MUTE SCHOOL GRADUATION EXERCISES

Roses in ferns "1911", roses, roses, everywhere, rosy children, friends with bouquets of roses, decorations of roses, roses on every floor, in every room, on every landing—graduates in the month of roses.

With such surroundings the assembly hall was a fitting scene for the Deaf Mute graduation exercises Monday, Supt. Tillinghast presided and State Superintendent Alderman presented the diplomas.

The great work of this school is to teach them a vocabulary. The first year they learn 500 words about what the ordinary child has when it starts into public school. The program was as follows:

Invocation, Rev. H. T. Babcock. "Pocahontas", Susie Sprague, Pearl Marquette, and Lila Hardy. Essay, "What the Deaf Have Done", Charles Lynch. "Whispering Hope", Fay Newth and Margy Kan.

Essay, "Golden Deeds", Fay Newth. "Nearer My God to Thee" (in the sign language, accompanied by music), Mattie McClain, Margy Kan and Lila Hardy.

Presentation of diplomas. Hon. L. R. Alderman, superintendent of public instruction.

Benediction pronounced by Rev. A. Moore, of St. Joseph's.

The three students who enacted Pocahontas were not in the least disturbed by the noisy babies in the audience. About 80 per cent can talk and make noises themselves. One thing they enjoy as much as all other children—flowers. In music they have the sense of rhythm. These two girls who interpreted the songs, showed rare powers of perception and expression. These young people also hear the whispering voices of hope. One graduate, Miss Fay Newth, read an essay. This pupil was too deaf to attend the public school but has learned to vocalize here. It was a herculean effort and those who have full powers of speech, were truly impressed with the necessity of gratitude. She not only made her own voice but also made her own graduating dress.

"Nearer My God to Thee", by three young ladies brought out a full realization of the beauties of thought expressed by graceful movements of the human form to bring out ideas.

Supt. Alderman presented some practical ideas as well as the diplomas. He pointed out that here girls learned which end of a needle to thread, and boys which end of a hammer to strike with.

After the graduation exercises the visitors and parents went to the different class rooms and witnessed the processes of instruction and were very much interested in the methods of instruction. Mr. Tillinghast seems to have surrounded himself with an efficient corps of teachers, both use the lip and sign language, and Mrs. Tillinghast's father and mother were the founders of the work in the state of Washington. There is a beautiful picture done in Washington woods hanging in the reception parlor that was presented to her father by a student and wood worker. During the summer vacation several new buildings will be erected at the mute school and a great many other improvements made. Most of the students will go to their homes and stay with their parents during the summer months.

COMMISSION PLAN.

with a like committee from the Business Men's League and the Board of Trade, if those bodies desire to be represented in the preparation of the commission charter, and that we cordially invite the commercial bodies and business men of the city to unite with the present city government in establishing a more progressive and efficient form of municipal administration for the purpose of securing greater economy and better results in every department of our city affairs, if possible.

GETS A PART OF WHAT SHE DESERVED

Salt Lake City, June 20.—Found guilty by a federal jury of interstate traffic in girls for immoral purposes, May Brown today was sentenced to five and a half years in the Kansas state prison. When sentence was pronounced by Judge Morris, the Brown woman fainted. Physicians were hastily summoned and revived her. As soon as she regained consciousness she went into hysterics, and for an hour screamed steadily until opiates were resorted to. She was sent to the Kansas state prison, because there is no provision for women prisoners at the Leavenworth federal penitentiary.

Conviction was in the specific case of Cora Frohm, who was placed in a resort in Pocatello, Idaho. The girl escaped, and, in spite of threats of death, went to her home and told her mother of her experiences. At her home it was believed she had been with a theatrical company.

Testimony brought out at the trial showed that the Brown woman made a practice of securing employment in department and candy stores and other places where young girls were employed. She formed acquaintances with young girls and then took them to night cafes, and afterwards to her apartments, where she introduced them to men who enticed them into resorts.

SEE CLAIMS TO BE DIVINE

vulnerable offspring. Mothers of this race have had a call from the absolute tongue.
"The mother of the perfect race is here. With my radiance I have clothed her who shall bear a child in token of the fulfillment of my covenant with the people. For my goodness must be brought to earth, my grace known among men."
After the book had been read into the testimony, Attorney Cantwell solemnly warned the newspaper reporters that the books were copyrighted. The court warned the reporters against laughing so loudly.

DO NOT FAIL TO SEE OLD AUNT MARY

AND OBSERVE HOW BEAUTIFULLY MAY ROBSON INTERPRETS AND PRESENTS A MOST LOVABLE CHARACTER.

After an immediate success in London, Miss Robson returns to fulfill her engagement here. The play has had an extraordinary run for over two years—repeating the production several times in the larger cities, and always with success. The play is extremely funny and yet not boisterous, nor filled with hackneyed material.

May Robson is a surprise in this quaint character, her comedy is most winning, and the impersonation is one of the most pleasing to all who appreciate fine acting. Miss Robson's work is the outcome of thoughtful study, so perfectly does she delineate the dear old lady from New England. There are no dull moments during the action of the story, but little pathos—and that only a shade of a memory of lost love—but it is enough—the rest is fun—pure and wholesome fun.

The character impersonated by Miss Robson is a type of a New England woman, a sweet old lady, whose heart goes out in all fullness of love for her wayward nephew, and generous to all whom she likes, and is never so contented as when in the company of young people, she enters into the spirit of their humor and is quite willing to go anywhere. She takes in the theatres and roof gardens, dinners at a fashionable hotel, learns to smoke an occasional cigarette and sip an oyster cocktail. Miss Robson does these things just as a real "Aunt Mary" might have done them, and sinks her identity into the character. There is nothing improbable in the story, nor is there any attempt at coarse humor. It is one of those simple plays that refreshes and never wearies, and certainly no one will ever tire of Miss Robson. She comes to the Grand opera house Wednesday, June 21. Prices, $1.50, $1.75, 50c.

APPOINTED PATROLMAN DEPOT SECTION

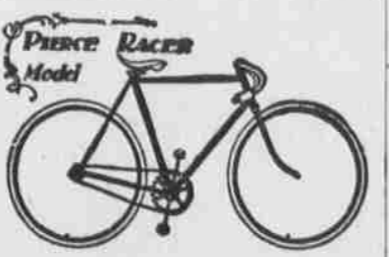

Asserting that the portion of the city lying near the Southern Pacific depot and east of Twelfth street is growing rapidly and that conditions in general are such that a night patrolman is needed to patrol the district residents living in it last evening petitioned the council that one be appointed and the prayer of the petition was granted.

The petition carried the indorsement of Chief of Police Hamilton and both Councilmen Huckstein and Lafky spoke in favor of it. The district, it seems, is infested with tramps and hard characters, and the petitioners represented that not only was protection needed by the business institutions—and there are some 16 of them, but also by the residents. The present force has enough to contend with in the down districts and cannot make the section a question, when calls are made, and then the distance is so great that by the time they arrive upon the scene the criminal will have ample time to escape.

STOPPED THOSE PAINS

Copper Hill, Va.—Mrs. Ida Conner, of this place, says, "For years I had a pain in my right side, and I was very sick with womanly troubles. I tried different doctors but could get no relief. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I took Cardui, and it relieved the pain in my side, and now I feel like a new person. It is a wonderful medicine." Many women are completely worn out and discouraged on account of some womanly trouble. Are you? Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Its record shows that it will help you. Why wait? Try it today. Ask your druggist about it.

Middle Aged and Elderly People Use Foley Kidney Pills for quick and permanent results in all cases of kidney and bladder troubles, and for painful and annoying irregularities. Not Salts, Oil or Pills But 'Cascarets'

No Odds How Sick Your Stomach; How Hard Your Head Aches or How Bilious—Cascarets Make You Feel Great

Cascarets act as a bowel tonic, not as an irritant. They are vegetable. Their action is natural. Their effect is the same as the effect of some foods. They are gentle; no gripping. They are pleasant; no dreading. They are convenient; no waiting. One old way was castor oil; the effect was to grease the bowels, and for a single day. Oil never causes the bowel muscles to act. Other ways were pills, salts and cathartics. The effect was the same as pepper in the nostrils. They flooded the bowels with fluid. Those fluids were digestive juices. And the waste today means a lack tomorrow.

We knew that the method was wrong. That the after-effect only weakened the bowels. But we had no gentle laxative in the old days. So we waited as long as we could, then took a big dose of physic. The method today is to take one Cascaret at a time—just as soon as you need it. Then the bowels are always clean. They cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store.

DANDRUFF CAUSED BY A GERM

A New Discovery That Kills the Germ and Prevents Baldness.

Pretty nearly all the hair preparations for dandruff have some merit in allaying itching of the scalp, and in being a fairly good dressing for the hair, but there is only one that recognizes what causes dandruff, falling hair, and baldness, and that destroys the cause, a little germ—and that is Newbro's Herpicide. This germ eats its way into the scalp, it digs up the scalp into little white scales. Unless it is destroyed there's no permanent stopping of falling hair and cure of dandruff and baldness. Newbro's Herpicide kills the germ. "Destory the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. J. C. Perry.
