A GOOD MINISTER ACCUSED.

One Rev. J. J. Wheeler comes all the way from Alaska to Salem to prefer charges against one Rev. John Parsons.

He has no personal feeling against Parsons, but it took him nearly a year to gather testimony against him.

One charge is that Parsons allowed a Florodora dance saloon on the same block with his church at Fairbanks, Alaska.

On top of that Parsons is accused of misappropriating funds, and loaning money at usurious rates of interest.

Some of the Wheeler evidence against Parsons goes back as far as 1899.

When pastor at Salem Parsons was considered a pretty decent sort of citizen.

The trial of Dr. Parsons will be one of the sensational events of the conference at Salem this week.

SCIENCE FOR THE TAXPAYERS.

Among expensive luxuries carried on by the state is one Dr. Calvin S. White.

His series of experiments to prove why dogs die of eating salmon are now complete.

The results are published in a pamphlet, but the dogs die just the same.

At least ten dogs have lost their lives every year from eating salmon in Oregon.

Now Dr. White will investigate why children eat chalk, and whether chalk is really a desirable breakfast food.

The pamphlet to be published on that interesting problem will be of great importance.

Dr. Woods Hutchison was the first to do these scientific literary stunts on a salary.

He is now doing them for a hundred dollars a page for the Saturday Evening Post.

The taxpayers would feel relieved if Dr. White would go to work for some magazine.

He will next get out a state book on why blackheads come in some people's noses.

Great is the state when it comes to finding excuses to spend money.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Yes, for some time there will be more applicants than jobs.

We have tried in every way to keep from being mistaken for one O. P. Hoff. The editor of this paper has been accused of a great many things, but he has never been guilty of being O. P. Hoff.

Democratic papers are trying to make capital of Taft coming to Salem on October 13. That may be an unlucky day for the Democratic party.

Sara Brown-Savage, for ten years dean of the school of oratory of Willamette University, has opened a "school of expression" in this city, and will teach dramatic art. If there is anything we are weak on it is expressing ourselves. The average girl has been reduced to a cross between chewing a wad of gum and a titter, so far as expression goes. The young fellows smoke cigarettes, play pool and have a limited vocabulary of profanity. That is the limit.

Rev. Clarence True Wilson lectured on prohibition yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. He is national secretary of the Methodist Temperance society, and, besides being a brilliant debater, is a man of great natural eloquence and a good fellow. He is not a narrow-minded howling fanatic, and concedes that once in awhile a man who smokes or drinks is not altogether depraved.

We are asked to boost an autobiography of La Follette. The book agents will soon be swarming over the country selling them at three to five dollars per volume. Recently the country was canvassed for La Follette's magazine. Next we were bombarded with a ten-volume industrial history at three to five dollars per volume. Will we never get through digging up our hard-earned dough for these thrifty statesmen, who sell books about themselves for a living? To the credit of Jonathan Bourne he has so far not been guilty of selling us any of his publications. He even pays his own postage.

The Portland, as well as some other papers not far from Eugene, are bothered over Colonel Hofer, blaming him for most everything happening in the state of Oregon. The reason is obvious—no one does anything worthy of note any nearer Portland, and it is highly gratifying to them, as well as the rest of us, that there is at least one man in the state who is able to do things and is able to bear the blame.—Independence Enterprise.

Any editor is a dangerous man who does not swallow all the impositions that are foisted upon the people by the alleged high-brows of society.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitive modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.—take the advice received and be well.
