Wise men weigh their words well—that they may not fall short or be found wanting when once uttered.

SWIM THE RIVER TO GET A DRINK.

A medical man calls The Capital Journal down for its condemnation of the law forbidding the use of common drinking cups on trains.

The law was enacted at the demand of the state board of health, but no steps were taken to protect the people from graft.

The water tanks were left in the unclean and unsanitary neighborhood of the lavatories in each end of the car.

A sanitary drinking fountain in the center of the car with cheap, sanitary drinking cups, furnished free by the railroad company, would have been more reasonable.

But to leave the water tanks where they are, and the news agents hold up the passengers for drinking cups all the way from ten cents to two dollars per cup is a graft.

The Standard Oil Co. is reaping a harvest from such fool legislation, selling a paraffine paper drinking cup at ten cents that probably does not cost them over fifty cents a hundred.

But it is done under the guise of protecting the people, an act of the sacred legislature, ordered by the state board of health, and so the people have to stand for it.

What experiments will the kind-hearted and easy-going, long-suffering citizenship not stand for?

Next we shall see a law requiring them to wear rings in their noses and bells on their toes.

What would be of more practical benefit to this city than any other form of club or organization would be a simple plan of a get-together lunch Monday noon at Hotel Marion where, for a fifty-cent business men's lunch each one of the community's burden-bearers could meet his neighbors and without formality talk over the program of the week. Free expression for half an hour in the best interest of the city, discussed without publicity, and in a frank and hearty manner. That would produce good feeling throughout the week, would give unity of purpose and understanding to the promotionwork of the community. That custom is being adopted in the most progressive communities and should be adopted in Salem.

ENACT THE NON-PARTISAN PRIMARY.

Let Salem be the first city in the state to enact the Non-Partisan Direct Primary in city affairs.

That would be the first step toward improving the present defective system in nominating city candidates.

The amendment to the charter provides for the combined Des Moines and Tacoma plan, which has been adopted in San Francisco.

The present direct primary law, held on Saturday afternoon, forces party registration and excludes all but Republicans and Democrats.

Take this step and hold the primary election Monday afternoon, when the business man and his employees can get off to vote.

With a more or less crazy registration system, and a bad primary law, it is a wonder that anyone will vote at all any more.

City elections are going by default, citizens are refusing to be candidates, and the expense of double elections is enormous.

The time has come to take a common sense view, and cease this cry that we have a perfect system, when the opposite is the truth.

If you have not registered it is your duty to register and cast your vote for a sane and reasonable city primary law.

The Capital Journal is in receipt of a current issue of the Ford Times, published by the Ford Motor Co., Detroit, Mich. It is an interesting little magazine put out by the company for the benefit of their dealers and owners of Ford motor cars. It is full of life and snap, and a person reading it cannot help becoming enthusiastic about the Ford car.

FOLK SONGS IN SALEM.

The educational friends of this city are to hear a program of folk songs at a German concert.

The folk-song movement has come into popular vogue in a quiet and very unobtrusive manner.

It has probably a deeper meaning and message in an educational way than most of us are aware.

The bursting into song of the heart-beats of the common people has been a continuous process.

The songs of the people set themselves to music and involve melody and poetry of the simpler sort.

On the evening of Thanksgiving Day the German Society will put on a program of Folk Songs.

The lady comes as an accomplished lieder singer with classical folk songs in four languages.

In the libretto the full text of the songs is given with an English translation easy to follow.

There are a good lot of men nominated for aldermen in the different wards. They seem to be men who do a good deal of keeping quiet and act like men who would attend to public business in an orderly manner. None of them seem to be clamoring for a salary before they will give their time to the people. If they will take their seats and not make long speeches and not originate too many schemes and deals, the city taxes may be reduced next year.

MASONS TO HAVE FINE BUILDING

WILL ERECT SIX-STORY BRICK ON STATE AND HIGH THAT WILL COST $100,000—WORKING PLANS COMPLETED AND SUBMITTED TO CONTRACTORS.

The working plans for the Masonic temple to be erected on the corner of State and High streets, are completed and can now be examined by contractors desirous of bidding. The building will be six stories and will cost approximately $100,000.

The building will be a beauty, and will add materially to the appearance of State street, as the vacant corner has been somewhat of an eyesore.

The ground floor will be used for business purposes, stores, etc., while the next three floors containing 16 rooms each will be devoted to offices. The two upper stories will be used entirely for lodge purposes.

The building committee that has the work in charge is composed of E. M. Croisan, chairman; M. L. Meyers, secretary; W. H. Steunhoff, A. E. Strang, D. J. Fry and A. L. Fraser.

X-RAYS AND SMILES.

In Medford the Socialists are at least consistent. They have on their city ticket a carpenter, a waiter, a bootblack and a day laborer. In many places the old parties, while boasting of the equality of men, before election, insist on his owning property, to be a voter. This means that the property, not the man, is the legal voter, and it alone is entitled to representation.

The supreme court of Missouri has ousted the Harvester Trust Co., and fined it $50,000. There were no "reasonable" qualifications in the decree, but the company was just fired out of business until it complies with the law.

All doubt as to the Democratic nominee for the presidency is now removed. A circular from Woodrow Wilson's headquarters settles it; it says: "Snell Smith, writing to the Tarrytown Argus says: 'Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, will be the candidate of the Democratic party for the presidency.'" Snell should know.

Every day The Journal receives from a dozen to twice that many communications from all over the country beginning "will you kindly publish the within in your valuable paper," etc. It would take a Sunday edition of a city paper to hold the trash, which goes into the "valuable papers," valuable and handy waste basket.

Gypsy Smith, in his work at Portland last night, declared he has seen devils on Portland streets. Wonder which gang of newspaper reporters he ran up against.

The Oregonian keeps emphasizing its assertion that La Follette and Bourne have quarreled. At the same time the dispatches from the East show they are hobnobbing like brothers. Time was when the Oregonian was the only paper in the Northwest carrying the dispatches, and it cannot realize now that its old time methods will not work.

The Standard Oil company is now divided into 35 separate companies. The heads of these companies, by mutual understanding, will operate together, acting practically as a board of directors, and the business will smell just the same. This is what the U. S. supreme court calls "trust busting."

NATION TO FIGHT RHEUMATISM

Crusade Begun Against Alarming Increase of "Weather Disease." "Educate the Sufferers" Is the Slogan.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—Following the recent agitation for a national fight against consumption, extensive tests have recently been made to ascertain what is the most certain method of curing rheumatism permanently.

The claims of many prominent physicians and manufacturers of rheumatism treatments, without prejudice or favor, were taken into consideration. Evidences of cures were carefully scrutinized. T. C. Millard of Flint, Michigan, the discoverer of the Fuss Rheumatism Cure, demonstrated so thoroughly the action of his remedy, its certainty, and the exceptional array of proofs, testimonial letters from chronic cases cured by it, that it was decided to sanction the use of this remedy as being the most reliable and the most definite in curative action. It was pronounced by analysis to be absolutely safe in its composition.

One of the most interesting cases noted was that of Mrs. Mary E. Thorn, 605 Pine street, Owosso, Mich. 8 years old, who had been a sufferer for 14 years, during which time no remedy was found availing. Three days after using Fuss, her pains ceased and she is now pronounced cured.

For sale by all leading druggists or sent prepaid on receipt of $1.00 or $6.00 bottles for $5.00. Fuss Remedy Co. Flint, Mich.

WHAT WE DO

CHAPTER 13 --The Secret of it All.

You have undoubtedly wondered about the secret of our success—how it was that the original capital of $50,000.00 of The A. C. Bohrnstedt Company was over subscribed and in less than two years was increased to $100,000.00 fully paid and in addition has a good substantial surplus, how the officers have been forced by the success of the original idea to organize another company with a capital of $50,000.00 and then another of $25,000.00, and then another of $75,000.00 (later increased to $150,000.00), and another with a capital of $100,000.00, and still another with a capital of $150,000.00, and finally another with a capital of $325,000.00.

There is no secret to the idea. It is so simple that it can be expressed in two words—"Business Sharing." This business sharing plan is carried thruout the entire system. Nearly every one in the employ of The A. C. Bohrnstedt Company, from president to stenographer, work on this plan. In every sense of the word, the employee, instead of being an employee, is a partner with the investor in the business. Every officer and employee, as well as every investor, gets his or her reward for his or her services or money in proportion to the profit made. The result is business co-operation and the result of such co-operation is success. This is the plan in a nut shell.

The sharing of profits is based on the business co-operation which each individual has given to the earning power of the capital. Capital receives its share of profit, for it plays its part in the business. Labor receives its share as well, for it shares its full responsibility in the business. We thus have interested labor—labor that shares its responsibility as a partner in the business therefore shares the profits as a partner in the business. This is true co-operation.

This co-operative or what is a better term—Business Sharing System, is being extended to the subsidiary companies as rapidly as possible and in every department. All of them are under it to a very large degree. Tomorrow's chapter will deal exclusively with this one idea. We want to fix it in your mind so that it will stick. Employer and employee are both interested alike. When we started business only one other firm in the United States was operating under this system. They are the largest dealers in their line in the world. Since inaugurating the system there have been no labor troubles, better hours and better advantages for employees, as well as more money for owners and employees. Is not this worth while?
