be at Grossmont, but it is expected that it will be several weeks.

CLEANED UP $12,000 WHILE IN THE JAIL

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Seattle, Wash., April 4.—C. D. Hillman, millionaire real estate man, has decided to serve out his 20-day sentence at the county jail for tampering with the jury, after his attorneys had labored for several days in a futile effort to raise a bail bond amounting to $215,000. During his incarceration the $215,000 bail in the fraud case will be raised, if possible, and appeals taken to the United States circuit court of appeals. Although he is a prisoner in the county jail, he is under the jurisdiction of U. S. Marshal Hale, and no one can see him without permission of that official, aside from his attorneys and immediate family.

Hillman stated that he did $12,000 worth of business in jail Monday.

SOCIALISTS NOMINATE A FULL TICKET

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Bakersfield, Cal., April 14.—For the first time in Bakersfield's history the Socialist party will present a full ticket at the municipal election to be held here next Monday. The Socialists have been waging a fierce fight throughout the campaign, and their managers today issued a prediction that the socialists would elect the city recorder, city attorney and marshal, with a fighting chance for the other officers.

WOMAN STANDS ON "UNWRITTEN LAW" AS DEFENSE

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
 Los Angeles, Calif., April 4.—Lobster a la Newberg, pate de foie gras, corn beef and cabbage and other delicacies may have their devotees, but Charles Beck, head of the paper box trust of Philadelphia, will make affidavit today that common acorns, raw, are the most delicious food. Beck ate them three times yesterday while friends sought him on Mount Lowe.

Beck became lost Sunday night when he attempted a short cut from the summit of Mount Lowe to civilization. He was found in San Gabriel canyon.

JEFFRIES ARRESTED FOR SPEEDING

Los Angeles, Cal., April 4.—Although Jack Johnson bested James J. Jeffries in the prize ring, the black champion's prestige as a speed law demolisher is threatened by Jeff. After several months' absence from the police court Jeffries was gathered in yesterday for speeding. Several previous convictions were recalled. Justice of the Peace Melrose referred warningly to Johnson's fate, and handed out a fine of $25.

AN OLD SAYING

Showing How Cause and Effect Are Never Far Removed.

It is an old saying "Where there's honey, there's bees"—not less true is one which science has coined more recently, "Where there's Dandruff, there's germs"—and—to push the inference still further—we may truly say "Where there's Dandruff cured, Newbro's Herpicide has been at work."

The reason of Herpicide's isolation as a genuine cure for dandruff lies in the fact that it attacks and destroys the root of the whole trouble—a parasitic germ which feeds upon the material which nourishes the hair follicle.

Other so-called remedies are not directed at this true cause of the disease.

Accept no substitute there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

One Conductor Helped Back to Work

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., street railway. It will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy always rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. Specially recommended for elderly people. Red Cross Pharmacy, H. Jerman.

SALEM BOASTS A FIRST CLASS VETERINARY

Salem people may be interested in knowing that there is in this city a horse doctor as they are called, who wears the title of M. D. V., and is a graduate of one of the largest equine surgeries in the United States—Chicago Veterinary College—and who is carrying a veterinary hospital—excuse the horse-play on words—that is second to none in the state. When one considers the large number of lame horses, the way horses are neglected and abused, largely through neglect, carelessness and ignorance, such a man in a community is of considerable importance. Salem is known on the coast as the Horse Show City, as well as the Cherry City. W. J. Patterson came here and invested about $10,000 in the Salem Feed Stables, built by George Bayne. He came from Calumet, Mich., where he practiced for 15 years. His horse and domestic animal surgery has an equipment of nearly one thousand dollars' worth of surgical instruments. He has a set of dental tools alone that cost $200, used to remove decayed molars, and trim up elongated teeth, caused by the softer parts of the tooth wearing away and exposing the enamel, so that it cuts their mouth and interferes with mastication. Many a horse is in poor flesh just because he can no longer grind the dry, hard feed on which he must live, and which only an experienced surgeon can properly correct. The operation of castrating horses is an important one and only a good surgeon can be trusted with some cases. Dr. Patterson is going to install an operating table, on which a horse is laid out and fastened down so that he cannot hurt himself, and where difficult and painful operations are conducted while the animal is under the influence of ether or chloroform. This operating table will cost $450. Dr. Patterson is a man who loves a fine animal, and rides and drives such, and has a heart for the sufferings of dumb animals, without which no man can be a successful or sympathetic healer of animals or people. The writer has had occasion to employ Dr. Patterson and is very glad to call attention to the valuable services he is capable of rendering, and, knowing it to be unprofessional for a man to blow his own horn, has taken the trouble to look up Dr. Patterson's history and inspect his surgery, and does not hesitate to say that Dr. Patterson seems
