

THE COUNTY EXHIBITS TO BE NUMEROUS

FIFTIETH STATE FAIR GIVES PROMISE OF FAR EXCELLING ANY EVER HELD—MANY COUNTIES WILL MAKE EXHIBITS.

With no less than 12 counties contributing exhibits to the state fair—the largest number in its history—with the exhibits in general finer and greater in number than ever before and the prizes offered costlier and more handsome and the interest in the fair by the people of the whole state as well as the city of Salem keener than ever before, the fiftieth state fair promises to go down into history as the greatest and best of them all.

Other Features.

An interesting feature will be Pioneer Day, Monday. Judge P. H. Darcy is in charge of the work of preparing the entertainment for that day, and the Salem Board of Trade and the Business Men's League are lending him their co-operation.

Saw the First Fair.

A special effort is being brought to bear to bring together the pioneers on the day and it is expected that there will be a number present who will have a distinct recollection of the first fair held in the state.

Making Improvements.

Many improvements have been made and others are still being made and will be completed by the opening day of the fair. El-Oso pavement had been laid from the Southern Pacific depot to the main entrance of the fair grounds.

Darkness Didn't Help.

Bacon—I see a London lecturer declares that music, to be heard in perfection, should be heard in absolute darkness.

RECOMMEND A SITE FOR NEW SCHOOL

After considering and weighing the advantages of several sites for an additional school building, the committee on public buildings Saturday evening at the meeting of the school board, recommended the purchase of block 11 in Richmond addition.

This site is more centrally located for this section of the city than any of the other sites available, and will also be of better service in the years to come. H. A. Johnson & Company has placed it on the market at $8,500 and the board authorized the committee to purchase it at $7,000.

The same committee recommended the purchase of an athletic field—the grounds where the circus was held this summer and which is located between B street and Parrish addition. The tract is 450 by 500 feet and will make a fine field. The owner asks $6,500 for it and the board voted to offer $6,000.

Find Poison in Milk.

It is hard to believe that anyone in this peace loving community would be so low, so mean, so cowardly, so wicked, so inhuman, so fendish, as to plan the destruction of a family in this way. NOVEMBER 30 DESIGNATED AS THANKSGIVING DAY

Washington, D. C.—President Taft will designate Thursday, November 30, as Thanksgiving Day, despite the request of bankers that the president name Thursday, November 23.

It has always been the custom to designate the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day, and Mr. Taft will adhere to that custom. The bankers wanted November 23 selected declaring that the making of November 30 a legal holiday would seriously interfere with their work.

There was some doubt as to what Thursday in November would be selected this year, as the month contains five Thursdays. The white house has been besieged by theatrical managers and those in charge of college football games to settle this doubt, so that definite arrangements can be made for the array of special performances and sports that mark the day.

Play Without a Star.

"The Chorus Lady" which had been secured by her manager, Ernest Shipman, as a vehicle for Helen Barham for the coming season, is at present without a lead.

Miss Barham has received word from her London solicitors that she is to appear in person at the final hearing in the court of chancery in connection with her legacy. The court decrees that Miss Barham must appear in person, accompanied by her parents or guardian for absolute identification. Consequently she will sail for London in September accompanied by her mother.

The fact that Miss Barham will return early in December, if not sooner, with a bank roll of considerable proportions, will serve to remove her sting of disappointment in having to forego her tour in "The Chorus Lady", but Ernest Shipman has to launch his managerial drag-net once more to find a suitable woman to play the role made famous by Rose Stahl.

PROPERTY OWNERS WANT THE SOIL

Incensed at the city government for its action in appropriating the dirt taken from their premises in making street improvement and making use of it anywhere it may be needed in the city, several property owners are considering the advisability of availing themselves of the law as set out in a recent decision by Justice McBride of the supreme court, and file suits in the circuit court to restrain the city from appropriating dirt to which under the law it has not a shadow of title.

According to the decision of Justice McBride in a case from Clackamas county, unless the dirt taken from a property owner's premises is not needed for filling purposes on the street on which the property is located, the dirt belongs to the property owner and the city cannot legally take it and use it for filling or any other purpose in any other portion of the city. Last year the city would take loads of dirt which it had excavated in making street improvements and make whatever disposition it desired with it, contending that the property owner had no right to it. The same policy is now being followed and property owners are becoming tired of it and are consulting lawyers relative to bringing injunction suits against the city to stop the practice.

TESTED AND PROVEN

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Salem readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit.

C. W. Hill, 1317 S. Commercial St., Salem, Oregon, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are by no means a new remedy to me, as I have used them off and on for years. I have always enjoyed fairly good health and about the only thing that has made me miserable has been kidney complaint, and backache. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Dr. Stone's drug store and their use entirely cured me. I am a firm believer in the merit of this remedy and am pleased to recommend it whenever an opportunity occurs."

The above statement was given Jan. 31, 1906 and was confirmed on Nov. 22, 1909 by Mr. Hill. He said: "Since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney and bladder complaint, I have had no return attack."

Riveter Is a Hero.

Chicago.—Pat Eustice swayed on the edge of an elevator shaft on the twentieth floor of the Heisen building, this city.

Jack Murray, hammering rivets on the nineteenth floor, "looked out." He saw Eustice jerkily struggling to regain his lost equilibrium. He watched him slowly topple over and then crash toward the earth. Here is where the miracle comes in.

Jack threw a leg and an arm around a projecting pillar and hung far out under the falling man. As the body of Eustice came zipping by Murray picked him out of mid-air and landed him safely on the eighteenth floor.

Murray did not actually catch the falling man. But his strength was sufficient to deflect the course of Eustice's fall sufficiently to bring him over two beams. Eustice hit the beams, slid half way off, stopped, lay still for two minutes and then got up.

For the information of those desirous of knowing what rescued persons say to heroes it might be chronicled that Eustice reached in his hip pocket, pulled out his plug, tendered it to Murray and said:

"You're a heller."

Watch Your Kidneys.

Their action controls your health. Read what Foley Kidney Pills Have done for your neighbor. Mrs. W. H. Allen, Quincy, Ill., says: "About a year ago my kidneys began bothering me. I had a swelling in my ankles and limbs, then headaches and nervous, dizzy spells, and later severe backaches. The doctors pronounced it serious kidney trouble, and I was steadily getting worse when I began taking Foley's Kidney Pills. Shortly after, the swellings went down and my pains began leaving me. I kept on taking them until I was once more freed of all kidney trouble and suffering. I have a great deal to thank Foley Kidney Pills for, and shall always recommend them. Red Cross Pharmacy (H. GRAND FALL OPENING

Beginning Monday and Lasting 10 Days I Shall Hold My 3d Annual Fall Opening

Never before have the people of Salem and vicinity, had such a complete, new and up-to-the-minute stock of woollens offered for their inspection. My assortment consists of over 200 suit patterns, no two alike. These I bought direct from New York's Woolen Merchants and embody the very latest in Blue Cheviots, Blue Serges, Blue Greys, Browns, in Tweed Mixtures—with an assortment of combination colors, as well as a Greys and Blacks.

This Tailor Store is recognized as the leading Tailoring Establishment in the Willamette valley and no better suits for ladies and gentlemen are produced anywhere. I am a subscriber to all the leading journals that pertain to the tailoring business, and when a new design comes out I have it just as quick as any one. I am a graduate of the best cutting school in the United States, and every suit will be cut and fit by me, and as many fittings given as are needed to secure a perfect fit. Again in the past years I have brought 4 first-class tailors from the East to work and live in Salem. No better workmen than these are to be had anywhere at any price, and all because I believe that the best is none too good for you. All this started but two years ago, and now I do the bulk of the tailoring done in Salem, and all because I am not content with doing things by halves.

I guarantee every suit made by me to be made strictly all-wool—that it is tailored in the best style, that the trimmings and linings are of a better grade than used by any Portland tailor at the same price, and that I will replace any that prove unsatisfactory. Further, that my men are better paid than any tailors in the Capital City, and as well as anywhere. And I do not send my work East to be made in sweat shops as others do and call them TAILOR-MADE.
