Mrs. Osborne, of Turner, was in Salem today, en route to Dallas, where she expects to visit for a few days. If the American farmer desires the repudiation of the Canadian reciprocity pact, let him now speak, or forever after remain by treaty a free-trader. There are a lot of things that a man doesn't know, but he wouldn't have his small son find it out for the world.

AN ENGLISH HOP GROWER ENTERTAINED

Arthur Amos, a young Englishman, who came to Salem with letters of introduction to the Carmichael brothers, was given a dinner by the hop buyers of this city at the Marion Hotel last night, which was attended by about a dozen of the profession. Amos and his father are hop growers in Southeast England, in the famous district of Kent, which, he says, has very much the same climate but a heavier clay soil than this part of Oregon. Mr. Amos enjoys the advantage of a scientific education, and has been studying grain farming in California the past winter, and may spend the summer in Oregon, although he might have word from England to return any day.

SALEM CHURCHES PLAN UNION BOOSTER MEETING

A union service at the Liberty street Evangelist church, corner Liberty and Center streets, is the "next thing" in Evangelical circles. The time is next Sunday evening at 7 p. m. and the churches interested are the Liberty street and the Chemekeeta street churches of the Evangelical association, and the United Evangelical church. The move is on for a general union of these two great churches, and the local congregational purpose to boost this plan as far as possible. The meeting Sunday night is under the auspices of the Young People's societies of the three churches and an interesting time is assured.

CONCERNING MEMORIAL OBSERVANCES

With a view of bringing about a proper observance of Memorial Day, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Alderman today sent out programs to the various schools, together with a personal letter to the teachers, giving his idea of the manner in which the day should be observed.

"It is one of the most sacred days we have," says the superintendent in his letter, "and it gives a great opportunity to you to drive home the real lessons of patriotism." He then proceeds to say that he has noticed that too many of the schools have turned their attention on the day to athletics and picnics, and asks that it be discontinued.

He suggests that the posts of the G. A. R. be co-operated with in the celebration of the day, and, in the event that there is no such post where the school is located, he asks that the children go in a body to the cemetery in the forenoon and decorate the graves of dead soldiers.

Their attention is called to the program enclosed, and they are asked to follow it.

commanding the town, and are expected to prevent the federals from occupying their western entrenchments.

Indians Are There.

Forty Tarahumari Indians, naked except for their breech cloths, are with Madero. They will be stationed in the hills overlooking Juarez, and will be used as sharpshooters, to silence the federal machine guns when the big attack commences.

In Juarez today the inhabitants are frenzied with fear. During the threatened attack of Orozco no such fear was displayed. Now, however, the numbers of Madero's forces and their evident determination to attack have spread terror through all classes of inhabitants. Flags of every nation under the sun are flying, the people hoping under their folds to find protection when the battle rages. All the wealthy Mexicans have closed their homes, and, with all the household goods they can transport, are fleeing to El Paso.

To Protect Sightseers.

To prevent, so far as is possible, the danger of Americans being injured in the forthcoming battle, commanders of the troops here today arranged to draw a double line of patrols along the river, with strict instructions to allow no one to pass after the firing starts. All the schools in the southwest quarter of El Paso are being closed, and many residents there are leaving their homes until the danger shall pass.

Americans to Lead.

J. J. Hall, an American, who arrived today from across the line, says there are 45 Americans in the hills with Madero, and that they will lead the attack. He declares the insurgents have plenty of ammunition for both their artillery and infantry.

This afternoon General Navarro still insists that he has received no ultimatum from Madero, although American Consul Edwards holds a receipt showing that it was delivered. Navarro declares that he will not treat with the rebels under any circumstances.

Additional fortifications are being raised this afternoon in the Calle Comercio, the principal business street of Juarez. It faces south, and this indicates that the rebels are expected to attack from that direction. The federal outposts were stationed this afternoon on the mesa outside of the town.

MORRIS IS APPLYING FOR PARDON

W. W. Cooper Morris, sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary for misappropriation of the funds of the Oregon Trust and Savings company, accompanied by Attorney Alexander Sweet, of Portland, appeared before Gov. West this afternoon and asked for a pardon.

The decision of the circuit court of Multnomah county in the Morris case was affirmed sometime ago. Yesterday Morris' petition for rehearing before the supreme court was denied. His only avenue of escape from serving his sentence in the penitentiary, is a pardon from Governor West, which it is safe to predict, will not be granted. In the event that West does not grant the pardon Morris will commence serving his sentence either today or tomorrow.

FAWCETT NO LONGER IS MAYOR

Tacoma, Wash., April 20.—Recalled by a vote of a majority of the citizens on Tuesday, A. V. Fawcett relinquished the office of mayor of Tacoma today in favor of W. F. Seymour, a wealthy business man, who was elected to fill the unexpired term of three years. The ceremony was without ostentation of any kind. This afternoon, in the city clerk's office, Seymour quietly took the oath of office and became mayor.

Fawcett presided at his last meeting of the city commission this morning. It cost the city about $6000 to change mayors.

PLENTY OF WORK FOR MARINES

San Diego, Cal., April 20.—There is a lot of hard work ahead for the marines on board the Pacific cruiser fleet, now in the harbor. Landing drills will keep them busy for about a week, and then there will be a big event—the landing of a marine regiment, consisting of 1000 men.

Additional marines for the fleet will arrive from Vallejo tonight. The torpedo boats Goldsborough and Paul Jones arrived from San Pedro today. The rest of the flotilla is expected tonight or tomorrow morning.

WILL KEEP HANDS OFF OF MEXICO

Washington, April 20.—After President Taft had conferred with Secretary Knox, Congressman Sulzer and the members of the house foreign committee, a statement which came direct from the president was given out to the effect he will keep his hands off the Mexican situation, de-A. McDaniel is suffering from a tition of the Douglas incident. He thinks that absolute neutrality laws, the border sentiment which favors the rebels, the inability to control irresponsible persons and the fact that the border towns are customs ports will all contribute to the disorder. He believes that the situation is controllable, but thinks that the preparation of a neutral zone is impracticable.

FELL SEVEN STORIES BUT WAS UNHURT

Tacoma, April 20.—Lief Knutson fell seven stories to the concrete basement of the new Tacoma building, in course of construction by the Commercial Club and the Weyerhaeuser Timber company, yesterday. He was near the material elevator shaft with a wheelbarrow when he lost his balance and fell down the shaft. At the first floor he crashed through some one-inch boards to the concrete basement. Workmen rushed to his assistance, but he rolled over, got up and smiled as he remarked: "Gee, that was a lucky fall." Knutson is 25 years of age.
