MAYOR TALKS OF PROGRESS.

pledged to improvements. "This administration" continued Mayor Lachmund, after paying his respects to Durbin, "is pledged to progress and it is going to fulfill those pledges. We are going to rebuild the bridges washed out by the floods and we are going to rebuild them in a manner so that they will live forever. I am a strong, red hot advocate for progress and if I can help it there will be no more wooden bridges built in Salem—there will be no more throwing away of money into the river every time a flood comes along. By bonding we can have the future generations assist in the building of the bridges of the present and that is the plan I favor. There is a demand by the business men and the people for another election on the bond issue questions and I am in favor of again resubmitting it."

When the mayor was through, the walls rang with cheers from the spectators and Councilman Durbin had to await for the cheering to subside before he could be heard. Durbin Was Sheriff. "When I sat and listened to the mayor," began Durbin in reply, "I wondered whether I was in a trance or dreaming. Why, when I was sheriff I used to take such men."

was something coming, and there was.

Pledged to Improvements.

"This administration" continued Mayor Lachmund, after paying his respects to Durbin, "is pledged to progress and it is going to fulfill those pledges. We are going to rebuild the bridges washed out by the floods and we are going to rebuild them in a manner so that they will live forever. I am a strong, red hot advocate for progress and if I can help it there will be no more wooden bridges built in Salem—there will be no more throwing away of money into the river every time a flood comes along. By bonding we can have the future generations assist in the building of the bridges of the present and that is the plan I favor. There is a demand by the business men and the people for another election on the bond issue questions and I am in favor of again resubmitting it."

When the mayor was through, the walls rang with cheers from the spectators and Councilman Durbin had to await for the cheering to subside before he could be heard.

Durbin Was Sheriff. "When I sat and listened to the mayor," began Durbin in reply, "I wondered whether I was in a trance or dreaming. Why, when I was sheriff I used to take such men."

Councilman Durbin then proceeded to state that he favored the issuance of bonds for the building of bridges and that the mayor must have misunderstood or misquoted him. He favored bonds, he repeated, but he did not believe in plunging the city in debt—did not believe in going beyond its resources.

With that he sat down and with that the mayor resumed his chair and began putting motions again, and the council to automatically vote upon them and a little later, when an ordinance providing for an election to be held on June 19 for the issuance of bonds to the extent of $60,000 for the rebuilding of the bridges washed away by the floods, it was enacted into law.

OPEN FORUM.

People Want Bridges.

Ed. Journal:—Those who are fighting concrete bridges are standing in a bad light in this section of the city. We have to go around by the Turner road and onto State street by Twenty-third street, to get into the city, all the way from Morningside to Twenty-fifth street, and we are getting most all-fired tired. The way the sewers are dug no places are allowed to get across. No one can get out into this part of the city to buy lots or rent houses. It has killed the sale of land as far out as the People Minded Institute and it is no way to run a city as big as Salem. If the chairman of the sewer committee wants to help the town why does he not try to have a place here and there where we can get through. No team or automobile can get through to this one-fourth of the city. Mission street has been closed for going on two years. All kinds of business is suffering and if men like Lafky and Durbin are going to force us to go through another winter without bridges we might as well get ready to move out. One-fourth of the city has been tied up six months to two years. This is not economy or business or anything else only blamed foolishness and we want men in the council who will not interfere with the city. It will grow of its own accord if it is given a chance by the meddlers. PRINGLE ROAD.

BROTHERS TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

JOHN AND JAMES McNAMARA WILL BE TRIED FOR MURDER—THEY, WITH McMANIGAL, WILL REACH LOS ANGELES SOME TIME TONIGHT.

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.] Los Angeles, Cal., April 23.—While James W. McNamara, his brother, John J. McNamara and Ortle E. McManigal, alleged dynamiters, two of whom are accused of wrecking the Los Angeles Times plant, are speeding westward in the custody of detectives, preparations were being made here today for their reception on their arrival.

Whether the men will be housed in the city prison, at the county jail or in a special place of detention fitted up for their sole accommodation has not been definitely decided. Chief of Police Sebastian was scheduled to hold a conference with District Attorney Fredericks this afternoon, at which time this and other matters will be discussed. The district attorney's office will have sole charge of the prosecution of the suspected trio. Fredericks' force showed considerable activity today and the actual work of framing his case is well under way. The McNamaras will be tried for murder. This was decided after a lengthy perusal of the law and such facts in the case as are now at hand. According to advices received by Chief Sebastian, the party left Trinidad, Colo., early today and is now rushing across New Mexico. It should reach Flagstaff, Arizona, about sunset tonight. If the train is on time the prisoners will be on California soil shortly after midnight tonight.

Beyond a vague plan to meet the train somewhere outside the city and bring the prisoners into Los Angeles in an automobile, arrangements for the arrival of the party are still incomplete.

BIG ESTATES DODGE TAX ON INHERITANCES

That the state is being cheated out of the greater portion of its inheritance tax by fraudulent appraisers is the opinion of Governor West and State Treasurer Kay, after an investigation of the subject and a meeting of the Board of Control, of which they and Secretary of State Olcott are the members, will be held this afternoon to devise ways and means whereby the state may get its full share of the tax.

Governor West and State Treasurer Kay have been examining the estates from when the state draws an inheritance tax for some time; Governor West said this morning that the large estates had been, and were now being appraised by appraisers at a nominal value, and that the tax being secured from them by the state was insignificant, when compared to what it should receive. Just what plan will be formulated to put an end to the fraud being practiced by the appraisers he was unable to say, but he stated that the board was determined to put an end to it, and also to change the present appraisement made upon estates, so that the state may receive from them its just tax.

IN OLDEN TIMES.

People Were Content to Take Things Easier Than Now.

If our forefathers could behold the modern locomotives, automobiles and electric cars, they would hold up their hands in astonishment. The stage coach was fast enough then—people were more content to take things easy. They used to be satisfied with any sort of a hair lotion that came along—if it did not prevent baldness they thought it was because baldness could not be prevented. It's different now. People know that germs cause baldness and that Newbro's Herpicide kills the germs, thus curing Dandruff and preventing baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. J. C. Perry, Druggist.

KILLED BY CAVING OF THE SEWER

Joe Kloocker, an Austrian working on the sewer construction gang, was so badly crushed by a cave-in Saturday afternoon that he died at the College Hill sanatorium Sunday night. "Joe," as he was commonly known was aged about 32 years, and was at work at the bottom of the 20-foot ditch when a small patch of earth fell from the side wall, the fall being scarcely enough to cover the man. He was quickly taken out and it was thought that he was not hurt badly, but examination revealed the fact that his pelvic bone, the hips, had been badly crushed and the bladder ruptured. The injury was of such character that there was little or no hope of recovery and the death was fully anticipated by the attending physicians, Drs. Pernot and Johnson, who say that such cases seldom ever recover.

Kloocker had a wife and two children in Austria and had been in America seven months.

This is the third accident at the sewer ditch in recent weeks. One man had a finger cut off and another had a gash cut in his head by a small stone kicked from the surface. —Albany Herald.

BIG STRIKE IS MADE AT GRANTS PASS

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.] Grants Pass, Or., April 23.—There is keenest interest here in the reported great gold strike at the Higgins property on Baby creek, as reported in The Journal Sunday morning. L. C. Higgins, the Grants Pass assayer, whose office is out of communication at the mine, which is at the summit of the Baby creek and Rancher creek, 20 miles northwest of Kerby Josephine county.

The discovery was made 30 days ago but was kept secret. Gold is said to exist in stupendous quantities. It is reported miners are on their way with free ore that shows $125 to the pan.

Gold was discovered in a porphyry dike 300 feet long. The dike lies between serpentine and slate, and goldstone occurs at the contact of the dike and the serpentine. The man who made the strike at once reported it to the lessees of the mine, who immediately notified Mr. Higgins, who was then in a hospital at Portland. Higgins immediately left the hospital for Grants Pass, and is now at the mine. It is understood the lessees of the mine have less than 30 days before their lease expires. Lessees are jubilant as the ore said to be in sight makes them rich, as well as Higgins.

Grants Pass has long been known as the center of a great gold mine district, and this strike confirms the opinion. Higgins is an old resident of Grants Pass.

AND DILLING REFUSED TO BE WORKED

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.] Seattle, Wash., April 23.—Politics got to working in behalf of Fire Chief John H. Boyle, who was discharged at noon yesterday, because he refused to resign. Boyle's attorney proposed to Mayor Dilling that if Boyle was retained Hiram Gill, who claims still to be mayor, owing to alleged frauds in the recall election,
