NO MORE STATE INSTITUTIONS WANTED.

Among the want ads of the people is "No More State Institutions Wanted."

With another asylum located in Eastern Oregon, and everybody knows it will be full, and everybody knows it was established to make places for hungry place-seekers, the time has come to cry halt in this matter.

The Capital Journal does not agree with Governor West in his conclusion that the Baby Homes should be made one big state institution.

There is now a law that churches or benevolent corporations that wish to conduct an orphanage or baby home can have $50 per capita from the state.

The Catholic Home, at Beaverton is conducted on that plan, and costs the state very little.

As soon as the children can be placed in homes they are sent out where they properly belong.

The home is the place for children, and not the state institutions.

The same is true of a state home for the aged poor, or homeless persons of great age.

Such a state institution would be filled with persons claiming the respectable charity of the state.

The same is true of a reform school for girls, and a dozen other propositions that are sought to be unloaded on the state.

The system of paternalism that would multiply the functions of the state, including the Single Tax, that would make the state the landlord for all the people and all the people tenants, is to be avoided if we retain a democratic form of government.

FREE TEXTBOOKS FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

If the public schools are to become really free for the children of the people who need them most, textbooks must be made free. Families that cannot afford to buy them now are provided with free textbooks by the school district.

But that is class legislation and degrades the applicant for free textbooks into the admission of pauperism.

There should be no such condition in connection with free education for the masses, and all should stand on a level.

The cost of textbooks on an average now is about $375 per child, and under the free textbook system that is reduced to about $150.

A laboring man with half a dozen children to educate on two dollars per day, with all else to buy, feels the textbook burden. The constant tendency is to have more textbooks, to expand the burden on those least able to pay it, and the evil is growing.

As a good teacher in Portland told the editor the other day, the children have so many studies they have no time to study.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, drawing, music and manual training are about enough for any child, if the work is well done. The multiplicity of studies, the multiplicity of textbooks, leaves the child with a smattering, and nothing thorough.

So it comes we have no thoroughness in grammar, no thoroughness in arithmetic, not thorough in writing, or in anything. In the meantime the manufacturers of textbooks go on forcing their wares on the attention of the textbook commissions and the teachers and school boards.

If the people had to pay for the textbooks every fad and 'ism could not be foisted upon the public schools.

The secretary of agriculture does not want to quit. Neither do any of the rest of the Spartan and self-sacrificing band who get into the public service. The Hon. Tama Jim, as he is known in Iowa, is the great mogul of officialism. He has created and saddled on the people about a quarter of a million offices. He has created experts of a thousand kinds, and, under the civil service system, the people can never get rid of them. The people will be lucky if Wilson dies without becoming president. He has nearly enough people holding jobs, they owe to him, to elect him by popular vote.

The Mormon church deals intelligently with the amusements of young people. It holds a weekly dance at the church, conducted under control of the authorities and free from pernicious Gentile practices, and the young Gentiles like it. The same church provides its members with employment, and helps them to get lands and homes. Of course they pay tithes, but they are happy and prosperous. The rest of the churches will have to sit up and take notice that the Mormons are growing in popularity where they operate.

The Weekly Capital Journal and home-seekers guide to Western Oregon is a paper that can be sent to your friends and relatives in the East and bring them to Oregon. This is so well known that not many men are sending it to their mother-in-law.

KILLED BIG BEAR: WEIGHT ABOUT 600

A big black bear that had been killing sheep and goats east of Stayton for some time was killed last Tuesday by a party out for that particular purpose. He was very fat, weighed more than 600 pounds, and it is estimated has killed at least 75 sheep and goats within the past two months. John Whiting put the bullet into him that stopped the pillaging.

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion: "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for 15 years," says Enos Lollar, of Saratoga, Ind., "and consider it the best on the market." For sale by all dealers.

Scene from the "Traveling Salesman"

"The Traveling Salesman"—Baker The Spectator, published in Portland, speaks thus highly of "The Traveling Salesman, which is on the stage at the Grand tonight: "All sorts of drummers have been presented to the stage, but James Forbes, author of "The Chorus Lady," has made a departure. At the Baker he is giving us "The Traveling Salesman," who is as jolly as any knight of the road you have ever seen. On the stage the salesman is not all "funny" stories, sweethearts-in-every-town and all that sort of thing; he is a real hero. Don MacMillan, who appears in the title role, is fat and good natured, and suited for the part. The story hinges on the isolation of four traveling men in a truly rural town on Christmas, with no opportunity for escape. The card game, the flirtations moment, and the usual merriment are treated in the creation of the play. Don MacMillan as Bobby Blake, learns of a plot to rob the telegraph operator, a winsome girl. This is the chance for Bobby to work the heroes, and Mr. Forbes, in his play, has permitted him to run the full gamut of medal winning caprices, even to marrying the fair heroine. The company is a good one, the play full of wholesome humor, and Baker patrons have been well entertained. The engagement will close with the matinee and evening performance today."

X-RAYS AND SMILES.

Oregon has a larger percentage of auburn haired ladies than almost any state in the union. It is quite common to see a number of them going along the street within a block. Yesterday two stood on the corner at the Journal office for about two minutes waiting for a car. Just before the car came, the team of white horses drove by.

The Chinese rebels are starting off right by first declaring they will grant the voting privilege to women, and then ordering a national haircut. Short hair is the Chinese rebels' Shibboleth.

A Los Angeles justice of the peace fined E. W. Payne $5.00 for spanking his wife. "No matter how badly she needed spanking," said the justice, "you had no right to take a hand in it." From this it seems the husband should have taken a board for this job instead of his hand, to satisfy the law.

Accidents at Stayton. Stayton reports a series of minor accidents last week. Ottmar Bey stepped on a nail which ran through his foot. A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thayer, of Mt. Pleasant, stepped on a needle, which broke off in her foot and required the services of a doctor to remove it. John Platz cut his foot quite badly with an axe, and Paul Stayton fell, striking his face on the barrel of his air gun, cutting a bad gash in his cheek.

Just Try a Ten Cent Box of Cascarets

Insures you for months against a Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation or a Bad Stomach.

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oils or purgative waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.
Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.
A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have headache, biliousness, coated tongue, indigestion, sour stomach or constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

Asleep in Meetin'.
(By Katharine Clarke.)
Last Sunday morn was rather warm
An' I drooped to sleep in meetin';
An' I dreamt a mighty curious dream
In that ar mornin's sleepin'.

I dreamt, just while the parson prayed
An' Christians knelt around me,
That I was an old crippled tramp
An' rags o' filth they bound me.

I walked upon the busy street
An' these same Christians kneelin';
Each heeded not my outstretched hand,
For me they had no feelin'.

In each's palm a coin was clutched
To fill the chapel's basket;
'Twould bought a loaf to fill me up,
But I knew I darn't ask it.

For written on each face I saw
These words shine out like blazes
'God makes His poor, let Him them keep,
For me I'll sing his praises.'

An' then I met a worldly man
Who never prayed a prayer,
Who never went inside a church,
(They wouldn't have him there).

His face was awful serious
An' he wan't shocked at sin,
But he opened wide his cabin door
An' let me, hungry, in.

Just then I woke, the parson's voice
So loud and clear was sayin'
His chosen text, an' I had dreamed
The thing while he was prayin'.

An' this his text "my brethren dear,
As even to all these lowly
Ye did it so to me "twas done,"
There is no praise so holy.

Thro' all this week that parson's text
My sinful ears is greetin';
Its curious what a feller'll dream
When he drops to sleep in meetin'.

Midnight in The Ozarks.
And yet sleepless, Hiram Scanton,
Of Clay City, Ill., coughed and coughed. He was in the mountains on the advice of five doctors, who said he had consumption, but found no help in the climate, and started home. Hearing of Dr. King's New Discovery, he began to use it. "I believe it saved my life," he writes, "for it made a new man of me, so that I can now do good work again." For all lung diseases, coughs, colds, grippe, asthma, croup, whooping cough, hay fever, hemorrhages, hoarseness or quinsy, its the best known remedy. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, Druggist.

A Household Medicine that Gives Confidence.

I got some of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and have found that it cured their coughs and colds in a very short time, so I keep it in the house all the time."—Red Cross Pharmacy, (H. Jerman.)
