BORN.

SAUVAIN.—At the family residence, Mill and Twenty-second streets Sunday, May 7, 1911, at 11 p. m., to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sauvain—a son.

With a splendid mother, nine older sisters to look after him, and Charley Sauvain for a dad, that youngster can double discount those who came with the proverbial golden spoon in their mouths. Young Charley surely has a down hill pull on the world from the start. When the horse editor went over to congratulate Charley this morning he was trying to file the nicks out of a meat saw, so he could cut a porterhouse steak off the hind-quarter of the chopping block; and absent-mindedly trying to take a kidney out of a side of bacon. And when a customer asked if he had a nice tea bone steak, he just looked up in a dazed sort of way and answered, "No, it's a boy."
