

It takes good wheat to make good flour. It takes good material to make a good piano.

It takes an experienced and skillful (Miller) to convert the wheat into flour of the best quality.

It took the experienced and skillful (S. W. Miller) to convert the best quality of material into the superb piano bearing his name. The

S. W. Miller Piano Factory

In one of the few piano factories in existence where the actual construction is under the watchful eye of its founder and president.

S. W. Miller, Himself

being able to build a piano of the highest grade (with his own hands) knows the work is done good enough to be contained in the artistic piano bearing his name. Purchasers of the reliable pay nothing for a name made expensive by fortunes spent in expensive advertising. Nothing for the American tours of foreign pianists with queer sounding names and eccentric actions, nothing for the many deep laid plots to give fictitious values to cheaply made pianos, but the purchaser of an S. W. Miller Piano does pay for an honestly and intelligently constructed piano and he does get a dollar's worth of piano for a dollar. Let good common sense guide you to the store of Geo. C. Will and your search for an ideal home piano will end with your seeing and hearing the magnificent S. W. Miller Piano.

We are factory distributors from maker to user at the store of

GOVERNOR EXAMINES HILL ROAD

NOT THE JIM HILL RAILROAD, BUT WAGON ROADS BUILT BY SAM HILL, WHO IS THE WASHINGTON BOSS ROAD BUILDER

During his visit to the Astoria Centennial Exposition, and from which he returned Sunday evening, Governor West availed himself of an invitation by Sam Hill, the famous road builder, to view the stretch of road built by him from his noted farm to Lyle, and also other roads constructed in Washington, but upon which work has been abandoned now because the Washington legislature passed a law at its last session providing that all convier labor should hereafter be used in the jute mills at Walla Walla.

The governor expressed himself as decidedly pleased with the roads examined. He was given an opportunity to examine roads built under the supervision of Hill, and two of his engineers, S. C. Lancaster and Henry L. Bolby, and those built by others than trained engineers, and the difference was apparent at a glance. The former was not only superior in workmanship, but everywhere gave evidence of the saving of money in their construction, while the latter were inferior, and in many instances, for the lack of engineering skill, money was wasted.

The others composing the party were ex-Mayor Rodgers, C. T. Prall, of Portland; Dr. Reddy, of Medford, and Fred Nau, of Seattle.

COMPLAIN OF THE BINDING OF LORD'S CODE

With a view of having the bindery at Eugene which bound Lord's Oregon code replace a set sent to S. W. Stark, of Hood River, and which because of the defective binding is falling to pieces, Secretary of State Olcott has taken the subject up with the firm.

Stark wrote a very sarcastic letter to the secretary of state and sought to blame the bad workmanship on the office of the secretary. Secretary Olcott in his letter shows that his office had nothing to do with the compilation of the code or its publication but that under the law the supreme court appointed a commission to do the work, and that all the office of secretary of state had to do with the subject was to send volumes out whenever a request accompanied by the required remittance was made for them.

A PROBLEM FOR THE EXPERTS IN NOMENCLATURE

What is the origin of the name Dog Lake and Thora Lake, Douglas county and Methow river is what Frank F. Kormann, of Baltimore, Md., desires to know, and, evidently looking upon Secretary of State Olcott as a walking encyclopedia, he has written him for information.

He qualifies his request with the condition that he would like the information if to give it is consistent with the rules of the office. Now, it is entirely consistent with the rules for the secretary had not passed far enough in the future to formulate any rules yet on the subject, but there is another barrier in the way, and that is that the secretary does not know how those names originated, and he has no time to unfold the leaves of some history or delve into Indian legends to ascertain it, and he has advised this searcher for information to consult the historians of the Oregon Historical society.

X-RAYS AND SMILES.

The Oregon militia Monday captured Fort Stevens without the loss of a man. As the county court house is unfortified, the horse editor suggests to District Attorney McNary to either surrender Brodine, or take to the woods.

The postal savings bank is another little feature that makes the wise Socialist wink the other eye.

Hops are climbing regardless of the poles. They are also jumping, jumping and skipping.

Portland will probably get through purifying herself by raids and otherwise, when she gets the garbage crematory going.

Lafferty has succeeded in getting an abundance of advertising without putting up a cent. If all those just as foolish as Mr. Lafferty, where women are concerned, vote as they act, he will have the biggest majority an Oregon congressman ever had.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

This remedy is sold under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. This preparation is offered at low prices. Fresh fish, clams, crabs and oysters, with abundance of vegetables of all kinds daily.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS TONIGHT

"One swallow does not make a summer, neither does one comedian make a minstrel show. Managers of the old school used to contend that one real actor and 15 or 16 'stickers' and a band of 10 pieces (it was often eight) was sufficient for a minstrel show. History proves the truth of their contention; for the public did accept such organizations; whether or not the public were satisfied is a question open to argument.

But there have been vast changes in the last few years. The day of the one-man show is over. The public demand a company of uniform excellence.

Mistakes are to the wise man but stepping stones to success. The management of Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels were the first to realize that if minstrelsy were to thrive and flourish radical and important changes were necessary. Such changes called for the outlay of a considerable fortune, but time and results have testified to the truth of their conviction. This company stands today the acknowledged leader in this branch of the amusement business, and no well-informed student of the stage will challenge this statement. They travel in their own palace cars and number 40 people. Twelve comedians of real reputation vie with each other in the fun making. There are 20 trained singers, a double sextette of nimble dancers, seven big vaudeville acts and a band of 25 pieces, that is the best ever. The date of this company's appearance at Grand Opera House, is Tuesday, August 15. Prices, $1.00, 75c, 50c and 25c.

Prunes are selling at 6 1/2 cents—the best price for some years. Captain Anderson C. Smith, a pioneer of Enterprise, Oregon, died at his home there last week. He located in Cove in 1862 and had resided in that section ever since. An auto traveling 70 miles an hour down a grade in the Blue mountains near Elgin, Monday, jumped the grade and the four occupants were all so seriously injured, they may die. The boys at Springfield will have a chance to earn a few dollars picking up cones. Uncle Sam wants the seed to reforest burned over sections. Klamath county school property is valued at $229,676.
