THE MAN IS A PUZZLE TO THE CHIEF

BESIDES BEING, OR PRETENDING TO BE, DEAF AND DUMB, HE SLINGS FINE STYLE OF SPRING POETRY AT RANDOM.

Can it be determined whether or not a man is deaf and dumb simply because he pretends to be so while begging? Chief of Police Hamilton is puzzling his head over this question this morning in addition to having a jewelry robbery on his hands.

In his campaign against men who persist in begging from house to house despite the present demand for hop pickers and other farm labor, the chief yesterday arrested a man giving the name of Harry Wilson. Wilson is about 35 years of age, appears to be capable of doing a good day's work and is fairly well dressed. He carried a card bearing the printed information that he had been deprived of his voice and hearing faculties by typhoid fever, and that he was endeavoring to raise money enough to reach Berkeley, Cal., where he intends to enter a state institution with the idea of learning the broom making trade.

The man also carries letters stating that he is a former miner. Among a big collection of various small articles which he had in his pockets the chief found a bunch of keys which he thinks are skeleton keys. In one of the man's socks was found another collection of articles, including a small account book in which was entered a memorandum stating that one woman had assured him she would be glad to help him but she had no change in the house at the time. On account of the lack of physician's testimonials showing that the man is deaf and dumb, which Chief Hamilton thinks the man would carry if he were a genuine mute, the chief appears to think the man is working the "dummy act." In other words is a faker. He had 85 cents in his pockets. On a slip of paper found in the big collection, is a "poem," written in a man's handwriting in ink. It bears the title, "Lost, Strayed or Stolen," and reads: "one brown horse, round as a ring 8 years old, 8 in the spring. One eye out, one eye glass. Two white feet, spot on his face. Sides bulged out—caved in. Dan good horse for the fix he's in."

In addition to the petitions presented to the governor for the commutation of the condemned man's sentence to that of life imprisonment, has been supplemented the personal appeals of his wife and daughter. After an interview with them several weeks ago the governor stated nothing had arisen to influence him to extend clemency in the case. Subsequently the wife and daughter had another interview with him, and after it he stated that he was of the same opinion, but that he reserved the right to change his mind should further extenuating circumstances arise.

THE OPEN FORUM

The Capital Journal invites Public Discussion in This Department—Let Both Sides of All Matters Be Fully Brought Out—It is Not the Purpose of This Newspaper to do the Thinking for Its Readers.

Ed. Journal: Whereas the framing up of criminal cases against laboring men have become a habit with private detective agencies, and Whereas, in such cases, the appointment of these detectives or their hirelings, as deputy sheriffs and special police, to brow-beat and intimidate, and to manufacture evidence, is a subversion of civil government, and

Whereas, in all cases where a crime is charged it is essential that the public mind be as free as possible from fear and prejudice, therefore be it Resolved, That we favor, and recommend to the Socialist locals and labor unions of the state an initiative petition putting up to the voters of the state the following measure:

Be it enacted by the people of the state of Oregon:

Section 1. No private detective, or any one acting in the capacity of a private detective, or employ, or agent, or representative, or assistant of any private detective; or member or employee, or agent or representative, or assistant of any private detective agency or association, shall be eligible to police duty in the state, either as police or assistant, nor shall be eligible to serve as sheriff, or deputy sheriff, nor shall be eligible to any authority whatsoever in any capacity to arrest, or detain any person or persons; nor shall any such detective, employ, agent, representative or assistant of any private detective, or private detective agency or association, be eligible to said police or sheriff service within one year after acting as detective, or doing detective work, or having relation thereto as aforesaid.

Section 2. Any violation of this act shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than $1000 nor more than $10,000, and imprisonment not less than two years nor more than ten years.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Bulletin, The Labor Press and the Daily News at Portland. Also Salem papers.

By the Socialist local of Salem, August 27, 1911.

NO HOPE FOR WEBB NOW BUT THE GOVERNOR

After carefully considering the arguments advanced yesterday by the attorneys of Jesse Webb, the Portland trunk murderer, for a certificate of probable cause in his case, the supreme court this afternoon denied the petition, and the only way by which he can escape the hangman's noose now is by clemency from Governor West.

In addition to the petitions presented to the governor for the commutation of the condemned man's sentence to that of life imprisonment, has been supplemented the personal appeals of his wife and daughter. After an interview with them several weeks ago the governor stated nothing had arisen to influence him to extend clemency in the case. Subsequently the wife and daughter had another interview with him, and after it he stated that he was of the same opinion, but that he reserved the right to change his mind should further extenuating circumstances arise.

Webb, together with Mrs. Carrie Kirsch, murdered a man by the name of Johnson in Portland last winter, and after the murder packed the remains in a trunk and attempted to ship them out of the country. Mrs. Kirsch is now serving a sentence for manslaughter in the state prison.

THIS SHOE IS ON THE OTHER FELLOW'S FOOT

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—The Southern Pacific wants shippers at points between here and Portland to pay a higher rate than is collected for the haul to the terminal, in order that it may make up alleged losses through the necessity of meeting water competition to the northern city. A delegation of railroad attorneys, headed by C. W. Durbrow, appeared before the U. S. Interstate Commerce Commissioner Franklin K. Lane in the district court today and presented reasons for requiring the authorization of a higher rate.

An increase of the tariff to intermediate points would not be unfair, Durbrow said, in spite of the fact that in some cases the rate would be higher than for the longer haul to Portland, because the road had to contend with water competition.

William R. Wheeler, of the Merchants' Exchange traffic bureau, was present at the hearing, and will submit the shippers' side of the case.

Detective Displays Bitterness.

Portland, Or., Aug. 30.—Anticipating a possible attack on him by Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, when Gompers speaks here tomorrow night, William J. Burns, head of the Burns detective agency, in an interview here today took a few hot shots at Gompers and his "other enemies."

After declaring that he permitted the publication of a story entitled "The Dynamiters," in a popular magazine because Gompers assailed him for arresting the McNamara brothers, Burns said:

"I have been accused of being an enemy of labor. That is false. When I undertook the investigation of the Times explosion, General Otis and other men, known to be labor's bitterest enemies, opposed me. I made arrests only when I believed I had the goods. It was immaterial to me whether the men arrested were members of labor organizations or were capitalists. I was after the dynamiters."

"Gompers accused me of framing up the evidence a few hours after the McNamaras and McManis were arrested. He pronounced the action an outrage—a crime against labor. At the time he could not have possibly known whether the men were guilty or not—unless he happened to have been one of the dynamiters. His fiery statements are responsible for me granting the interview on which the magazine story is based."

"In the McNamara cases the defense has hired a number of men to purchase evidence. If they are not successful in purchasing satisfactory testimony they threaten to kill. But the prosecution is ready—and waiting."
