

ARIZONA ASYLUM IS DESTROYED

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 5.—The east wing of the Arizona insane asylum was totally destroyed by fire today causing an estimated loss of $50,000. No lives were lost.

The patients, apparently stunned by the conflagration, sat on the surrounding lawns and calmly viewed the progress of the flames, neither offering to help fight the fire or make any move to escape.

Inmates of the violent ward were carried out to safety after they had fought desperately with attendants. It was necessary to place several in straight jackets before they could be carried to places of safety.

Harrison Williams and John Gates, hospital attendants, were overcome while fighting the flames. Both will recover.

Temporary quarters for the insane patients were secured at the Maricopa hospital.

FIFTEEN ROUND FIGHT AT NORTH YAKIMA

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 5.—Abe Label, of San Francisco, and Louis Hahn, of Seattle, fought 15 rounds to a draw before a well filled house at the Yakima theater last night. The bout was held under the auspices of the Golden Gate Athletic club.

Both fighters finished strong, though Label had something the best of the final round and in the opinion of the crowd, would have put out his shifty opponent had the match gone further. Both weighed in at 132½ pounds.

May Yohe to Marry Again.

New York, Sept. 5.—That May Yohe and Jack McAuliffe, each with two matrimonial experiences, are to be married was announced by the actress and the former pugilist in her dressing room at a moving picture show in Brooklyn yesterday, while she was waiting for her second appearance of the afternoon. The matrimonial plans were disclosed with hints of a tour around the world in a vaudeville sketch.

"Twenty years ago," said McAuliffe, "May and I were engaged. Then she went to England and married a lord. Well, I was knocking about myself and took two chances in the matrimonial game. We ought to be able to make a go of it with our experience."

Money for Fire Fighting.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.] Washington, Sept. 5.—In response to telegrams from the California authorities, the United States forestry service today allotted an additional appropriation of $12,000 for fighting forest fires in that state. More than $20,000 has been spent this year for this purpose in California.

PLENTY OF CANDIDATES FOR THE PLACE

According to the Oregonian, there is no dearth of congressional timber in that district. In this morning's issue it says:

"Five Republicans have been suggested already as probable candidates for representatives in congress from this district. That number does not include Lafferty, who has said that he would try for re-election. John F. Logan, chairman of the Republican City Central committee, has been considering entering the contest. He expects to decide the matter finally within a few days. Roger B. Sinnott, brother of State Senator Sinnott, of The Dalles, would like to make the race, but he is waiting to see what some of the other probable candidates will do. G. C. Moser has also been proposed as the man for the Republican nomination.

Although George S. Shepherd has not said that he "would run," he has not announced that he would not. This is almost the equivalent of the announcement of his candidacy.

Organized labor is said to be grooming Ralph Clyde for the place in case Dr. Harry Lane does not become the Democratic nominee. Another report has it that Clyde, who was elected state representative from this county last year, will next year be a candidate for state senator.

There prevails a strong suspicion that Dr. Lane has his eyes on the Democratic nomination for either Representative from this district or Senator to succeed Bourne. But Lane remains as coy as ever. When charged that he has aspirations to go to Washington, he simply smiles and makes no efforts to deny the indictment.

The list of candidates for representative from this district enumerated above is only the first brood of the fall hatching. The primaries will not be held until next April. Other candidates are sure to incubate in the meantime.

Stocks Are Weak.

New York, Sept. 5.—Stocks showed a decidedly lower level at the opening of today's market. Canadian Pacific dropped 3½ on the initial trading, but later recovered 1½, when prices hardened. Union Pacific, Reading, St. Paul, B. & O., New York Central and U. S. steel gained one-half. The market closed firm. Bonds were steady.

MISS NOBODY FROM STARLAND IS "SOMEBODY"

SALEM'S THEATRICAL SEASON TO OPEN WITH ONE OF THE MOST DELIGHTFUL OF MODERN MUSICAL FANTASIES.

Mort H. Singer has spared neither pains nor money to give "Miss Nobody from Starland" a gorgeous setting and a notable cast. The scenery and costumes are pronounced, the most pretentious ever assembled for a Princess Theater production. The cast is one of extreme excellence and contains Olive Vall as its star. The chorus fully maintains the reputation of the Singer management of presenting a bouquet of American beauties in the big feature numbers.

The most sensational novelty is a big musical comedy dress rehearsal scene. Before the performance the stage manager calls a rehearsal, "stars," "stage hands," "author," "comedian," "chorus girls," and "boys" and all the back stage characters are shown as in real life. And such a rehearsal! It shows the stage manager a "Czar" before whom everybody bows. The stars fight for "line" and "laughs" the author protests when his book is "cut," the chorus forget their business and the stage hands fall down on their "prows." But the stage manager is undaunted and finally the curtain goes up on a mock performance. Here is more fun. The audience sees the performance from behind the scenes and witnesses the desperation of the stage manager when the actors forget their lines and cues, stage hands forget to fire the shots in a battle and the first bearing the leading man to the prima donna at the height of the big scene, refuses to work. The culmination of the difficulties comes when one stage hand forgets to turn on the "rain storm" which is supposed to be the "piece-de-resistance" of the production, until the curtain is down, and the stage manager is yelling like a wild man. "Where the hell is the rain-storm?"

"Miss Nobody from Starland" will be seen at the Grand Opera House for one night only on Thursday, September 14. The management suggests that an early reservation for seats would be advisable.

WILL ASK THE COMMISSIONERS FOR A BRIDGE

When the board of county commissioners convenes tomorrow there will appear before it a delegation from Newberg to urge the board to make an appropriation of $45,000 for the construction of a $90,000 bridge across the Willamette river at Newberg.

The delegation in return for the appropriation, will pledge itself to see to it that sufficient money is raised to build a highway from here to Newberg, and which, if built will mean a complete modern highway to Portland, as from Newberg on, save a distance of seven miles, there is now a good road. The money is already subscribed for the construction of the seven miles in question.

The board of county commissioners, of Yamhill county, has already made an appropriation of $45,000, and as it is understood that two of the commissioners of the board for this county are favorable to such an appropriation on condition that the people between here and Newberg will build the road, it seems certain that it will be made—though it may not be made tomorrow.

The highway would open up a country which is now without railroad facilities and which is rich in resources.

WRINKLESS SKIN NOW EASY TO HAVE

(From Family Physician.) There's no excuse for any woman having wrinkles now. It has been found that a simple mixture of saxolite and witch hazel has a remarkable action upon the deepest wrinkles, no matter what their nature, whether caused by worry, habitual frowning, a debilitated condition or the ravages of Father Time. This harmless remedy, which anyone can easily make, procuring the ingredients at any drug store, acts both as an astringent and a tonic. The combined effect of tightening the skin and heightening its vitality is to immediately affect every line and wrinkle, keeping the cuticle smooth and firm as in youth.

The proportions are one ounce saxolite (powdered) to one-half pint witch hazel. The solution should be used as a wash lotion. It is equally effective in disposing of flabbiness of cheek and neck, as well as sagging below the eyes.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

It isn't so very, very long ago, when, perhaps, because of the unfortunate and rather saffron-hued publicity attendant upon the experiences of a few singing girls and dancers in musical comedy productions, the term "chorus girl" was generally accepted as meaning a flirtatious little girl of the stage whose versatility lay rather in her ability to store away wine and lobster suppers and remain until the early morning hours, than in her actual dancing and singing talent. But the great interested public began to investigate conditions; its interest, probably, was gained from having the publicity put in front of its very nose. And it was but a short time after the investigators—some, women who joined chorus ranks themselves, in order to learn the true condition of this phase of life in the mimic world—had started their work when it became known that instead of the selfish, egotistical little creature she was supposed to be, the chorus girl is, in reality, a very somber, serious minded little person, over alert for an opportunity to advance a step forward and ever ready to do for others as quickly as she would for herself.

In few musical comedy productions is this fact found more true than in the chorus ranks of Mort H. Singer's company now playing in "Miss Nobody from Starland," in which Olive Vall is being starred and who comes to this city soon. Every one of the girls in the ensemble has some ambition for the stage, one to be a great singer, another to be a comedienne, another to be a great dancer—and then there are some who have chosen the work of the chorus because they find the pay more remunerative than in the shop or in the factory, and because, hopeful little creatures that they are, they seek to learn by travel, that which they might have learned earlier in the school or university had their parents' means permitted. These girls are not always consumed with an ambition to have their names emblazoned in flaming letters over the theater door.

The girls in "Miss Nobody from Starland" are pretty—all of them. They are ambitious, each in one way or another. And, moreover, they are thrifty.

Evidence of the latter is found in the fact that they have formed a savings club, in which every member pledged herself to try, if possible, to save her earnings, over actual expenses, that the end of the season may mean more to them than it ordinarily does. Of this club they named Miss Vall, the star, executive, and Miss Vall has, in turn, named Robert H. Wilson, principal comedian, cashier.

With these two guarding their bank accounts, and knowing that because of their respective positions, Miss Vall and Mr. Wilson take a deeper interest in them, the girls feel just a little happier, just a little more safe of the future than they would in the ordinary musical comedy production.
