

WILL DINE ON ANGORA VENISON

Portland, Ore., Nov. 23.—The second annual meeting of the Northwest Angora Goat association will be held in Dallas, Ore., January 3 and 4 and 5. There will be over $1200 in cash premiums and prizes, besides many valuable and costly specials. One of the most important features will be an "Angora venison banquet," given by the Dallas Commercial club to the members of the association, in which the chief course will be roast Angora kid, an idea suggested by D. O. Lively, of the Portland Union stockyards at the last annual meeting, as a good way of showing and proving to the public the desirable qualities of the Angora meat. Governor West, of Oregon; Dr. James Withycombe, of the Oregon experiment station, and C. C. Chapman, of the Oregon Development league, and others will be present. W. A. Ayers will have charge of the stock exhibits. Further particulars may be obtained by addressing the secretary Alva L. McDonald, Hamilton building, Portland, Ore. Figures submitted by Mr. Hamilton show that there were produced in the West in 1911 nearly a quarter of a million pounds of first-class mohair, which sold for about $150,000. The goats are great browsers and serve the dual purpose of clearing the land of brush and weeds, as well as producing mohair.

MUST HUNT ANOTHER EXCUSE

Seattle, Nov. 23.—The cry of the politicians that it will be impossible to give the people a presidential primary law because an extra session of the legislature would cost $80,000 to $100,000, vanished today when Loren Grimstead, chief clerk of the house, figured the cost of a six-day session at exactly $10,740. Standpatters are now seeking new excuses.

The December Century.
The fun of the Christmas Century—and concentrated fun it is—will be found in Sir William S. Gilbert's comedy, "Trying a Dramatist," the second of two plays by the noted playwright which The Century has been fortunate enough to secure and publish.

Of the special Christmas features of the number, the cover, naturally, attracts first attention. It reproduces, in the colors of the original drawing, a sketch by Norman Price which conveys in beautiful color and with much quaint charm the spirit of Christmas rejoicing. Other pages in color are F. E. Schoonover's portrayal of "A Puritan Christmas," illustrating a poem by Amy Haslam Dowe, and a scene from Dickens' Christmas carol drawn by S. J. Woolf.

Another notable Christmas feature of the number is a Christmas song, written specially for The Century by Horatio Parker, professor of music at Yale university, and author of "Horo Novissima" and the new prize opera "Mona." Prof. Parker has set his music to "There's a Song in the Sky," a hymn by The Century's first editor, Dr. J. G. Holland.

St. Nicholas in 1912.
A new kind of adventure story which begins in the November number of St. Nicholas and will continue through several numbers is "The Knights of the Golden Spur," by Rupert Sargent Holland, author of "Historic Boyhoods," "Historic Girlhoods," etc. It is a story of a boy of today who is magically enabled to go back to other times and share with each of a half-a-dozen of the most famous knights of history in some dangerous adventures before he wins the golden spurs and becomes a member of their select little band. Reginald Birch will illustrate it.

St. Nicholas in 1912.
The "Be-Ba-Boes" are a new kind of quaint little folk—something like Brownies, but not at all like them. D. K. Stevens has written a mirth-provoking series of rhymes telling of their adventures. Katherine Maynard Daland has made the pictures. "The Ballads of the Be-Ba-Boes" will be a jolly feature of St. Nicholas in 1912.

Coughing at Night.
Means loss of sleep which is bad for the children and hard on grown persons. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound stops the cough at once, relieves the tickling and dryness in the throat and heals the inflamed membrane. Contains no opiates and is best for children and delicate persons. Refuse substitutes.—Red Cross Pharmacy (H. Jermain).

The Doctor's Answers On Health and Beauty Questions

By Dr. Theodore Beck

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and answers will apply to any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Theodore Beck, College Bldg., College-Elwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed envelope for reply. No questions will be answered unless full name and address is given. Initials or nom de plume will be used in answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Asthma Victim.—The disease of asthma is probably one of the most difficult to cure, and I offer the following only as a relief measure but I have had many reports from patients who seem to have obtained permanent cures. It is well worth trying and should be used two to six months: Oil eucalyptus 1 dram, terebene 1 dram, essence mentho-laxene 2 1/2 ozs., glycerine (pure) 6 ozs. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful every hour or two during attacks, and 6 doses daily at other times. For quick relief, put a teaspoonful of pure essence mentho-laxene into a pint of boiling water and inhale the fumes.

Distressed Anna.—The symptoms, bearing down pains, cramps, headache, fainting spells, weariness, all indicate that the delicate organs of your sex are not in normal healthy condition. Any woman who feels such symptoms should adopt a treatment designed to tone up the organs and restore their healthy functions. Have this prescription filled: Viburnum prunifolium 1 oz., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz., syrup hypophosphites 6 ozs. Mix and take a teaspoonful every 3 hours, following it with a glass of water. This makes a splendid tonic for nervous, "run-down" condition.

Footsore.—Being on your feet so many hours each day is responsible for the suffering which you endure. The best relief and cure for tired aching, swollen and sore feet, accompanied by burning or perspiring, is as follows: To a gallon of hot water add a teaspoonful of antiseptic vilane powder and a tablespoonful of salt. Immerse the feet each night for 15 to 20 minutes and soon you will be free from suffering the agonies of tender feet.

Rheumatic M.—In the treatment of rheumatism you should first regulate the diet. Discontinue coffee and tea. Omit almost entirely all meat diet, also, starches, such as fresh bread, pastry, puddings and potatoes, except baked. Always eat less than the appetite craves. Restore good digestion by taking tablets triopropine—pink after breakfast, white after dinner, and blue after supper. Have the following prescription properly filled: Iodide of potassium 2 drams, sodium salicylate 4 drams, wine of colchicum one-half oz., comp. essence cardiol 1 oz., comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. and syrup sarsaparilla comp. 5 ozs. Mix and shake well, taking a teaspoonful after each meal and one at bedtime. Drink much pure water.

Miss Too Thin.—You can and should weigh more by at least 15 or 20 pounds. The most reliable flesh promoting medicine that I can recommend is 3 grain hypo-nuclease tablets, obtainable from any well stocked pharmacy, in sealed packages, with full directions for taking. People who have tried everything in vain have met with great success when using this little tablet.

Scalp-Hair.—The hair and scalp frequently suffer from microbes, causing itching, dandruff and hair falling. The only real successful scalp and hair preparation that I have learned absolutely to be successful is plain yellow minoyol, packed in 4 oz. jars, ready for use, with full directions. A few applications restores healthy conditions, removes and cures dandruff, itching and falling hair, while it beautifies the hair giving lustre, wave and gloss.

Costive.—Yes, I can recommend canceroyal-pills for chronic constipation as the formula is printed on circular in each package and such ingredients as castor oil, cascara, wild lemon, etc., are very effective and pleasant in action. Continued usage often results in establishing natural action of bowels.

Head Ache.—If you are a frequent sufferer from headache, try using pain-away pills, which contain celery, camphor, acetphenetidin, etc., and these ingredients do not affect the heart like acetanilid does in many cases. If you have indigestion which may cause your suffering, I advise the use of tablets triopropine.

OREGON SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

dant, in making this settlement, paid any more than plaintiffs were liable for, no part of such excess should be allowed him.

The defendant Carey appears to have had a contract for the towage of the schooner "Louis" from Knappton, Washington, to San Francisco, and alleges that she was under his care at the time of the injury, and that he was responsible for her safe towage. Under the agreement with plaintiffs, Carey was interested in preventing the threatened arrest and delay of the "Sampson," and the consequent inconvenience to both plaintiffs and defendant, and we think he had the right to pay in the first instance, any such damage for which plaintiffs might be liable, and to have such payment adjusted in this action. Indeed we understand that payments are often so made in the maritime business: The Santona, supra, and case in note thereto; Brewster v. Warner, 136 Mass. 57; White v. Bascom, 28 Vt. 268.

In the last named case, the hirers of a boat recovered against the owners of a tug, engaged to tow the boat, for damages sustained by loss of the boat and cargo therein. The tug being negligently handled, the tow was lost, and the goods destroyed. The plaintiffs owned neither the boat nor the cargo but were the hirers of the former, and had the custody of the latter, the goods being owned by a number of persons who had entrusted them to plaintiffs for carriage and delivery. The plaintiffs had not paid the owners of the goods, and it was held that nevertheless, they might recover even though the general owners might also sue; see also The Jersey City, Fed. Rep. 527, and Chicago & Alton Railroad Co. v. Kansas City Suburban Belt Railroad Co., 78 Mo. 245.

The question as to who should maintain this claim for damages is one between Carey and the owners of the "Louis," as either the bailor or bailee may in such a case, maintain an action for redress, and a recovery for damages by either of them would be a full satisfaction, and a bar to any subsequent action by the others; The Mercedes, 108 Fed. Rep. 539, citing Story, Bailm. Sec. 94; The Nonpareil, 149 Fed. Rep. 521, 525. We therefore conclude that it was error for the trial court to reject the defendant's evidence of this claim.

The defendant contends that he was entitled to a deduction of the charter hire, $200 per day, for all the time he did not have the use of the tug, on account of the neglect of the plaintiffs to have said tug staunch, strong, and fitted and provided for the service contemplated by the agreement; or by reason of plaintiffs not supplying a competent crew; or by reason of the improper management of the vessel; or by the want of reasonable diligence on the part of the crew; or in other words that plaintiffs should not recover therefor. And he alleges that it was an error for the court to instruct the jury in effect to allow, for such loss, only full days of 24 hours each. The instruction on this point being in part as follows: "Now if in the determination of the evidence in this case if you find that the defendant had the use of the Sampson at any time within a period of 24 hours, commencing at 12:30 o'clock a. m., you will make no deductions for any given day covering that period of time."

Defendant requested the court to instruct the jury in substance: that, if, for any of the reasons mentioned, the steam tug "Sampson" was not at the disposal of defendant, "on any day, days or parts of days," and defendant lost the use of the tug, then defendant was entitled to a deduction of $200 per 24 hours for so much of said time as the tug was not at his disposal.

The plaintiffs were responsible for reasonable nautical skill in the management of the "Sampson," and there can be no doubt that if plaintiffs failed to perform any of their covenants in the charter party, they would be responsible to the defendant, in damages, which are alleged, as to a portion of the time lost, to be the amount of the charter hire. The contract does not by its terms contemplate any breach of the covenants on the part of plaintiffs, and the third clause of the charter party does not in our opinion provide a rule for computing the time of such loss of service, but only extends to the matter of rebate of $50 per day. It is incumbent upon the plaintiffs to prove the allegation of their complaint, in regard to the time of service of the tug, in so far as the same is denied. We think that the substance of the instruction upon this point asked by defendant should have been given.

Under clause 3 of the charter party, defendant claims to be entitled to a rebate of $50 per day for any full period of 24 hours, when he had no active use for the tug. By this clause of the agreement the parties stipulated as to when a rebate should be allowed, which they had a perfect right to do, and how the idle time should be determined, making the log of the tug the arbiter, as it were, in the matter. And we think when the log of the tug showed the vessel had not been in use, during any 24 consecutive hours, on account of defendant having no active use for her, then he should be entitled to a rebate of $50. The question is not what the rebate ought to be, but what the contract was.

The allegation of plaintiffs as to the condition of the tug was denied by defendant. The court properly instructed the jury in this regard, as follows: "I instruct you that the burden of proving that the Sampson was tight, staunch and strong and in every way fitted and provided for use as a vessel engaged in the business of towing lumber at the time this agreement was made, is upon the plaintiffs."

Note the case of The Edwin I. Morrison, 133 U. S. 199; S. 14 Sup. Ct. Rep. 823, in which the libel set up the damaged condition of the goods, and that the vessel upon leaving port "was not tight, staunch, strong, and every way fitted for said voyage as agreed." The answer alleged that the vessel encountered rough and tempestuous weather and was damaged by the perils of the seas which are excepted in contracts of freightment. In the opinion, Mr. Chief Justice Fuller used the following language: "Perils of the sea were excepted by the charter party, but the burden of proof was on the respondents to show that the vessel was in good condition, and suitable for the voyage, at its inception, and the exception did not exonerate them from liability for loss or damage from one of those perils to which their negligence, or that of their servants, contributed."

It is assigned as error that the other instructions given by the court are in conflict with the above instruction, but we do not deem that it would be of any aid, upon a re-trial of the case, to note the instructions

SEVERAL REASONS WHY THE CREDIT ORDERS ISSUED BY OUR COMPANY ARE AS GOOD AS GOLD

FIRST—Both manufacturers and dealers spend enormous sums of money in newspaper, magazine and other advertising. For instance, a half-page advertisement in a daily paper will cost several hundred dollars; in a popular magazine probably one thousand dollars. In fact, a short time ago one concern paid $1800.00 for a single double-page advertisement in four colors, in one issue of a popular magazine. So it can readily be seen how the cost of maintaining advertising for months at a time runs in fabulous sums, and why this offer can readily be made to the public. The manufacturers and dealers, combined, are satisfied that, using the same amount of money that others put in magazine and other expensive advertising, and distributing this cost in the form of Purchasing Orders among a few prospective piano purchasers, not only will be benefited by direct results, but the customer is also benefited by this large saving which would otherwise be paid for advertising.

SECOND—Using the old-style selling methods, a large force of outside solicitors are employed and large amounts paid in commission to teachers, agents, etc. Also, instead of employing 15 or 20 salesmen at an expense of possibly two or three thousand dollars per month, we only employ two or three salesmen, as we depend entirely upon customers coming to our store. We have thus been trying the experiment of dividing the savings we effect among purchasers of our pianos. We also save you the dealers' profit. We sell only direct from factory to home.

THIRD—We invite you to come and test our every statement, as to the savings we claim. Come on a tour of inspection—even if only out of curiosity—and you will find yourself well repaid for your time and trouble in proving our claim to be absolutely true. We ask you, in justice to us and to yourselves, to test the selling methods and values that may be obtained in our store. No matter what inducements and terms may have been offered to you elsewhere, no matter who tells you that our Credits are not beneficial, just remember, you have your own bills to pay, and "a dollar saved is a dollar earned," so come to us and see what your hard-earned dollars will buy where every unnecessary dollar is cut out of the selling expenses at this time, causing you a positive saving of at least one-third of your piano money.

at length, or to consider all of the assignments of error.

Upon the trial the cross examination by defendant's counsel of the witnesses for plaintiffs, Robson and Jones, was, by the court in regulating the order of proof, kept within narrow limits, with the express permission for defendant to recall the witnesses for further examination which if allowed under the application of a liberal rule would serve defendant's purpose and protect his rights in the premises.

The judgment of the lower court is reversed and the cause remanded for a new trial.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

THEY INJURE CHILDREN.

Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic may Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given. Ordinary pills, cathartics, and purgatives are too apt to do more harm than good. They sometimes cause griping, nausea, and distressing after-effects, and may actually injure the health, thus establishing a life-lasting annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as a safe and dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies not only relieve constipation, but help to remove the cause of this ailment. They also frequently overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. There is really, in our opinion, no similar medicine so good as Rexall Orderlies for the purpose to which it is directed, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form and in two sizes of packages: 12 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets, 25c; and 80 tablets, 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store.—The Rexall Store, J. C. Perry.

A Mail Carrier's Load.

Seems heavier when he has a weak back and kidney trouble. Fred Duehren, mail carrier at Atchison, Kas., says: "I have been bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and had a severe pain across my back. When I carried a heavy load of mail, my kidney trouble increased. Some time ago, I started taking Foley Kidney Pills and since taking them I have gotten entirely rid of all my kidney trouble and am as sound now as ever." Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action, and quick in results. Try them. Red Cross Pharmacy (H. Jermain).
