

WILLAMETTE DEFEATED SOLDIERS

After one of the most disastrous games of the season, the Willamette university won the football game from the First U. S. Infantry, of Vancouver-barracks, four of her best men going out with serious injuries. The teams were about evenly matched in weight, but the superior generalship of Quarterback Booth enabled his team to make three times the yardage of his opponents, although several chances to score were lost by poor kicking.

The first quarter was all Willamette's. Lowe, Cummings and McRay made yardage almost at will through the soldiers' line, the ends being especially weak. The ball was advanced to the 17 yard line and Cummings, the varsity left half, plunged through a broken field for a touch-down. In the next few minutes of play Willamette worked the ball to within striking distance of the soldiers' goal, but Booth's kick went wide. The ball was brought back to the 35-yard line, where the soldiers worked hard to even up the score. In stopping one of their frequent tandem plays, Wesley, the big varsity tackle, went out with a fractured shoulder. Paul Homan also replaced Rowland, who had not been showing up well at any stage of the game.

The second quarter was a repetition of the first, McRay plunging through on one side and then on the other of the line, until the ball was dangerously close. Cummings was again called upon, and responded as usual with a 20-yard run, and McRay went through the line for Willamette's next score. It was a costly play for Willamette, however, as in the fracas McRay's nose was broken, and he was taken out of the game. In the second half Rowland again went in to replace one of the substitutes, but seemed to be closely followed by his "jinks," as he continually lost ground whenever the ball was passed to him. The soldiers secured the ball on the 50-yard line. The team, weakened as it was by the loss of McRay and Wesley, could not hold the line, and Vancouver seized her first opportunity to score, and marched down the field for a touchdown. Fullback Lewis kicked goal.

The last quarter was hot and fast. The soldiers were now determined to even up the score, but, although they did better work when it came to punting and running back kicks, the varsity line seemed to hold like a stone wall, and all attempts to make yardage through it were futile. Lowe, the college end, in intercepting a forward pass, was given a severe kick in the side, and was replaced at end by McInturf. A good deal of the last quarter was spent in discussion by the officials, and both sides thought they were given some rank decisions by Referee Bishop, and both sides were probably wrong.

WHIPPED ON ACCOUNT OF RENT BILL

Seattle, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Christine Olson who horsewhipped Judge Main in the court house corridor yesterday was arraigned before Judge Gay this morning on charge of assault in the third degree. She was put under $500 bonds, following her plea of not guilty. She was not represented by counsel.

Mrs. Olson's grievance is due to Judge Main's setting aside a jury verdict in her favor a week ago, and entering judgment against her and her husband for rents aggregating $600.

Harry Olson, her husband, paid an agent for owner of their house, $500 rent in advance to one Fleming, supposed agent. For this the Olsons were given a discount of $100 for the 20 months covered. Mrs. Sylvester repudiated Fleming's agency and brought suit against the Olsons for the rent.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.

When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, J. C. Perry.
