"THE GIRL
THE MAN AND THE GAME"

"The Girl, the Man and the Game," the bright new musical fantasy in two acts, which comes to The Grand Opera House on Monday, November 13, is described as one of those effervescent entertainments in which farce and music is mixed in just the proper proportions. Billy (Single) Clifford, who is starred in the piece, is provided with a rollicking role, in which his well known comic methods are seen at their very best. The story has to do, in brief with a young man, who has an eccentric uncle, who is always travelling about. The old man sees the pictures of Dorothy, a young American girl, and he falls desperately in love with her. He sends home to his nephew, and asks him to go and court her for him. The young man falls in love with the girl on his own hook, and writes a letter telling his uncle that the girl is homely, drinks, smokes and has other peculiarities, and thus the old man's love story ends at once.

The uncle has always been very anxious that his nephew should marry and settle down, so he offers him $50,000 when he shall marry. Getting pressed for ready cash, the young man writes his uncle that he is married and has a child, and the old man is very generous and all goes well enough until the uncle writes that he is coming home. Then the young man gets his friend, Mrs. Merry, to pose as his wife, borrows a child, and the deception is kept up for some time, much to the amusement of every one, as many excruciatingly funny situations develop. Finally the tangle is solved, the young man weds Dorothy, and every one is happy. This role gives Mr. Clifford ample opportunity for high class fun making, and he has numerous songs that are full of the catchiest melody imaginable.

COLD WEATHER AND SNOW IN SOUND SECTION

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]
Tacoma, Nov. 10.—The local weather bureau today held out no hope for the cessation of the unusual storm that has been prevailing here for more than 24 hours. Half an inch of snow fell during the night and has been falling at intervals today. A high north wind is blowing, whipping the snow into drifts and paralyzing teaming traffic on the uncovered hills. The temperature early today was the coldest in the city for November in the past 30 years—29 degrees above.

WENT BACK ON MAMMA TO STAY WITH HUBBY

San Francisco Nov. 10.—It's good night for mamma. She was to blame for it all. Her husband is a good boy. I love him. His only trouble is that he would go out with the boys.

With these few kind words Mrs. Horton Forrest Phipps once of Portland, today made a fond adieu to mamma, Mrs. Theodore Down, a prominent society woman of the Oregon metropolis, tore up a divorce complaint she had entered, and definitely aligned herself with her husband.

Phipps, who was accused of divers abustings of his wife, when, by appointment, he met Mrs. Phipps in Judge Van Nostrand's court, a charge of disturbing the peace was withdrawn. Mrs. Down was ousted as the fly in their marital ointment, and all was peace again.

Scared Speechless.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—James Ryan has recovered his voice today, after having it frightened away for several hours by being suddenly accosted by a uniformed policeman. Ryan was looked up, but could not answer the questions put to him by the officers. Physicians who restored the man's voice, say dumbness was brought on by aphasia, caused by fright.
