Crawfish Specially Cooked—At the Elite Cafe this evening. Olympia Is a Hard Wheat Flour—Olympia. Every sack guaranteed. tu-th-8sa An Amateur Boxer—Bernard Lyman, a former Salem resident, but now of The Dalles, Or., and who has won considerable fame as an amateur pugilist, having won over a dozen battles in Eastern Oregon, is visiting relatives here. For Your Sunday Dinner—Try our broiled chicken at the Elite Cafe. Good Luck Fishing—Ab Magers, with his brother Frank, and Judge J. E. Magers, of Portland, have returned from a fishing trip spent on a branch of the Deschutes river, in the Bend country, in Eastern Oregon. The party report having a splendid time, and in addition to the sport, they caught more than 100 fine trout. The total catch weighs about 150 or 160 pounds, and several of the beauties are on exhibition this morning in Hauser Bros' window, which is proof positive that the story of the good catch is not a "fish" story. Senators Change Line-up—It was learned yesterday that Manager Jerman has secured two new men for his line-up whom he will use for the first time in tomorrow's game with the Woodburn Giants. Leg, a former member of the Albany Colts, and Baker, from the Wisconsin state league, will work with the Salem team tomorrow. Just what positions these men will play is not yet known, and there is some speculation as to what two players they will replace. White, of the Giants, last Sunday, caught the entire Senators' infield napping, and it is possible that at least one of the newcomers will be put in the infield. Jerman is of the opinion that the addition of these players will strengthen his team considerably, and as there are only five more games to be played this season, he is going after Sunday's game with a vengeance, as he still needs two games to get the team back to the top. Big League Game Sunday—The Woodburn Giants and Salem Senators will meet on the Salem league grounds, 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. "Little Jimmy" Richardson, one of the best semi-pro umpires in the country, will officiate. Both teams in fine trim. 7-21-22. Baked and Fried—Chicken at the Elite Cafe for your Sunday dinner.
