The editor of society department of the Capital Journal's Saturday issue, requests that reports of early week affairs may be telephoned to 1938 or sent to 483 South Commercial street, as soon as possible, to make room for the later events of the week. There being no Sunday issue of the Journal, the society editor has but five instead of six days to collect and arrange her stories. Many coming in too late are left for the following week or to appear in one of the other issues.

his brother are condemned to be executed. The charm of dignity with acting in amateurs, gave the audience a realistic idea of the awful life of the early Christians. This little historic play with its appropriate surroundings and excellent acting, was quite the best piece of stage work ever given by the pupils of Sacred Heart academy.

The regular Assembly party will be given in Hotel Marion on the evening of Wednesday, November the twenty-ninth.

There was a gathering of the members of Woman's Christian Temperance union at Ramp Memorial hall on Thursday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Vaudrey Root. Mrs. Eva Wheeler of Marion, an eloquent speaker, being present. There were vocal and instrumental solos and refreshments.

Miss Zoe Stockton was hostess last Tuesday evening with the second of a series of card parties. In room with pink and white scheme of decorations, carried out with chrysanthemums, seven tables of five hundred were played. Mrs. Walter Spaulding and Mr. Roy Mills securing high score prizes.

Thirty-five members from Dallas of Naomi chapter, number twenty-two, Oregon Eastern Star, came over on a special last Tuesday. The invited guests of Chadwick chapter number thirty-seven and a banquet which followed. Yellow chrysanthemums and ferns decorated the banquet table and one hundred and fifty-seven guests were served an elaborate luncheon. The special arrived at six-forty and returned to Dallas at twelve o'clock.

Doctor and Mrs. Gaylord H. Patterson planned a delightful evening last week Friday, entertaining for the freshmen of Willamette university. A program had been arranged giving a piano solo, Miss Gertrude Eakin; vocal duet, Miss Hanson and Miss Thompson; reading, Mr. Savage; violin solo, Mr. Green, and vocal solo, Mr. McCaddam. Guessing games, calling for cleverness in solving, kept the young guests in keen alertness. Refreshments rounded out the evening.

For their regular afternoon of embroidery, the Priscillas met with Mrs. Ida Babcock last Thursday. As over-Sunday guests of the students of Salem high school, a crowd of Australian boys, numbering about forty, are expected to arrive this afternoon on special train from Albany. On the committee in charge of arrangements for their entertaining are Miss Nellie Bloom, Miss Harriet Rigdon, Donald Byrd, Harold Eakin and Kenneth Martin. These lads from Australia are making an educational tour of this country, having been sent by their government for that purpose.

Miss Alta Altman returned last Monday morning from Corvallis, after a delightful week with Miss Edith Kinney at Walden hall, where she enjoyed the students' reception on Friday evening. Miss Kinney is a member of the Oregon Agricultural college faculty.

Miss Ruth Ketchum was hostess for a delightful evening last Monday when the Muchacha club met at her home on Court street. Just now it is Christmas work which keeps the young women's needles busy. Miss Ketchum served very lovely refreshments at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson entertained the Five Hundred club last Wednesday evening in their new home on Cottage street. Throughout the rooms were yellow chrysanthemums in vases and seven tables arranged for the game. Mrs. Edward Baker and Mr. Frank Durbin captured high score prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mapletorp were surprised last Saturday evening when about thirty friends invited themselves to give the entertained ones a joyous evening. Cards and music made entertainment and a fine luncheon added pleasure to the affair.

A box social will be given in Howell prairie school house, on the evening of December the first; the proceeds to be devoted to the comfort of horses. About sixty children attend the school, many coming from long distances either driving or riding. It is for the shelter of these animals that a shed or some sort of protection from inclement weather is to be built.

A splendid program has been arranged for the German society concert which will be given on the evening of Thanksgiving day in armory hall. Doctor Emil Enna and Miss Harriet Enna being artists of note, assures the audience of splendid music. The Salem Gesang Verein, with Mr. Frederick Heyser as director, gives evidence of fine training of the group voices. At the close of the music there will be dancing, the program furnished by Professor Kurz' ten-piece orchestra.

The concert program will be: Part I—Overture by orchestra; "Auf dem Woblen der Herrliche Maid" (folk drink to thee, glorious maid), with orchestra accompaniment; Gesang Verein; piano solo, Dr. Emil Enna; Volks Lieder, Harriet Enna; 1. Haiden-Roslein, Franz Schubert; 7. Aus den Adieu, Franz Schubert; 8. Aus den ostlichen Rosen, Robert Schumann; 9. Ich kann's nicht fassen, Robert Schumann.

The introduction to the play and description of each scene were read by Miss Agnes Driscoll. The first scene represented Saint Cecilia as a child relating the martyrdom of her little friend Claudia. The second, some years later when her mother declares she must marry Valerian. Here the angel appears to comfort her. In the third, Valerian's bride sends him to be taught what Christianity means; and in the fourth he returns converted to the faith, an angel crowns him with celestial flowers and Saint Cecilia explains the meaning of Christianity to Valerian's brother, who in the fifth scene becomes converted and is commanded to appear before the prefect who condemns him. In the last scene Saint Cecilia, Valerian and Part II—"Gebet Warend de Schlicht" (prayer during battle), Gesang Verein; piano solo, Dr. Emil Enna; Volks Lieder, Miss Enna; 1. Perler, Christian Sinding; 2. How Many Dreams, Sinding; 3. Autumn, P. E. Lange-Muller; 4. Ragna, Edward Grieg; 1. Aus meinen grossen Schmerzen, Robert Franz; 2. Schwesterlein, Johannes Brahms; 3. Sweet and Low, Emil Enna; 4. My Gift, Terest Del Diego.

The spacious home of Mrs. J. C. Hopkins, 527 South High street, was the scene of merry party last Saturday afternoon when the members of Mrs. Frank Frickey's Sunday school class in the First Presbyterian church assembled for another delightful social affair. It is the purpose of this teacher, with the cooperation of the boys' parents, to provide frequent entertainment for them, of such nature as will promote the spirit of unity and helpfulness among them, and develop pleasure in the most wholesome social enjoyment, as they are of that age, from eight to twelve, when their social qualities may be happily directed. James Hopkins, one of the most faithful members of the class, proved an efficient host, showing the boys his pleasure haunts in and about his home, and taking the initiative in the indoor games. During the afternoon, D. Steiwer exhibited his magic lantern pictures, consisting of athlete's "stunts" and the maneuvers of an air ship. This was followed by fortune telling of unique character. Mrs. Hopkins, wearing the head gear of a sycops, took her place behind a screen and repeated the witches incantation from Macbeth: "Double, double, toil and trouble. Fire burn and cauldron bubble," while the boys hung the flashing line over the screen and secured their fortunes. Among them were found a president of the United States, governor of Oregon, preacher of eminence, discoverer of South pole, temperance leader, missionary to foreign fields and other famous men to remind them that here is room at the top for each of them. The afternoon's pleasure closed with refreshments in the dining room, where the table was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, ivy and wild grape. Enjoying the party were D. Steiwer, Glen Purvine, Harold Moon, Herbert Darby, Max Moon and James Hopkins.

Miss Gertrude Jones and Miss Janet Gray came in from Labish Meadows for Mrs. Schucking's party last Wednesday, remaining over night with Mrs. Jane Chadwick. Mrs. Gray left yesterday for Hillsboro to make a short stay and will spend Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. Howard Strickler in Portland before returning to her home in Seattle for the Christmas holidays.

Miss Louise Cronise spent the week end in Albany as house guest of Miss Chapman.

Miss Edna Jossie returned last Monday evening from a week's visit with friends in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Fry and their little daughter Priscilla returned last Tuesday from a four weeks stay in "Cheery-in", their summer home at Neskwon.

Mrs. L. Bechtel was hostess last Wednesday for the Needlecraft club and a number of invited friends who enjoyed the most delightful afternoon and the elegant luncheon served at its close.

A very good audience greeted Miss Katharine Trevette last Wednesday evening when with the assistance of the Congregational choir, she presented the following program in most satisfactory manner, responding with thanks to some of the selections:

Part I—The Christmas Dinner Party, Miss Trevette; violin duet, selected, the Misses Vercler; Stories from Eugene Field, (a) Winken, Blynken and Nod, (b) Picnic Time, (c) The Night Wind, Miss Trevette; A Little Girl's Views, Miss Trevette.

Part II—Congregational quartet; (a) Just a Wearyin' for You, (b) "Im-iph'm," (c) The Usual Way, Miss Trevette; Congregational Quartet; Minding the Baby, Miss Trevette. The Misses Mary and Pearl Vercler were received with generous applause and played their favorite instruments most beautifully.

Miss Beatrice Shelton followed with piano accompaniment, the recitation of "Wynken, Blynken and Nod," and "Just a Wearyin' for You." The quartet, Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Bross, Mr. McGilchrist and Mr. Gilie, gave two beautiful numbers. The proceeds of this evening's entertainment were divided between the Presbyterian and Congregational churches.

After visiting in California for six weeks Mrs. Frank M. Jordan of Seattle has been the house guest of Mrs. Henry Meyers since the sixteenth of November. Mr. Jordan and their daughter Helen are expected next Wednesday for Thanksgiving dinner.

Doctor and Mrs. B. F. Rowland are visiting at Mrs. Rowland's home city in Ohio.

Mrs. Carey Martin and her little daughter Francis Mattie returned last Sunday evening from a pleasant visit with friends in Portland.

Mrs. Homer Gouley returned last Monday from Portland where she was the guest for a few days of Doctor and Mrs. W. T. Williamson.

The very many friends of Miss Nanette Wagner, who was taken to the hospital this week, will be rejoiced to learn of her steady improvement and the possibility of a complete recovery in the future.

The senior and junior guilds of St. Paul's Episcopal church are giving a sale of aprons, embroidered towels and pillow slips and fancy articles too numerous to mention, in the Guild room on the afternoons and evenings of December the seventh and eighth. A candy booth for home-made sweets will be an attraction.

Mrs. B. J. Miles of Salem heights is enjoying a visit of indefinite length from her niece Miss Verma Cook, who returned to this country last September from Paris, where she has been studying architecture. It is her intention to return next year, when she will receive her diploma and continue her post graduate study.

The Knights of Pythias of Salem lodge have been invited by the Independence lodge to be present at the reunion which will take place on Monday evening, November the twenty-seventh. An interesting program has been planned, a banquet and toasts to follow.

The Nevins evening to be given by Miss Minnetta Magers and Miss Beatrice Shelton has been postponed until the nineteenth of December.

One of a series of afternoon entertainments was given last week Friday by the East and West circles in the Ladies' Aid society of First Methodist church, at the home of Mrs. U. G. Boyer, North Winter street. Each member of the society six months ago pledged a dollar; the amount to be earned and accounted for at this meeting. In description of the numerous ways and means by which these elusive dollars were gathered, Mrs. Penn sang an original cleverly composed song, and Mrs. C. C. Clark recited an original poem on the same subject, which swung smoothly to Hiawatha meter. Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Starr, Miss Benedict and Muriel Steeves gave pleasure with vocal solos, while Mrs. Ronald Glover, always a delightful entertainer, recited. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. About sixty members and guests enjoyed the afternoon.

This afternoon between halves of the football game, the Australian boys will give an exhibition of ball playing as it is seen in their own country, and will also furnish band music. Tonight the boys are giving a concert of vocal and instrumental music at the Grand. These lads are the house guests of high school boys during the two days visit in Salem.

Members from Philodorian and Websterian literary societies of Willamette university debated the subject of parcels post last Tuesday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the Salem Business Men's league. Deciding on its merits as a debate, the Judges gave victory to the negative side of the question as placed by the Websterians. After adjournment, the victorious crowd gathered at the Spa for a feast.

The high school students with their guests from Australia who are touring the United States, have been invited by Reverend R. N. Avison to attend divine service tomorrow morning at First Methodist church. For this occasion a special sermon has been prepared.

A silver entertainment was given last week Friday evening in the United Evangelical church on Cottage street with program, followed by a social hour. Miss Velya Dickenson of Portland is a charming entertainer and her selections on this occasion were most enjoyable. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frickey added pleasure to the evening with duets on violin and organ. Their selections being Jocelyn's "Lullaby," "Tramplers" and "Simple Avon." After the program there was a social hour and refreshments. A most appreciative audience entirely filled the church auditorium.

Miss Emily Jeffers entertained the Meum et Teum club last Tuesday evening. The guests besides, were Miss Laura Hanson and Miss Bertha Duncan.

The members of the Woman's Relief corps were entertained at their regular sewing last Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Frederick Bynon in her new home at 602 North Capitol street. In place of the usual charity work the women brought their Christmas sewing, and the affair was turned into a pretty compliment to Mrs. Ronald Glover, who is leaving on the fourth of December for a winter in Washington, D. C.

Assisting the hostess at refreshment hour were Miss Emma Wright, Miss Gertrude East and Miss Bynon. About thirty guests enjoyed the afternoon.

The dancing party given by the Royal Neighbors last Thursday evening in Steeve's hall was a very delightful affair. There was excellent music, a good floor and congenial crowd.

A fine program is being arranged for the Enterpen society's presentation next Wednesday evening in Willamette university chapel. This will be the thirteenth assembling of the society for an evening of music and art. All who are interested are most cordially invited to attend the meetings. Tickets can be obtained at the entrance.

The altar society members of St. Joseph's church have been a number of weeks preparing for the bazaar they will give on the fifth, sixth and seventh of December. All sorts of useful and beautiful articles, together with cooked foods which will appeal to the busy housewife, will be placed before the people at reasonable prices.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen are giving a banquet at Hotel Marion on the evening of December the fourth.

The passing of Mr. Donald McCarthy's mother ten days ago in her home near London, called him to England for the purpose of settling a most comfortable estate. Mr. McCarthy left last Thursday and will probably make a stay of two or three months. Mrs. McCarthy will remain on the ranch during his absence. Her father is with her.

The Adelanto Society held its regular meeting yesterday, enjoying a German afternoon. Miss Lina Heist who is thoroughly conversant with the language, was invited by the president of this society, to fill her office at the meeting. Roll call was answered with German quotations. The Misses Lina, Lina and Laura Heist sang a beautiful arrangement of "Lorlie." Mrs. Walsh, a member of Willamette University faculty, who has spent much time in Berlin and Hanover, gave a most interesting talk on city life and customs in Germany. Thirty-five members were guests for the afternoon and closed the program by singing the great national song of Germany.

Mrs. Robert Benham was genial hostess for the Kensington club yesterday afternoon, with Miss Cook, of Spokane, Miss Eakin, of Astoria, and Miss Hendricks, of Albany, as invited guests.
