AUTOS AND THEIR LIGHTS.

It will be well for automobile owners and drivers to be a little more particular as to the time they light the lamps on their machines.

It has been particularly noticeable lately that lamps are not being lighted until long after the street lights are turned on. This practice by drivers will eventually lead to an accident. A word of warning now may save a life in the future.

A SUGGESTION FOR FIRE PROTECTION.

Following is a suggestion to the Southern Pacific company, which, if practical, would be of great benefit to the city of Salem, as well as to the railroad company.

We have been informed that it is the custom of the S. P. Co. to fit up a fire fighting apparatus of its own in towns where they have a great deal of freight business, and a switch engine stationed permanently.

To do this the company takes one of its old condemned oil-tank cars, fills it with water, and keeps it on one of its sidings where an engine can be quickly hooked on in case of fire.

A pump is attached to the switch engine, and this will throw a stream under almost 145 pounds pressure.

It is said that such an arrangement will throw two streams from one of these cars for an hour and ten minutes before exhausting the tank.

As an illustration of the use of one of these cars, take a fire in the Spaulding Lumber company's yards.

The local switch engine, which always has steam up, could be shot in there with its equipment, and in all probability have water on the plant before other help could arrive.

The loss of freight saved the company by preventing one such fire as this would probably more than repay them for their trouble and expense.

If such an arrangement as this could be brought about, the manufacturing and wholesale interests of Salem, as well as Salem in general, would be deeply indebted to the S. P.

It might be added that, had this plan been in operation when the fire which destroyed the factory buildings near the depot this week, broke out, the result might have been different.

At the same time, there is much property that could thus be protected, and property that furnishes the S. P. much freight.

The cannery is one, the brewery another, and, besides this, the risk on their own properties would justify the keeping of the water car here, and the supplying the switch engine with a pump.

It might be well for the council to take this matter up with the company—for it will cost nothing, if it does not materialize—and, better yet, will cost nothing if it does.

IT'S LEAGUE BASEBALL TOMORROW

FIRST OF THE THREE GAMES TO DECIDE THE CHAMPIONSHIP WILL BE PULLED OFF WITH TWO UNKNOWN BIG ONES PITCHING.

The first of the three-game series, which is necessary in order to decide the Valley League championship, will be played tomorrow on the Salem League grounds. Last Sunday the Senators tied the Woodburn team for the bunting, and three extra games will now be played by Woodburn and Salem in order to decide 1911 championship.

Manager Jerman intimates that he will bring a big surprise on the fans tomorrow by ringing in a big league southpaw. Who the man is who will relieve Allegaert, on the mound Jerman will not give out for publication, but it is hinted about town that the "surprise" is one of the "big bugs," who draws a fat salary in one of the biggest leagues in the country. Not to be outdone by the Salem boss, Manager John Hunt, of the Giants, announces that he will use Kissler to pitch tomorrow's game. Kissler formerly was on the pitching staff of the San Francisco Coast League team, and comes here with a good reputation as a heater.

Jones will attempt to "hold" Jerman's big leaguer tomorrow, and the red checked hustler will be given an opportunity to show his ability in holding down a real speedy twirler. Baker probably will cover first base. Colbath, the crack first baseman of the Senators, has resigned, and it will take a mighty good man to duplicate his work at the initial sack. Now that the regular schedule of games in the Valley League has been finished, it is interesting to note "who is who" in the Salem nine, and who has borne the brunt of the battle this year in the team, which has tied the slugging Giants for this season's championship honors.

Arch Jerman, manager of the Senators, and the man who piloted the Salem team to victory last year, leads the batting list this year with an average of .483. Jerman, who is a left-handed batter, has secured 13 hits out of 29 times at bat. Porterfield, the wide-awake second baseman, comes second with an average of .333, having pulled 21 hits out of 63 times at bat. Allegaert, the crack twirler, is third in line, with an average of .327, having landed on the ball 18 times out of 55 times up. Catcher Jones came fourth, with an average of .292, having swatted the leather 14 times out of 48 times at bat.

Seventeen men have worn the Salem uniform this year, and the regular battery, composed of Allegaert and Jones has plugged along all summer with few errors to their credit. Baker relieved Jones behind the bat several weeks ago, and his work as catcher has been very good, although he has secured only one hit in 14 times at bat in four games. With two big leaguers on the mound and with good support by both teams, tomorrow's game should be on of the star contests of the season.

PAINS ALL OVER.

Houston, Tex.—"For five years," says Mrs. L. Pulenck, of this place, "I suffered with pains all over especially in my back and side, and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. A friend told me of Cardui. Since taking it, I feel so much better! Now I can do all my housework and pains don't bother me any more at all." Cardui is a strength-building medicine. Fifty years of success have produced, amongst its many users, confidence in Cardui and what it will do. During this time, Cardui has relieved the female ailments of over a million women. Why not yours? Try it, today. Your druggist sells it.

The more sense a man has the funnier he is when he falls in love.

Watch Your Kidneys.

Their action controls your health. Read what Foley Kidney Pills have done for your neighbor. Mrs. W. H. Allen, Quincy, Ill., says: "About a year ago my kidneys began bothering me. I had a swelling in my ankles and limbs, then headaches and nervous backaches. The doctors pronounced it serious kidney trouble, and I was steadily getting worse when I began taking Foley's Kidney Pills. Shortly after, the swellings went down and my pains began leaving me. I kept on taking them until I was once more freed of all kidney trouble and suffering. I have a great deal to thank Foley Kidney Pills for, and shall always recommend them. Red Cross Pharmacy (H. Jerman)."
