A most charming pre-nuptial event took place last Tuesday when Miss Zoe Stockton honored Miss Madeline Walker with an evening of five hundred, twelve tables being used. The dainty score cards suggesting the coming event, bore cupids, wedding bells and bridal couple painted in water colors, the work of Miss Elene Fawk. The house decorations were carried out with pink cosmos and chrysanthemums in vases and hanging baskets. High scores were given to Miss Ellen Thielsen and Mr. Frederick Meyer. The pretty girls were most attractive in their fetching frocks. Miss Stockton's guests were:

Mrs. Sallie Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Clariborne Walker, Mrs. Anna Culbertson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Edward Thielson, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Sargent; Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Thielson, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Asa, bel Bush, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. William Burghardt, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Misses Madeline Walker, Veda Cross, Cora Talkington, Luene Moreland, Edie King, Maud Durbin, Claudine Rose, Lucille Staley, Ruth Staley, Gretta Robertson, Elene Elizabeth Lord, Ellen Thielsen, Misses Gertrude and Margaret Gray, of Seattle; Messrs. Connell Dyer, Claude Slade, Fritz Slade, Carl D. Gabrielson, Lawrence Hofar, Elbert Eagan, Dolly Farmer, Russell W. Watrons, James McGillchrist, William McGillchrist, Elmer L. Ludden, James Crawford, D. M. Field, Will King, Loyd Mott, Frank Spencer, Chas. V. Gallaway, Fred Myer, Will Lord, Paul Wallace, Roy Ruffison, Corvallis; Walter Keck, Corvallis.

Interesting many Salem friends of the bride was the marriage of Miss Birdie Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, to Mr. Roy Wiley, which took place in the new home of the bride's parent, at Sodaville, on Wednesday the eighth.

The hall and dining room were brilliant with masses of eglantine, while the drawing room was artistically arranged with decorations of white and green developed in chrysanthemums and ferns. A large canopy of the same flowers and green marked the spot where the ceremony was to take place. Little Elizabeth Fwank as flower girl was dressed daintily in white. The bridesmaid Miss Mayme Schultz, wore a frock of white laces with trimmings of pink messaline and ball fringe. The bride was lovely in a gown of white laces with trimmings of pink messaline and ball fringe.

Her flowers were pink carnations and ferns. Doctor Wright, of Lebanon, was the groom's attendant. At six o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Emma McCracken, the bride and groom entered and were met by Reverend McCulloch, of the Presbyterian church of Lebanon, who read the ring service and pronounced the blessing.

After congratulations, an elaborate luncheon was served to the fifty guests, the table being centered with an immense bunch of white chrysanthemums. There were beautiful gifts including china and many pieces of cut glass and silver. The young couple will reside in Lebanon, where Mr. Wiley is a druggist.

Mrs. Paul Stege was a delightful hostess on Thursday afternoon, for the Fireside club, who are meeting every week for needle work and friendship's sake. Miss Gertrude Erickson assisted Mrs. Stege.

At luncheon, the place cards were autumn leaves and on the table stood white chrysanthemums. The full membership of twelve enjoyed the afternoon. Mrs. Earl Anderson will entertain next week.

Her many friends will learn with regret that Mrs. Hal. D. Patton has again been taken to Shipyard Springs to receive further treatment for rheumatism.

Invitations have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Thielson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Catlin, Miss Thielsen and Miss Catlin, for dancing and cards at Hotel Marion, Friday evening, the first of December, at half after eight o'clock.

Miss Hazel Erickson and Miss Emmaline Kline went to Portland yesterday to be guests of Misses Ethel Allee and Myrtle Gram, with whom they expected to attend the Jefferson high school dance last evening. Miss Clara Fields, of Oregon City, gives a party for the young women this evening. They will be house guests of Miss Mata Kline for Sunday and Monday, returning for their studies on Tuesday.

A belated "spook party" with Christian Endeavorers of the Christian church as entertainers, last Tuesday evening brought Halloween sports into this week. Each guest of the large company wore fancy costumes; many were in sheet and pillow slip garb. As they arrived, two small ghosts escorted the guests to the "death chamber," which was made as gruesome as possible, by covered with blackberries. Each of these berries was compelled to pin one of and were then led by other ghostly attendants to different places, and at last to the church parlor, where games were played and refreshments were served—both appropriate for the occasion.

Maeyl Hunter asked her little friends for last Saturday afternoon, from two until half after five o'clock, to help celebrate her seventh birthday. The merry crowd played games on the porch and lawn, and were served refreshments on the porch. Miss Clover Miller assisting. When the birthday cake was cut, the girls found thimbles in their portions and marbles were in the boys' pieces.

Many lovely little presents complimented Maeyl on this happy occasion. Her guests were Francis Ward, Florence Jones, Helen Corey, Mabel Marcus, Helen Marcus, Thelma Young, Iris Hamilton, Pauline Patterson, Amalia Babcock, Margaret Kibby, Gretchen Brown, Elizabeth Bayne, Annette Hopkins, Wayne Elgin, Robert Corey, Clarence Clements, Donald Worden, Keith Brown, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. Charles Elgin were honored with special invitations.

Mrs. Blankenship is a daughter of the late Mr. A. D. Hall of Woodburn, and a niece of Mrs. Hunter.

There will be a concert at the armory on the Thanksgiving evening, which will be given by the German societies of Salem. Miss Harriet Enna, a graduate from one of the best European conservatories, will present a fine repertoire. This talented young woman sings in four languages. The German folk songs are especially interesting, and will be heard for the first time in Salem. The Mannerchor of the German Verein will give some of their choice selections. The evening closes with a social dance. Fine orchestra music has been secured.

About seventy freshmen of Willamette university enjoyed an evening of athletic sports last week Friday, in their gymnasium hall, which was elaborately decorated with autumn leaves and flowers. Miss Chappell, Professor and Mrs. Walsh, Professor and Mrs. Biddle, Professor and Mrs. Von Euchen, chaperoned the jolly crowd, who contested in track meets and running games and all manner of wild sports. Refreshments were served in a cafeteria, the guests passing between rows of students who held salvers containing popcorn, peanuts, grapes, apples, doughnuts, cider and homemade candies. This affair was in every way most delightful.

The hostesses served very lovely refreshments, Josephine and Lenta Baumgartner assisting.

Mrs. W. A. Denton resumed the piano instruction of her classes this week. The pupils study lives and works of musicians, also they discuss other musical subjects which tend to give them a broader and clearer conception of music in general. A portion of the time of this class work is given to piano numbers by pupils selected for descriptive selections. Mrs. Denton is particularly interested in kindergarten class work, which includes children from five to nine years of age, who respond readily to the study of music. These little folks enjoy meeting together in class, and vie with each other in working for improvement. Mrs. Denton has planned a splendid year's work for the three classes into which her pupils are divided.

The Misses Elsie and Minniecot Cotterman entertained informally with a dinner last Wednesday evening, complimenting Miss Francis Scott of Albany and Miss Allie Worrell of Woodburn. The table was attractive with autumn decorations and circled by a company of eight. The exciting game of "Eloha" was afterdinner entertainment. Mr. Clifton Smith winning high score and Mr. Joseph Chapman consolation.

The Woman's club is meeting this afternoon in the Congregational church parlors, to discuss plans for the year's work, receive reports from delegates who attended the convention at Roseburg and to vote on many names which have been sent in application for membership.

Last Wednesday about one hundred and fifty members of the Christian Endeavor society and pupils of the Sunday school met in the Congregational church parlors for an evening of pleasure. Numerous games formed entertainment for the young people, and very lovely refreshments were served.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Pearson Fox will be pleased to learn of their intention of returning to Salem. Mr. Fox will again be connected with the firm of Buren and Hamilton. Mrs. Fox and her two small daughters will remain in Lewiston, Idaho, where they have resided for about two years, until arrangements have been made for their home in this city.

The women of home missionary society in the First Presbyterian church entertained last Wednesday afternoon for the Ladies' Aid and members of the Missionary society of Dallas church. About twenty guests came over on the one o'clock train, and were served a very fine luncheon in the parlors, where covers were placed around an attractively laid table decorated with varied colored asters. Screens, brightened with roses, asters and ivy were placed about the front of the church auditorium, forming a room where a splendid program was presented by the Dallas guests, of songs, recitations and readings, with papers on missionary work. The afternoon's entertainment was very enjoyable, bringing together the members of similar societies in the two neighboring cities for closer friendships and sociability.
