CLAIMS THE JUROR WAS OPENLY PREJUDICED

Assigning, among other alleged errors and irregularities in the trial of Fred Bechten, convicted at the last term of the circuit court of the crime of adultery with Mrs. Josephine Rule, the fact that A. W. Shrunck, a juror, had made remarks prior to being selected as a juror, which showed him to be prejudiced, and also remarks along the same line after a verdict of guilty had been returned, Kalsner & Pogue, Bechten's attorneys, this afternoon filed with the clerk of the circuit court a motion for a new trial.

Must Get on Jury.

One of the affidavits is signed by Charles Lane and J. H. Green, and in it they allege that, prior to Shrunck being selected as a juror, that he said "My God, I must get on that jury." Another, signed by I. D. VanOsdel and A. J. Anderson, two jurymen in the case, alleges that Shrunck through out the deliberations of the jury was against Bechten.

Give Him a Dose.

The third is signed by H. J. Workman and Charles Lane. They say in their affidavit that they had a conversation with Shrunck after the verdict, and that he said: "The reason I brought in a verdict of guilty was because we do not want such foreign cattle and ——— in this country; we have got enough of them, and we will give this man a good dose, so that no more ——— of will come here.

TROUBLE AT CHEMAWA.

The superintendent's answer to the charge that he had some of the pupils whip each other is: "As a whipping, no; as a farce, yes. The explanation given under the general whipping charges" he adds, "seems to cover this fully."

Priest Is Satisfied.

"I have followed absolutely the spirit of the regulations and also the letter so closely at all times that the priest in charge has expressed fully and freely his satisfaction of my efforts both verbally and in his letters, which I have on file and can submit if disputed" is the superintendent's answer to the charge that he has not observed the religious regulations.

He then states that when he found the morning exercises were not in harmony with a circular on the subject that he took the matter up with Father Datin and that the matter was fixed up satisfactorily with him.

Funds Carried on Official Account.
For the third quarter of 1911, the superintendent says that he has carried the funds of the pupils on his official account. Previous to that the pupils' funds for a dozen years had been handled by what is known as the school bank and the cash held for them. The change was made he says just as soon as a circular was issued making it plain that the funds were to be carried on his official account and the prior arrangement had met with the approval of his assistant and his clerk.

Always Supported Campbell.

"I was dumbfounded," said Superintendent Chalcraft this morning, "when Assistant Superintendent Campbell returned from Washington, D. C., with charges against me. He had gone there ostensibly to secure a promotion to supervisorship and I had told him before leaving that if he needed my assistance to let me know and I would help him.

"His explanation to me is that the commissioner called him aside and asked him questions about me and would only let him answer yes or no—would not allow him to make any explanations and that the commissioner then gave him the charges to hand to me. I have always spoken complimentary of him and always rallied to his support. He advises me that he answered yes to all the charges made against me by the department and gave no explanation whatever.

"I understand information to the department was also volunteered from another source. I broke up a wood combine several years ago and it is from this source that the other information the commissioner speaks of comes.

"I have nothing to conceal and nothing to fear and am confident that a full investigation will disclose the charges to be baseless.

Supt. Chalcraft's Record.
The present superintendent of the Salem Indian school came to the school in 1904 as supervisor, following an investigation made by Inspectors Nessler and Holland, who investigated a scandal and that was unearthed by The Capital Journal, and resulted in removal of the then management and putting Superintendent Potter. The inspectors at that time recommended the dismissal of Campbell and it was on Chalcraft's recommendation that he retained his place. Supt. Chalcraft is popular with business people generally and with the entire teaching force. The charges against Chalcraft which were sent to all the teachers and employees at Chemawa were not sustained by them, and 37 out of about 40 have sent in a protest against his removal.

* X-RAYS AND SMILES. *

The Eugene Register's writeup of the Dockstader show makes one think of green apple time and boyhood days, only the disease has struck the Register man's English.
