MUST HANG FOR MURDER OF JOHNSON

SUPREME COURT DISMISSES APPEAL AND DIRECTS THAT HE BE RESENTENCED TO DEATH BY HANGING—LAWYERS WERE NEGLIGENCE.

Because his lawyers failed to file the transcript in the case with the clerk of the supreme court that tribunal today dismissed the appeal of Jesse P. Webb, convicted of murder in Multnomah county, and directed that he be re-sentenced to death by hanging.

Webb murdered a man by the name of Johnson. According to the testimony adduced in the case, he and Mrs. Carrie Hirsch, who is now serving a sentence for manslaughter at the penitentiary, killed Johnson for his money. Johnson had been paying attentions to Mrs. Hirsch, who was sustaining illicit relations with Webb. After murdering Johnson, Webb packed his remains into a trunk, and endeavored to ship them out of the country.

Other Decisions.

In the case of the State against Dan Hearn, from Multnomah county, a motion for rehearing was denied.

The lower court of Multnomah county was affirmed in the case of Buhl Malleable company against John Cronin, an action to recover money.

The judgment of the circuit court of Douglas county in the case of the Grand Powder company against the Oregon Western Railroad company was reversed, and so was the judgment of the circuit court of Multnomah county in the case of the National Automatic Fire Alarm company against the City of Portland.

INSANE MAN RUNS AMUCK AT ASYLUM

Attendant Phinney, and Charles Helms, a parole patient at the state hospital for the insane, had their faces and arms lacerated with a razor yesterday morning when Peter Dantonio, a mad man at the institution, ran amuck.

Dantonio, it is presumed, secured the weapon with which he did the slashing while working about the yards of the institution. The affair happened just after breakfast. He had been ordered by the attendant to fall in line with the other patients and declined. When he sought to enforce the order the mad man pulled a razor from his pocket and slashed Phinney across the face, cutting a gash in the nose. Helms interfered with the result that he was slashed across the throat and also the cheek and arms. While the wounds are painful, they are not serious. Dantonio several weeks ago attempted suicide and is considered a dangerous patient.

BIG HEARTED S.P. REWARDS A POOR HOBBO

GIVES HIM THE FREE USE OF ITS TRACKS AND RIGHT OF WAY, WITH TRANSFER TO THE CONNECTING LINES—HIS RIGHT TO WALK UNLIMITED.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
For preventing a wreck upon the Southern Pacific line near this city early this morning, Alfred Keets was rewarded by the munificent management of the road by a vote of thanks from the section crew and given the privilege of continuing on foot his journey to Seattle.

Keets was beating his way and occupying a box car. At Jefferson he was discovered by a brakeman and ousted. While journeying on to this city along the track he stumbled and upon making an examination of the track he found that a rail about three and a half feet long had been torn out. He was a bout a mile and a half from the city and hurrying on-ward he managed to advise the depot agent of the condition of the track in time so that it was repaired when the overland train came along at 2 o'clock this morning.

Evidently expecting some reward, the hobbo hung around for awhile and he got in the way of profuse thanks from the section crew and the privilege to walk on the company's tracks from here to Portland and a transfer on other companies' tracks from there to Seattle—his destination.

A WILD WEST HOLD-UP JOB IN CHICAGO

Chicago, July 11.—A sure enough wild west hold-up, resulting in a running gun fight through three miles of streets, threw South Chicago into a panic this afternoon.

Three unmasked men entered the jewelry store of Cole and Young and ordered the five clerks to throw up their hands. One clerk reached for a pistol and the robbers fled to a waiting automobile, covered the driver and ordered him to "cut her loose."

Without the loss of a moment's time the police who were soon on the scene, commanded several other automobiles and took up the chase. One overhauled the fleeing bandits. While one of the robbers covered the driver of the car they had stolen, the others hid down in the tonneau and opened fire on their pursuers who poured volley after volley into the speeding car.

After running a few more blocks the "pirate car" stopped and the three robbers, firing a parting fusillade, took to their heels and escaped.
