MADE FINE SELECTION OF JEWELS

FAULTLESSLY DRESSED MEN RIDE UP TO JEWELRY STORE IN CHICAGO, HOLD UP THE PLACE AND ESCAPE WITH $80,000 WORTH OF GEMS.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Chicago, April 26.—Four men in an automobile this afternoon drove up to the jewelry store of Edward Alberti & Son, held up the clerks with revolvers and escaped with jewels valued at from $25,000 to $50,000. As the automobile drew up at the store Alberti and his son were examining a sample case containing rare stones which Emil Strauss, a salesman, was exhibiting. Three men stepped from the machine and entered the store, a fourth remaining in the automobile. As Alberti started forward to wait on the trio, one of the men drew a revolver and backed Alberti, his son and Strauss into the rear of the store. He threatened to shoot at the first outcry. At the same time the two other robbers were busy helping themselves to two large cases filled with diamonds. In addition to these they stole Strauss' samples, stuffed their pockets with gold watches, rifled the cash register of $3,000, and backed from the store.

Strauss was a member of the firm of Strauss and Strauss, jewelers of Jersey City, N. J. He had been exhibiting a case of rare stones only a few moments before the thieves entered. Strauss estimates his loss at $10,000, while the Albertis lost jewels worth $15,000.

As the automobile was turning a corner Alberti's son rushed to the front door and got the number of the machine.

Late this afternoon the automobile was found miles away from the scene of the robbery. It had been stolen last night from a chauffeur in the employ of a local automobile company.

The robbers were unmasked and were faultlessly attired.

WAS ABLE TO CONTROL ALL WOMEN

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Oakland, Cal., April 26.—That he was able to subjugate any woman in Oakland and force her to do his will, was the statement attributed to the witness stand today by Dr. A. E. Byron, who was stabbed by Charles Patrick a few weeks ago, after a quarrel with the latter over his daughter, Frances Patrick.

The physician's alleged statement came out today in the testimony of Detective McSorley, in the preliminary examination of Patrick. The officer stated that before the assault Patrick tried to get the police to break up the alliance, and reported that Byron held the girl under the influence of either drugs or hypnosis. When asked to leave the girl alone, according to Patrick, the doctor boasted over the telephone to the girl's mother that he was able to subjugate any woman in the city.

The case was continued until tomorrow. Byron, who is married, had lived with Miss Patrick for several weeks before the stabbing. The father tried to persuade the doctor to stop this, and, failing, stabbed him. Byron for several days was close to death.

MAY TRY TO RECOVER MORE LAND

SUITS TO BE BROUGHT TO FORFEIT UNION PACIFIC AND NORTHERN PACIFIC LAND GRANTS FOR FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH TERMS.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Washington, April 26.—Encouraged by the recent decision of Judge Wolverton, in Portland, Oregon, whereby the United States government recovered from the Southern Pacific more than 2,400,000 acres of lands because the road had failed to sell to actual settlers, the department of the interior will soon start similar suits to recover lands worth $100,000,000 in Washington, Nevada and Wyoming from the Union Pacific.

It is charged that the Union Pacific, like the Southern Pacific, violated the terms of the federal grant by refusing to sell to actual settlers at $2.50 per acre. The Northern Pacific also will be sued on the same grounds to recover thousands of acres in the state of Washington.

One serious obstacle to the government's success against the Union Pacific is that, after receiving the grant, that company changed its corporate title from the Union Pacific Railroad company to the Union Pacific "Railway" company. This difference in a word, it is said, may bar the government's effort to recover the Union Pacific lands.

THE WOMAN TEMPORARILY DERANGED

MRS. JOHN POHE, AN AGED GERMAN WOMAN, FOUND WANDERING IN A HALF FAMISHED CONDITION NEAR DONALD, IS BROUGHT TO SALEM HOSPITAL

Upon the orders of County Judge Bushey, Mrs. John Pohe, an aged German woman, who was found wandering about near Donald, in a famished condition, was brought to the Salem hospital last evening, where she is now under the care of physicians.

She had evidently been wandering about for several days in the woods, as her clothing was torn and her person bruised. Besides being famished, her mind seemed temporarily unbalanced, and when discovered she was unable to give any satisfactory story as to herself.

She finally rallied under the treatment, and told that she and her husband used to live at Portland, but recently moved to Donald. The husband died a short time ago, and it is presumed that worry over his death caused her mind to become temporarily deranged, and that she fled to the open country and took up a wandering existence.

The attending physicians express the opinion that it will be only a matter of time until she will recover both her physical and mental condition.

Not Startling Style, But Simple Elegance

That's what every young man or the man that feels young will find in our "College Chap" Suits.

There is more in the careful selection of a good style suit than there is in any one thing, except quality. Naturally QUALITY must furnish the basis or style cannot show up to advantage.

Don't think because we say they are not startling in style that they are not "lively." A little "red blood" is permissible, and here is just the kind of liveliness in these suits that is admired and adopted by tasteful men

Low crown derbies and tan-gray tees are the unquestionable style leaders in spring hats—and of course you want nothing else $1.95 and $2.25.

Not flashy, but pleasingly modest are the pretty patterns of our men's shirts. Golf or soft collars—a full sized "Man's Shirt" for $1.15

Tan Oxfords or a pair of patent leathers make an excellent foundation for a pleasing style effect of your summer suit.

FIGHTS FOR POSSESSION OF CHILDREN

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Oakland, Cal., April 26.—Succeeding a sensational gun play of yesterday afternoon with a dramatic and pathetic court enactment today, Mrs. Elizabeth Jennison, fighting for possession of her 13-year-old daughter, Alice, is using every artifice against her divorced husband who is alleged to have kidnaped the girl and placed her in a convent here.

Mrs. Jennison one of her attorneys and a trained nurse crossed from San Francisco today to attend the hearing on a writ of habeas corpus she obtained. From the time they left her San Francisco apartments until a taxicab whisked them away from the court house, Mrs. Jennison was on the verge of nervous prostration. Once she fainted and was revived with difficulty by the nurse and court attaches.

Frank E. Jennison, the wealthy husband, who is resisting her efforts to regain the children and who was threatened with arrest in the convent grounds yesterday, was in court.

After preliminary motions by the attorneys the case was put over until May 9.

PROGRESSIVES TURNED DOWN BY REGULARS

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Washington, April 26.—At the senate Republican caucus this afternoon the regulars were in complete control, and adopted their committee slate in full. Senator Cummins' motion to amend the report was lost 11 to 33. It provided for the addition of Senator LaFollette to the interstate commerce committee, motion to put Senator Bristow on the finance committee was defeated, 12 to 31.

The progressives reserved the right to take such action as they saw fit.

This, it is believed, will take the form of a fight on the floor of the senate tomorrow.

DARROW NOT TO TAKE CASE.

The plan was formulated at a meeting of women prominent in the local socialist and labor world, held in Labor Temple. The telegram extended the sympathy of the Los Angeles working women and wives of workers to Mrs. McNamara in her trouble and assured her that everything in their power would be done to add to the comfort of her boys until her arrival. Mrs. C. Inez Decker, an officer of the Woman's Socialist organization, said that the homes of Los Angeles women would be thrown open to Mrs. McNamara, should she decide to come.

"We expect her to accept the invitation," said Mrs. Decker. "We intend to do everything in our power to make her feel that she and her sons have many friends here."
