SIX PRISONERS BREAK OUT OF CHEHALIS JAIL

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Chehalis, Wash., April 25.—Six prisoners made a successful break for liberty from the Lewis county jail shortly before midnight. The prisoners were led by Frank Parmenter, charged with forgery, who, with a piece of metal taken from the wall, which held the water pipes, smashed the jail locks, liberating five other men. They then escaped through a hole which they had burrowed through the wall.

Jack Bandowski, under indictment for assault, was recaptured. He visited a local saloon and got drunk. Those still at large are Frank Parmenter, accused of burglary, who was recently captured at Spokane; Cha. Taylor, accused of burglary; W. P. Mitchell and J. A. Thomas, both charged with grand larceny.

FICCA JUST AN AVERAGE DETECTIVE

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Spokane, April 25.—Charged with falsifying several hundred names while he was employed as a census enumerator, Detective Nick Ficca, was arrested in the police station on a bench warrant issued by Judge F. H. Rudkin. Ficca's arrest results from the testimony before the grand jury of Special Agent Newton, who was employed in checking over the returns adopted by census enumerators in Spokane. There are five counts to the indictment under which Ficca is held. One of the counts charges that Ficca padded a census report with 1699 names.

MEXICANS DAILY IN THE LAP OF PEACE

ARE TOO BLAMED SLOW TO MEET AND TO INFERNAL LAZY TO DISCUSS THE TERMS OF PEACE WHEN THEY DO.

El Paso, Tex., April 25.—As it was in the "war," it seems to be "manana" in the peace negotiations between Madero and the Diaz government. With nothing to do but wait, Madero is filling in the time at his camp across the line today, expecting in a languid way that commissioners to negotiate terms will soon be announced from Mexico City. So far there is nothing doing. May be tomorrow.

It is generally believed here that the representatives of Diaz and Madero will meet—when they do meet—in El Paso. It is said today the Maderist force here and in Juarez that it may be two weeks before the peace palavers end an agreement is reached.

Rice Growing in Oregon

Twenty of the hardest varieties of rice, selected from 275 being tried out by the government experts at Red Bluff, California, are to be given a thorough test at the agricultural college at Corvallis. There is this possibility that another may be added to Oregon's productions, and that one of the most valuable. It is only about eight years since rice culture was developed in Texas, but a few seasons showed its possibilities. The irrigated bottom lands of the Willamette valley will probably suit this water-loving crop.
