

THE FLOWER OF THE RANCH HERE FRIDAY

THE "FLOWER" IS MISS BETTY CALDWELL, A HALF BREED INDIAN GIRL, BORN IN OKLAHOMA 19 YEARS AGO, AND WHO HAS LIVED THE PART.

Gifted with an abundance of ability is Miss Betty Caldwell, the little girl playing the part of "Flower" in Joseph E. Howard's greatest musical comedy, "The Flower of the Ranch." Miss Caldwell is a half breed Indian maiden; she was born in Oklahoma 19 years ago, and lived on the great ranches during her younger days. When a mere child she was at home in a saddle of a fleet-footed broncho, and had learned to handle the lariat long before she was 12 years of age. Her parents deserted Oklahoma for a new home in Kansas City, and it was this move that afforded Betty Caldwell all the benefits of a good schooling, where, at the age of 16 she graduated and turned to the stage for her living. That season she was successful in securing an engagement in the chorus where she remained for a season. The next year she was chosen as one of the six dancers who won lots of praise for their clever work while touring Ford v. O. E. Ry. Co., Marion County. Frank Ford, respondent, v. Oregon Electric Railway Company, a corporation, appellant. Appeal from the circuit court for Marion county. The Hon. Wm. Galloway, judge. Argued and submitted July 25, 1911. Kaiser & Pogue, attorneys for respondent. Harrison Allen and John H. McNary, (Carey & Kerr on the brief), attorneys for appellant. Bean, J. Reversed.

Decided September 26, 1911. This is a suit in equity. The defendant, an electric railway corporation, appeals from a decree requiring it to stop its local trains for the accommodation of passenger at a road-crossing near the house on the land of plaintiff, in performance of a contract, executed August 25, 1906, by Tilmon Ford, accepted by defendant, and duly recorded, the material parts of which, suiting description of the land, is as follows: "Know all men by these presents, That Tilmon Ford, unmarried, of the county of Marion in the state of Oregon, in consideration of the sum of six hundred dollars and other good and valuable considerations hereinafter expressed, to him paid by the Oregon Electric Railway Company * * * the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged as to said money, and the other considerations hereinafter expressed; has granted, bargained, sold and conveyed, etc. * * * a right-of-way for its railroad. * * * (Several covenants are then in-buildings, eight-tenths of a mile from Chemawa station on the south, and one and four-tenths miles from Quinaby station on the north. The crossing in question is situated near the center of the 230 acre tract, and it is asserted by plaintiff that about 40 or 50 people would be better accommodated with a station at that location. It appears that the wagon road crossed by defendant's electric line is a private roadway; that the plaintiff desires to cut up and sell his land in five-acre tracts, concerning which facts, in answer to the question: "In order to allow the public to use your crossing, you would have to give your permission to go across your land and lay out a road; if the train would stop, you would either have to let the people come across your place or lay out a road?" the plaintiff replied "Yes sir." Plaintiff demanded of defendant that its trains be stopped according to its contract, and contends that he is entitled to have the contract specifically enforced as his only adequate remedy.

On behalf of defendant it is asserted that there are about 25 people residing within one-half mile of the proposed station; that from four to six local trains stop at all of the stations on the road, making 30 stops, the schedule time for the run between Portland and Salem being two hours. Two other through or special trains make the run in one hour and 40 minutes, covering the distance between Chemawa and Quinaby stations in four minutes; that the passenger business handled in and out of Chemawa and Quinaby between June 8th and November 30th, 1908, was, for the former station, 1912, an average of about 70 passengers per day, and for the latter 689, a daily average of four passengers. The total number of passengers for this period passing Chemawa and Quinaby both north and south, exclusive of those moving in and out of such stations, was 66,800, making the daily average of passengers passing these stations about 280; that the establishment and maintenance of another station in this vicinity would consume additional time, and delay the freight and passenger traffic on the line; that the income to be derived from such station would not equal the actual expense of stopping and starting the trains, and that such a requirement would work a hardship and injustice to defendant. That the consideration of $600 paid for the land for the right of way was the full value thereof. It is further contended on the part of defendant that the "Necessities and convenience" of plaintiff, and all the inhabitants in the vicinity of his land, have, since the operation of the railroads, adequately been served by the stations of Chemawa and Quinaby; that at no time has there been enough passenger or freight business to warrant the establishment of any more stations on this part of the line.

the Eastern vaudeville circuits. Another step and she was engaged to play the part of "Flower," the little 16-year-old girl on a ranch, the pride of the cowboys and beloved by everybody with whom she comes in contact. She is a charming little creature in buckskin dress, who sings, dances and romps about with all the dash and go to make her ideal. This part was written for a girl purely of Miss Caldwell's type, who has really lived on a ranch, among cowboys, the long horn steers, the wild ponies, ridden a broncho during the roundup, and in reality, lived the very atmosphere that the part calls upon her to portray. There is not one person in a thousand in the theatrical profession who could give a more perfect portrayal of all the requirements than this little maiden, who is admired by all. She will be with "The Flower of the Ranch" when that attraction plays at the Grand Opera House, Friday, October 6.

serted in said deed as to fencing the right of way and building cattle-guards and road crossings, as to said grantee its successors and assigns, and then the following: "Said grantee, its successors and assigns, in operating said railway, shall stop its local trains for the purpose of taking on or putting off passengers at the road crossing easterly from where the house now stands on said premises, together with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments, or appurtenances thereunto belonging, or in any wise appertaining, subject to the terms and conditions of said conveyance." It appears that after the execution of the right-of-way deed, the defendant, the Oregon Electric Railway Company, constructed its railroad from Portland to Salem, over which it has been operating its trains since January 1, 1908. The farm of plaintiff, Frank Ford contains 220 acres, upon which there is situated the farm house mentioned and other

WELL DESERVED.

The Praise That Comes from Thankful Salem People.

One kidney remedy never fails. Salem people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Salem testimony proves it always reliable. J. N. Ridgeway, 485 S. 22nd St. Salem, Ore., says: "For along time I knew that my kidneys were disordered, as I suffered from pains in the small of my back, especially severe when I stooped or lifted. I did not rest well and arose in the morning so lame and sore that I could hardly get about. I became tired easily, felt languid and was often very nervous. I was also subject to intense headaches and dizzy spells, during which my sight became blurred. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and deciding to try them, I procured a box at Dr. Stone's Drug Store. They went at once to the seat of my trouble and in a short time entirely relieved me. Doan's Kidney Pills have my highest endorsement." (Statement given March 28, 1906.)

After Three Years. On November 20, 1909, Mr. Ridgeway said: "The statement I gave for publication recommending Doan's Kidney Pills in 1906 was correct in every detail. I am always glad to tell other kidney sufferers of this remedy.
