

MAY ROBSON IN REJUVENATION OF AUNT MARY

A FINE ACTRESS, A GREAT COMEDY, AND A STRONG COMPANY, TO BE AT THE GRAND WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22.

The merit of this comedy is in its simplicity and wholesome sweetness, from the mirth-provoking character of "Aunt Mary." Even the phlegmatic Englishman of London crowded Terry's theatre for eight weeks, so great was the success of Miss Robson and her American company.

"Aunt Mary's Rejuvenation" is effected through her nephew, Jack, who is a college boy with astonishing proclivities for trouble, and worrying his aunt, who invariably extracts him from his difficulties. One incident is the beating of a cab man, which turns out expensive, and then a breach-of-promise suit for $15,000 worth of damaged affections, as a climax to the many disagreeable incidents in the career of Jack. Aunt Mary has ceased to be patient; she disinherit her nephew; meanwhile Jack is having a gay time in New York, and has arranged a dinner in honor of the birthday of Betty, his sweetheart. In order to have Aunt Mary at the feast, one of the party telegraphs her that Jack is down sick, in order to hasten her arrival, so a reconciliation can be made between her and Jack. Aunt Mary immediately packs up and takes the first train to New York, and bounces into the house, expecting to find her dear Jack in bed, when she intercepts an expensive dinner. Betty pretends to be the maid, and attaches herself to Aunt Mary, as her personal attendant. The boys are lavish in their attentions, and she swings into place with jolly abandon—even learns to smoke cigarettes and enjoys herself hugely, and when she returns to the seclusion of her home she misses the hum and bustle of the city, and is miserable. She is rich, has vigor and enjoys excitement, why should she cling to the solitude? She sends for Betty and Jack follows. They confess to their love and Aunt Mary is really pleased, not for a day, probably, but all the time, most likely.

Miss Robson is supported by the same company appearing with her in London. She will appear at the Grand opera house on Wednesday, June 21. Prices, $1.50, $1.00, 75c and 50c.

CHIEF CLERK COREY STEPS DOWN AND OUT

RECEIVED THE SAD NEWS OF THE DEATH OF HIS FATHER IN BAKER YESTERDAY, AND GOES TO EASTERN OREGON—WIL NOT RETURN.

Receiving the sad intelligence of the death of his father at Baker, H. C. Corey, chief clerk of the office of secretary of state, departed for that city yesterday, and when he left for the Eastern Oregon town he bid farewell forever to the office, unless it should be that at the next general election fortune should smile upon him and elect him to the office.

Shortly after being appointed secretary of state by Governor West, Ben W. Olcott offered the chief clerkship to Corey. Contending, however, that he had ambitions himself to run for the office at the next general election, and that scores of letters from friends had been received advising him that to remain in the office under Olcott would be disloyal to the Republican party, and also eliminate him from the race, he declined the offer. A few weeks afterwards he changed his attitude, and petitioned Olcott to be permitted to remain, and so did his friends, but the secretary, in the words of Tennyson, sang out, "Too late, too late; ye cannot enter now," but he agreed to let him remain until the fore part of this month. When Corey advised the secretary yesterday that he must go to Baker because of the death of his father, the secretary declared that from now on he could handle the office. Secretary Olcott desires to familiarize himself with the work of the office, and he will probably not appoint a new chief clerk for some time.

FILE PETITION ASKING FOR MILLARD'S RECALL

Voters, dissatisfied with the administration of School Trustee Millard, Saturday evening, at the meeting of the school board, presented to it a petition asking for his recall, and requesting the board to hold a special election for the purpose. As this is the first instance that the recall has been invoked on a school director, and as the law is not altogether clear on the subject as to the number of names required on the petition, and as to their qualifications, the petition was referred to a committee and the attorney for the board for consideration. Should the petition, in their judgment, prove valid a special election will be called by the board.

The petition contains 369 names, and it the signers assert as reason for the recall of Millard that he has declined to grant their request for additional school buildings in the city; refused to act favorably upon their prayers relative to the selection of school sites, and also that he participated in railroading through the election of Principal Kirk, of the high school, without giving those remonstrating against re-election a hearing.

FIVE CALVES IN TWO MONTHS OVER A YEAR

W. T. GOSIER HAS HOLSTEIN-JERSEY COW WITH A RECORD OF FIVE CALVES IN FOURTEEN MONTHS AND ALL LIVING.

For prolific cows, W. T. Gosier, a rancher of Holmes Gap, Oregon, holds the record. Within the last 14 months one Holstein-Jersey of Mr. Gosier's herd has produced five calves, one set of triplets and one pair of twins.

All five youngsters are alive and growing fast. Two of the triplets present such an exact resemblance that it is nearly impossible to tell one from the other, while the third lacks only a white spot on the forehead which the other two possess.

The twins also are very much alike in appearance.

Mr. Gosier is a son-in-law of John Holmes, the owner of considerable land in Polk county north of Rickreall. Mrs. Gosier, his wife, formerly Miss Holmes, of West Salem. In addition to the valuable herd, the Gosiers are raising a fine lot of pedigreed White Leghorn hens.

"It cured me," or "it saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true of the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

EXCURSION TO LEBANON SATURDAY

LARG ENUMBER OF SALEM PEOPLE WILL ATTEND THE STRAWBERRY AND FLOWER SHOW IN THAT LIVE LINN COUNTY TOWN.

Indications are that a large number of people will go to Lebanon Saturday and take in the annual strawberry fair and flower show, which the enterprising people of that city have prepared. Saturday is Salem day, and at the low excursion rates a large attendance is going from here to boost for the Cherry Fair. That is the way to make the city successful—go and help the other town when it undertakes anything. Following is the official program:

Thursday, June 22—Goods Roads Day.

Horse show and stock parade at 10 a. m., sharp, headed by the Lebanon Peerless band.

Speaking at the big tent at 2 p. m. Good music and speeches on "Good Roads" by Judge J. N. Duncan, Dr. A. C. Smith, C. C. Chapman and other good roads speakers.

A fine bedroom set will be given to the first couple offering themselves to the executive committee to be publicly married in the big tent located between Millsap's and Everett, Kyle & Epperly's stores, the marriage to take place at 1:45 p. m.

Friday, June 23—Grange Day.

Grand auto parade at 10 a. m., sharp, headed by the Lebanon Peerless band.

Literary program at 2 p. m. by Crawford Grange in the big tent. Speeches by State Lecturer Johnson and other prominent Grangers.

RELATIVES CONTESTING HIS LAST WILL

Charging that Father Wendt was of unsound mind at the time he made a will giving all of his property to the Benedictine Monastery—that he made it under undue influence, and also indirectly charging that the instrument was forged by some one, the heirs of Wendt have begun a contest in the probate court against the will, and it is being heard today. The hearing commenced Saturday afternoon, and continued until today, and will probably not be concluded until late this afternoon.

Father Wendt came to the monastery about two years ago. He liked the surroundings and the life there, and desired to remain, and on condition that he be given a position, it is alleged, agreed to turn over his property to the monastery. That was a verbal agreement entered into when he arrived, but afterwards he made a will devising the property to a mortgage. Last year his health began to decline, and in the month of November he died. The will was filed, and later a contest initiated by Father Wendt's brother and sister, residing in Wisconsin. They claim that the father was of unsound mind, and did not realize what he was doing, and also give it as their opinion that the will was forged by some one.

The property is valued at $10,000. Attorney Wm. M. Kaiser is appearing for the monastery and Frank Holmes for the Wendt heirs.

MILES WILL BE NEXT SCHOOL DIRECTOR

An election is being held in the city today for the election of a successor to W. P. Babcock, chairman of the school board, and whose term has expired. Babcock was impetuous to make the race for re-election, but declined on the grounds of ill health, and he is now at Brettenbush springs.

While for awhile there were a number of candidates for the place, one by one they have dropped out, until this morning there remained but one in the field—B. J. Miles, of South Salem. There is a possibility that some other may invade the field before the day is over, but Miles is popular and a strong candidate, and it is pretty certain that he will be elected.
