THAT MILLION DOLLAR ENDOWMENT.

The city of Salem could advertise itself in no better way than to do its part in raising the endowment of Willamette University to a million dollars.

This city is expected to raise one hundred thousand dollars, and a large part of this money is already subscribed, and the committee is making rapid progress.

The great get-together banquet this evening, at the Willamette auditorium, ought to be attended by every live man and woman in this city to boost for the endowment.

Our city is full of visitors from all over the state—ministers and laymen—who see here a beautiful city for a great educational center, and are ready to assist.

The public officials, the successful business men, the political leaders in state and national affairs, can make up this sum and guarantee the Million Dollar Fund.

Men like Dr. Homan and Dr. Todd, who go out into the great centers of wealth to raise this endowment fund, will bring in nine dollars for every dollar raised here.

They should be able to say with pride—see what the home city of the university has done for us, and they could argue with some hope of success to get there.

This is a matter that appeals to the pride of our people and those who have been enriched by the presence of a Methodist college at Salem are responding liberally.

As a business proposition Willamette University appeals to the non-Methodist portions of the community just as strongly, and they are also being heard from with generous additions.

DARKEST AFRICA IS GOING DRY.

Rev. Clarence True Wilson was very careful to keep a long ways from home in discussing prohibition.

He got some applause from his audience for telling how prohibition was sweeping over Africa and Iceland.

The Methodist conference and the temperance workers who composed his audience were all of one mind, but were not over-enthusiastic.

The cool-headed, thinking men and common-sense women—even the suffragettes—were doubting whether prohibition was really making and progress among civilized nations.

Rev. Wilson gave his case away, so far as civilization and Christianity are concerned, when he tearfully admitted that the three greatest nations—England, Germany and the United States—were consuming more liquor than ever before in their history.

Rev. Wilson mistakes army and navy regulations emanating from the German emperor for prohibition decrees to the German people.

The fact is, the people of Germany are the soberest and most moral people in Europe, and farthest from prohibition.

His utterances showing the general scientific warfare on drugs were reasonable and hopeful.

The increasing use of poisonous drugs is the appalling fact of the age, as is the increase of all forms of vice.

The statement of Dr. Wilson was that all the nations under the Oriental religions were prohibitionists, so far as alcoholic liquors were concerned, but addicted to opium, hashish and other drug intoxicants.

But he will not pretend those Oriental races that use no alcohol are our superiors in morality.

The prohibitionist gets himself onto the indefensible ground that Christianity is a failure.

Then he takes a grand and lofty tumble, and says the Bible stands for Christianity, but that Christianity does not live up to the teachings of their scriptures, as other religionists do.

All these attitudes and posings will do for the unthinking enthusiast, but do not go with serious and thoughtful people.

The fact is prohibitionists have, by radicalism and untenable attempts at making prohibition a political and religious issue, lost ground and injured the cause of temperance.

In Oregon, under local option, they had all but five counties dry.

By striking down their own invention, the local option law, they lost all their dry territory but four or five counties.

They have lost Maine, after half a century of struggle. The only real progress made has been by regulation, education and a high standard of business common sense.

Their hope to advance prohibition by woman suffrage will prove a delusive dream.

The reason that most of us are dead sure we would like to be rich is because it is something that we never have tried.

ANOTHER RAILROAD IS COMING

The Nevada-Oregon-California Railroad company yesterday filed a declaration with the secretary of state, in which it indicates its intention of entering this state to transact business. It is possible that the Nevada corporation will afford more railroad facilities to Central Oregon, as in an attached certificate of amendment of the original articles of incorporation it is said the line, which now extends from Reno, Nev., to Red Rock, in Northern California, will be extended further. The proposed extension will pass through Lake, Crook and Wasco counties, and end at some point near The Dalles on the Oregon-Washington line, and will be operated as the means of transportation of persons and property. F. Dunaway is signed as the vice-president of the road, while R. L. Lewis is the secretary. The capital stock is $2,200,000.

BOOSTING FOR WILLAMETTE ENDOWMENT

PROBABLY 900 WILL ATTEND BIG BANQUET TONIGHT - COMMITTEE REPORTS $90,000 ALREADY SUBSCRIBED IN SALEM.

That at least 800 people and possibly more will sit down to the banquet table tonight when The Willamette University and the citizens of Salem give their good fellowship banquet to the ministers and laymen of the Oregon Methodist conference in the tabernacle on the university grounds, was the announcement made today by Dr. Fletcher Homan, president of the institution.

The promoters of the banquet started out to secure plates for 400 people, but so great was the interest evinced in the purpose of the banquet, that last evening 750 people had purchased tickets and there were still about 150 charges to be heard from. That at least 50 of these will purchase tickets is certain and it may be that enough more will do so that the number will be brought close to the 900 mark.

Will Be Booster Meeting. The purpose of the banquet is to arouse interest in the campaign being waged for an endowment fund for the university, and it is predicted that it will put canvassers for the fund to work in all corners of the state and that the result will be the necessary subscriptions to meet the offers made by Hon. R. A. Booth and James J. Hill, the railroad magnate. Speakers tonight will dwell on the history of the school, its accomplishments in the past, the demand for it in the present and the years to come, and the need of the subscription now to secure the offers of Booth and Hill so that it may be put on a solid and lasting foundation.

$30,000 Raised. Dr. Homan also announced that $30,000 had been raised in the city by the committee making a canvass of the business men for the endowment fund. Today the committee expects to increase the sum substantially and after the rousing banquet of tonight is over, they expect to be able to sign up a number of men of wealth for large sums.

Hon. R. A. Booth has made a conditional offer of $100,000 to the university and James J. Hill an offer of $50,000. To meet the conditions upon which the offers are made, it will be necessary for the institution to raise by subscription $275,000. The people of the city of Salem and Marion county are undertaking to raise $100,000, leaving $175,000 to be raised from other sources. The committee is now confident that the money will be subscribed.

Mr. S. B. Catterlin has just returned from a trip to the eastern states, and is more than ever convinced that Oregon is the best state in the union. He reports crops everywhere poor, potatoes two and one-half cents a pound; peaches and "ornery" ones at that, $2.00 a bushel and other vegetables and fruit poor and clear. He reports seeing a cyclone four miles away, tearing down trees and raising dust generally, among its other stunts, carrying several head of cattle 30 or 40 rods.

He attended a family reunion in Ohio at which 127 relatives were present, and while he had an enjoyable time, and one he will never forget, he is more than ever satisfied with Oregon, and pleased to be back again.

Just Try a Ten Cent Box of Cascarets

Insures you for months against a Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation or a Bad Stomach.

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oils or purgative waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist.
