

W.M. KAISER GOES OVER THE DIVIDE

A GOOD MAN AND SPLENDID CITIZEN PASSES AWAY AFTER A FEW WEEKS' ILLNESS—BORN NEAR SALEM AND LIFE SPENT HERE.

While it was known by his intimate friends that W. M. Kaiser was seriously ill, the announcement this morning of his death came as a shock.

It is hard to realize that his sturdy form and smiling face will be seen no more among us. His cheerful voice and genial greetings no more be heard of men—that his eyes are closed, his lips sealed, and the big, generous heart forever stilled. Yet, this is so. But a few days, and the earth will open to receive him back into her bosom, and but a little mound will mark his resting place, but his memory will be green as the grass that will grow above him, among his old friends, until they, too, shall go to make their bed with him.

His was a big, generous heart, and his a liberal hand. He lived uprightly and cleanly, dealt justly, and had a deep and tender sympathy for those in distress and a broad and generous charity for the shortcomings of others.

Well may the angel write his name within his book, at least next to that of Abou Ben Adam, whose name led all the rest because he loved his fellow man.

William M. Kaiser was born near Salem, February 10, 1853, his parents being P. Cicero and Sarah Kaiser, sturdy pioneers. He attended the city public schools, and in 1874 graduated from the Willamette University, and from that time until 1882 taught school while studying law. He was admitted to the bar in 1881 and early in 1882 formed a partnership with Tilmon Ford which only terminated with Mr. Ford's death in 1908. Soon after Mr. Ford's death, he formed the partnership of Kaiser, Slater & Pogue.

November 27, 1890, he married Miss Angie Ryan, who survives him as do three sons, Joe, Leo and Will, and one daughter, Angie Kaiser. His mother, two brothers, George H., of Portland, and Gus Kaiser, of Salem, and one sister, Mrs. E. Eckert, of this city, survive him. Besides these near ones, he leaves many relatives and a host of friends numbered only by those who have come in contact with him.

The funeral will be held from the Catholic church at 9:30 Wednesday morning. Father Moore will conduct high mass, and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

REMOVING POLES.

forest of poles, and thereby add further to the beauty of the city which you so admire?" sarcastically asked the mayor, after Mr. Hild had concluded.

"They stand 60 and 70 feet high, and they are an eyesore. I do not want to be understood as being opposed to cluster lights, for I am favorable to them, but, while your company is here conducting a campaign of beautification, why not get rid of the poles around Wilson avenue; the lights would look so much better with them gone."

Mr. Hild stated that, "in the absence of precise information," just as to how the poles were involved, and just where they were located, and a lot more, that he was unable to give an answer whether they could be removed or not.

The resolution, upon being put to a vote, was passed, and then the council went into a consideration of the ordinance.

Lafky Blocks Ordinance.

The ordinance provides that the posts shall be set five feet from the property line, as it is the belief of the company that under these conditions they will provide a better light. It went through the first and second reading, but when it came to the third, and unanimous consent was required for its final passage, Councilman Lafky voted no, and arose to explain his vote.

"You have voted and you cannot now explain your vote," declared the mayor, who plainly showed he was vexed with the vote of the councilman. "Next time you want to explain your vote, explain first and then vote."

Lafky was at once surrounded by councilmen, and finally consented to a reconsideration of the ordinance, so that he might offer an amendment to the effect that the posts be placed on the property line. Instead of five feet back, as he maintained that this latter plan would cause secondary shadows to appear, and the lights would not be as good for the street as they would be if the posts were placed on the property line.

The amendment failed, and again unanimous consent was asked to pass the ordinance, and again Lafky balked.

Incensed at his conduct, the mayor told him his conduct was "frivolous," and referred the ordinance to the consideration of the sewer committee, instead of the ordinance committee.

BOOSTING CLUSTER LIGHTS.

150, Woodburn a goodly number, Pendleton 50, Medford is establishing 75. The Dalles is blessed with a number and Hood River is letting the contract to cover its principal streets. Now if these places have cluster lights and believe that it is a good business proposition, it strikes me that as a citizen of the state, it is Salem's duty to come to the front. Over in Washington state all of the principal towns have cluster lights; Yakima recently established a long list of them through a boulevard in the town and when the day came for installing them, the mayor had the band and the city council out to make the day one of celebration. Walla Walla has 140 cluster lights, Vancouver, Wash., 50; Aberdeen 100, Eugene 75, Pasco and a few other towns have them. It is time for Salem to come into the game and make itself the best inland city in the state and for that matter on the coast. It has the opportunity and cluster lights will help push it along. The cost is not a large one."

General Manager Hild, of the Portland Railway Light and Power company, left on the morning train for Portland but before he departed, he expressed his hope that the city would be lighted up in time for the state fair. "All that is necessary for Salem," said he, "to do, is to sign for the establishment of the posts. I am sure we will find a way to rush the work and have the major portion of them established and lighted in time for the opening of the State Fair."

Mayor Lachmund stated last night that the city was in need of cluster lights and he hoped to see the town a blaze of light before the state fair opened. He is a member of the committee having in charge the work of soliciting signers for the putting in of the lights. Secretary Hofer, of the board of trade, stated: "We need the lights to set off the town when the State Fair opens, and it would be a good business proposition to do so. There will be hundreds of people come down from the city of Portland during the fair week and if we expect to gain their appreciation of our town and location, it seems to me that it would be a first class business move to have the lights in so that the city would look like other progressive towns upon the coast."

The committee named by the board of trade is composed of the following:

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent J. C. Perry, Druggist, Salem, Oregon.

HE INSISTED ON REPORT ON ORDINANCE

Convinced that two weeks is ample time for the ordinance committee to decide whether it desires to recommend or not recommend an ordinance granting the Southern Pacific a franchise for a spur from its main spur to the bottling plant of the Salem Brewing association, and which is for the accommodation of the institution conducted by that concern, Councilman Hückestein last evening made a motion directing the chairman, Councilman Lafky, to report the ordinance back to the consideration of the council by its next meeting.

Wanted to Compel Him.
Loathe to put the motion but rather desiring to give Councilman Lafky an opportunity to present the ordinance without a demand by the council, Mayor Lachmund asked him if he would bring it by the next meeting, and the unsatisfactory reply was "I think so."
"I make a motion that he be compelled to bring it in," shouted Councilman Durbin, but the motion did not receive a second.
Councilman Hückestein's motion was then put and unanimously carried.

Hay Fever and Summer Colds.
Must be relieved quickly, and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will do it. E. M. Stewart, 1034 Wolfram street, Chicago, writes: "I have been greatly troubled during the hot summer months with hay fever and find that by using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound I get great relief." Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is effective for coughs and colds in either children or grown persons. No opiates, no harmful drugs. In a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Red Cross Pharmacy (H. Jerman).

TELEPHONE DEPOSITS --WHY?

For some time the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company has required new subscribers to deposit the sum of five dollars upon the signing of a contract for telephone service.

The installation of a telephone for a period of less than one year means financial loss to a telephone company. The expense of connecting and disconnecting, added to the cost of maintenance and operation during such a period ordinarily exceeds the amount of a yearly rental.

Telephone rates are based on annual rentals. Many telephone users, for various causes, discontinue service before the expiration of their contracts, and frequently, in addition, their accounts become uncollectable. This means a direct and definite loss to the company, and, as an expense of operation, has naturally to be borne by its other patrons.

Expensive experience has demonstrated the necessity of requiring deposits, and courts and commissions have held the practice to be reasonable and justifiable.

With the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company this deposit is returned at the end of one year, without application therefor by the subscriber, and with interest thereon at the rate of six (6) per cent per annum. This procedure of returning the deposit with interest has been followed and will be continued without regard to municipal action. Lack of receipt will not prevent the subscriber from receiving refund.

Individuals, firms and others corporations with labor or commodities to sell can extend or refuse credit in their discretion. A public service corporation is without this power.

A deposit is a guaranty that the subscriber will pay a telephone rate, the basis of which is an annual contract. It is a just and necessary protection to the company and patrons who comply with their contracts.
