

MINSTRELS AT GRAND TOMORROW

LEW DOCKSTADER, THE PRINCE OF NEGRO MINSTRELS AND A SPLENDID COMPANY OF BURNT CORK ARTISTS—BE SURE AND SEE THEM, AND FORGET YOUR TROUBLES.

If there is one thing more than another that gives Lew Dockstader who comes to the Grand Opera House Saturday, April 22, reason for feeling especially proud, it is the daughter of the household, Mildred, who has made great progress in studying art and for whom a great future has been predicted by the art colony of New York. She is the apple of the comedian's eye and there is never a day of his life, while he is obliged to be away from home, that he does not either write a letter or send her a telegram. Miss Mildred will pursue her studies in New York for a few years more at which time she and her mother will go abroad, and the handsome daughter will then be given every advantage for the development of her talent.

Miss Dockstader is described as a very stunning young miss, with her mother's beauty and her father's wit, a combination that could hardly fail to make her a favorite. Her parents don't exactly understand where her talent for painting and sketching in black and white came from, but this is due to their sense of modesty as Mrs. Dockstader is known in her circle as an artist of no mean pretensions in water color and the clever "Lew" has not only proved himself an artist in his work on the stage but has given evidence of unusual ability in other artistic lines by designing the scenery, costumes and all the incidentals of the big productions he makes annually.

Mr. Dockstader went to school with Wilbur Nesbitt, who has been clever enough to write some charming playlets, a few libretto dialogues and any amount of miscellaneous matter calculated to reach the sense of humor of those who have followed his work. Concerning his school days with Nesbitt "Lew" says: "You see, Wilbur stayed at school and studied while I ran away. That is why I have a lot of money to gratify my taste for elaborate productions, while the eminent scholar buttonholes me every time I meet him and tries to sell me topical songs at $10 apiece."

Prices, $1.50, $1.00, 75c and 50c.

that 12,800 acres to the shores of Controller bay, and the right to locate terminals and a deep water harbor. I believe that the La Follette resolution inquiry will show that the Alaska syndicate secured the ownership of the 12,800 acres thus released from the reservation and a monopoly of the only harbor in Alaska from which its great coal deposits can be shipped.

Exploded Bomb in Rear of Bakery.
(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Oakland, Cal., April 21.—Attempting to carry out a threat to blow up the bakery of J. Cassou, at 811 Clay street, if he did not meet them in a vacant lot at Sixth and Jefferson streets and deliver $2000 to them, self-styled members of the Black Hand society last night threw a bomb at the rear of Cassou's bakery, and created a panic in the Echo lodging house which adjoins the place. Every effort has been made during the last three or four weeks to intimidate Cassou, although the matter was not reported to the police as he feared that the anonymous writers would carry out their threats to kill him and his family, if he notified the police and asked their assistance.

Lives Were Saved by Small Dog.
(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Oakland, Cal., April 21.—"Muggins," the smallest dog in Oakland, saved the lives today of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Carter this morning, by clambering on their bed and pulling their hair with his teeth. The couple woke to find the house in flames, and had barely time to escape. The house was destroyed. "Muggins" was purchased in Chihuahua, Mexico.

Has a Sore Throat.
Vienna, April 21.—Emperor William is suffering from an acute attack of throat trouble, and his physicians today deemed it advisable to cancel all audiences scheduled for the next 30 days. The trouble, so far as refused to respond to treatment, and the Kaiser's condition is causing considerable anxiety.

THINK CENSUS ENUMERATORS ARE INDICTED

THREE SECRET INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY THE GRAND JURY THIS MORNING SET THE WISE ONES GUESSING IN SPOKANE.

(UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.)
Spokane, Wash., April 21.—Three secret indictments were returned this morning by the federal grand jury and it is believed they were true bills against three Spokane census enumerators who counted noses during the last government census. Bench warrants were ordered issued by Judge Rudkin and the defendants, if found will be brought before him for a preliminary hearing this afternoon.

It is also believed that there will be another indictment returned against the fourth enumerator, who is thought to have shaken the dust of Spokane from his feet long since. Coupled with a desire to see Spokane's population pass the 110,000 mark, an added impetus of 3 1/2 cents per name, government officials say led the enumerators to pad the rolls. That Walla Walla's or Spokane's present census will be effected by the indictments, is vigorously denied by the agents of the government who are pushing the cases against the alleged busy enumerators. Form Director of the Census for Eastern Washington, A. M. Storch, left the city today for Okanogan, after being closeted with the grand jury more than 48 hours.

MORE WORK IN INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

When the new insurance law passed at the last session of the legislature goes into effect May 20, it will widen the scope of the work of the insurance commissioner and mean that additional assistance will be needed in the insurance department.

The new law extends the jurisdiction of the insurance commissioner over fraternal insurance companies as well as all others. It also extends his jurisdiction over inter-insurers and the licensing of the agents of all casualty companies. It further provides that the commissioner must make an examination at least once a year of all domestic insurance corporations and an examination of all such corporations which are in process of organization.

Need of Technical Man.
This widening of the scope of the department has created a demand for what is termed as a technical man—a man conversant with all kinds of insurance and with the workings of the insurance business. Commissioner Koser had a man in mind for this place but was unable to secure him and is now looking for some one else. The additional work will also necessitate the appointment of additional clerks and for their salary the legislature increased the appropriation for the department from $10,000 to $15,000 a year.

ARE PUTTING CONDUCTORS ON THE CARS

Because of the inability to secure the necessary number of conductors the Portland Railway, Light & Power company were unable to comply with the provisions of an ordinance which went into effect today requiring it to place a conductor on each line but Traffic Manager Zinn this afternoon announced that the company was breaking them in as fast as possible and that in a few days the company would have a full crew.

The ordinance besides requiring conductors on all lines also forbids the company from locking any of the car doors. While it carries an emergency clause, time was given the company in which to make arrangements for the additional men and according to Traffic Manager Zinn the company today had 10 or 12 additional men on its line. It will require 14 additional men in all to comply with the provisions of the ordinance and Mr. Zinn stated that it was the desire and intention of the company to live up to the ordinance to the letter.

Constipation

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you, I am free from all that this morning you can use this in behalf of suffering humanity. B. F. Fisher, Roanoke, Va.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50 cents at J. C. Perry's, Druggist.
