Effort to be Made to Couple the International Association of Structural Iron and Bridge Workers with All Recent Dynamite Outrages.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Court House, Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 11.—When the actual trial of James B. McNamara, alleged dynamiter and cause of the explosion which killed 21 persons in the Los Angeles Times building on October 1, 1910, began this afternoon it was realized on both sides that the proceedings were on a curtain-raiser. Even the prosecution admits that James B. McNamara was only a tool in the alleged conspiracy. His conviction, should it be possible, would mean simply the prologue in the drama which has for its object the coupling of the International Association of Structural Iron and Bridge Workers with not only the destruction of the Times building, but with numerous dynamiting episodes covering every section of the United States.

That the defense realized this was shown by the careful attitude taken by the attorneys. "We know that the state wants to lay a foundation whereby Detective Burns can make good his charge that organized labor is ruled by the terrorists," said one of the defense lawyers. "But we have an absolutely perfect defense," he added, "and are convinced that we will secure an acquittal."

Board Used Same Methods as Railroads
Increased because the school board of Athens, when she tendered her resignation, to take effect in 30 days, fired her on the spot, Miss Alice Pratt, a school teacher, has taken the subject up with State Superintendent Alderman, asking him if she has not jurisdiction over the subject on appeal.

The school board, it seems, hired a teacher through an Eastern employment agency. Failing to arrive it telegraphed the agency and was advised that it could not locate her. The board then hired another teacher, and just before she was to enter on her duties, the teacher from the East arrived, and the board declined to give her the place.

Miss Prat sympathized with the Eastern woman, and tendered her resignation, to take effect in 30 days. The board became incensed, and discharged her on the spot. She now wants to work during the 30 days, and has appealed to the state superintendent, who referred her to the county superintendent, as the proper person to exercise jurisdiction in her case.

Broke a Wing.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
New York, Oct. 11.—Sustaining a broken right wing and propeller in a fall near here today, Aviator Ovington's monoplane was so badly wrecked that he is obliged to abandon temporarily his flight to the Pacific coast. Ovington was unhurt in the fall.

Will Sue the Southern Pacific.
San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Denying the title of the Southern Pacific company to oil lands in San Joaquin county valued at from $100,000,000 to $500,000,000, the federal government expects to bring suit against the company within 30 days to decide the ownership.

ELECT TO TRY JAMES M'NAMARA

EFFORT TO BE MADE TO COUPLE THE INTERNATIONAL ASSO. CIATION OF STRUCTURAL IRON AND BRIDGE WORKERS WITH ALL RECENT DYNAMITE OUTRAGES.

She Sued Roosevelt.

New York, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Ida Von Claussen, once the plaintiff in a $1,000,000 damage suit against Col. Roosevelt and others for an alleged conspiracy to keep her from being presented at the court of Sweden, is in the psychopathic ward at Bellevue hospital today for observation. Mrs. Von Claussen, who seeks divorce from Dr. J. C. Honan, wrote to the trial judge "justice and liberty is all I ask. If foul play marks your decision, God help you."
The court concluded the woman was insane, and sent her to the hospital for observation.

IS GIVEN SPLENDID WELCOME

Miss Booth Greeted by Immense Crowd at the Grand Opera House—and Makes a Strong Appeal for Religion.

INTRODUCED BY GOVERNOR

Audience Was Appreciative of Her Power and Talents, But Disappointed in That She Did Not Give a History of Salvation Army Work in Which the Public Is Taking an Ever-Growing Interest—Has the Face of a Crusader.

Commander Booth was given a reception at the Grand last night that must have made her heart beat faster. On the stage, besides Grand Army people, were Oregon's young governor, Secretary of State O'cott, Theodore Roth, Max Buren, Mr. Albert, Mr. McGillchrist and a dozen other prominent Salem citizens and in the big theater in front of her a sea of faces greeted her with appreciative smiles, the building being packed to capacity.

After a song followed a brief but eloquent prayer by Brigadier Thomas Staryn, and a solo by Major Erickson in which he persuaded the audience to join in the chorus, with hearty good will, Governor West in a short but appropriate little talk, introduced the woman all had come to see—Commander Eva Booth.

Miss Booth during the preliminary exercises, sat near the table on the platform, chatting at times with the Governor, who was on her right. She is of a different type than that the reporter had expected, and probably from what most of the audience had imagined her. She is tall, willowy and graceful in her movements, self-poised, and apparently without self-consciousness. Her features are rather large—her nose prominent, lower face strong, as was probably the forehead, but this was under the canopy and covering of a pompadour. Her face reminded one of the old crusaders. Strong, yet spiritual; firm, yet kindly.

In a sense the big audience was disappointed, for most of those present were there to learn of the work of the Salvation Army from its leader. They wanted to know from her the history of the movement, the good it had accomplished. They wanted to know and understand the Salvation Army, and they were given instead, a sermon. It matters not that it was a sermon by Miss Booth. Most of us have our own faiths and beliefs, our own ideas about heaven and the other place, and we can hear those things ably discussed any and every Sunday in our local churches. Miss Booth's sermon was strong but word painting fine, her logic convincing, but it was not what the audience turned out to hear, and in this respect alone, was disappointing.

Miss Booth has a pleasing manner, a good delivery, a mobile and expressive face and a fine command of language. Her voice, except when she talked with emphasis, is well modulated, and she has it under splendid control, and when she puts on the soft pedal, it is silvery sweet in its cadences.

Nevertheless, Salem is glad to have had the opportunity to see and hear her, and to express appreciation of her, and the Salvation Army's great work.

CALIFORNIA ADOPTS OREGON PLAN EQUAL SUFFRAGE SEEMS BEATEN

RECALL REFERENDUM AND INITIATIVE ALL ADOPTED BY SWEEPING MAJORITIES

Only One of 23 Amendments, That of Equal Suffrage, Failed to Pass—And That May Possibly Pull Through, Though the Majority Against It Seems to Be About 3000—It Was Beaten in San Francisco by 13,000 Votes, Knob Hill and the Tenderloin Being Strongest Against It.

ITALY AND TURKEY TO STOP WAR

AN ARMISTICE HAS BEEN DECLARED BETWEEN ITALY AND TURKEY THROUGH THE GOOD OFFICES OF GERMANY.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Berlin, Oct. 11.—An armistice has been declared between Italy and Turkey, according to a statement from a high official source here today. According to this statement, peace has been arranged mainly through the efforts of Germany and while it will not be officially proclaimed, yet no further hostilities will take place.

Maine's Bollers Intact.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Washington, Oct. 11.—Continued excavation work in the cofferdam surrounding the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor, developed the fact today that the explosion which caused the wreck was not a boiler explosion. The Maine's boilers were found intact.

Volcano Is Busy Making a New Island.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Mariners are informed today by the hydrographic office that the submarine volcano is emitting its molten lava in the South Sea at a point 19 miles northeast of Tongabatu Island in the Friendly group.

Storm Was a Bad One.
[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Captain Brown, of the freighter Luelanaw, is here today with a tale of disaster in the recent storm off the Mexican coast, which almost wrecked the steamer City of Panama. The Luelanaw had a hard fight in the same storm, and for a while was in great danger. From Mazatlan it was learned that the four-masted schooner Oliver J. Olson, Captain Spring, was damaged and tossed upon the rocky beach at Cape Fales in the same hurricane, a total loss.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Sweeping California as no state in the Union has ever been swept before progressive policies, the initiative, the referendum and the recall today stand approved by remarkable majorities as the result of yesterday's balloting. Only one of the 23 amendments to the state constitution proposed—the woman suffrage—seems to be lost. It is probably defeated by from 3000 to 5000. San Francisco did it; the smaller communities generally favoring the giving of the ballot to the women.

Though known to be greatly furthered by a state-wide tour made by Governor Johnson in their favor, the progressive amendments were held doubtful of passage until the last, and their complete triumph today is a surprise even to their most ardent advocates. Particularly is this so in the case of the recall. It was fought bitterly by the reactionary press; it was thundered against by President Taft, but despite all, the

WANT ADMIRAL CLARK TO BE IN COMMAND

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Washington, Oct. 11.—Officers who made the memorable trip around Cape Horn in the battleship Oregon, on the occasion of its cruise to fight Cervera's fleet during the Spanish-American war are endeavoring today to have their commander, Rear Admiral Chas. E. Clark, now retired, restored to active service with the rank of vice admiral to command the ship again when it leads the nation's fleet through the Panama canal.

Admiral Clark has signified his willingness to resume active service again for that voyage.

SALEM BOOSTER IS IN ARIZONA

Mr. Ed. Ellis one of Salem's live real estate men, is making an extended visit in Arizona. Before starting, he supplied himself with attractive samples of fruit and literature from the board of trade offices for the purpose of making a little boosting campaign for the Willamette Valley and Salem in particular. Under date of October 3, he writes Secretary Hofer from Clifton, Arizona, submitting a large list of names and asked to have literature mailed them. In submitting this list, Mr. Ellis writes: "I am satisfied that the greater portion of these people can be secured for residents of the Willamette Valley, and in all the towns that I have visited, all have a good word for our section who know anything about Oregon at all, and all are anxious to know more about it."

Mr. Ellis is doing good work and will undoubtedly land some valuable settlers.

Proclaims Holy War.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Rome, Oct. 11.—It is reported from Tripoli today that the Mahdi of the Sahara has proclaimed a holy war and that Arabs by thousands are flocking to the holy green standard with the avowed intention of exterminating all "infidels" in Africa.
