

"POLLY OF THE CIRCUS" TO BE AT THE GRAND SATURDAY

An event of the theatrical season will be "Polly of the Circus," Fred- eric Thompson's magnificent produc- tion, to be seen at the Grand opera house on Saturday, December 9, with Miss Ida St. Leon in the titular role, supported by all the members of the original "Polly of the Circus" com- pany.

Margaret Mayo's wholesome and simple story is one of the most de- lightful plays of recent years. It would be difficult to imagine a pret- tier scene than that with which the first act of "Polly" closes. It is there that the young girl of the circus gets her first insight into things that are higher and better, when, as she first regains consciousness and realizes her helplessness the minister reads to her, at her request, those memorable lines from the Book of Ruth: "En- treat me not to leave thee or to re- turn from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge. Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God." The curtain falls, and the real story is begun. Pathos is mingled, through the play, with no less excellent humor than Polly's slang, when she first converses with the minister about his people. She calls him a "sky pilot," and, talk- ing of her business as compared with his ministerial duties, says: "One year you give 'em the rottenest kind of a show, and they eat it up; the next you give 'em a 'knockout,' and it's a frost." These are but random samples. The circus scenes of the third act are revelations of stage- craft. It is all there, the rings, the horses, the clowns and everything and everybody else. The setting of the last scene of the third act is as wonderful as it is beautiful. The circus trains and wagons winding their way up the pathway, while Pol- ly remains once more and forever be- hind, and with the man after her heart. Taken all in all "Polly of the Circus" offers more pure, wholesome entertainment than any play has had in a long time, hence its success.

A NEW BOAT TO PLY THE WILLAMETTE

A dispatch from Oakville, Decem- ber 5, says: "Capt. Galbraith was in Portland this week and while there visited the Inspector of steam- boats and reported his new boat, "Un- cle Sam." The Inspector will look the new craft over soon and about the 24th day of December there will be "something doing" on the Willam- ette river, and from that date hence- forth and forever there will be a boat making regular semi-weekly trips. There is accommodation on the boat for 50 full-grown persons and 90 tons of freight. When this vessel gets to making regular trips, there will be no need of electric railroads, for twice a week is as often as we will want to go to Portland. It is more pleasant to ride on the upper deck of a nice boat free from the dust. The chattering will be done at Portland on account of the local option law, and as the captain is opposed to wasting anything good he may not use wine, but an imitation made of water, and keep the wine to use in other ways. The crew will be men who have had ex- perience on the river. They will be supplied with rubber boots to be used in the summer for wading over the bars.

An Alarm at Night

That strikes terror to the entire house- hold is the loud, hoarse and metallic cough of croup. No mistaking it, and fortunate then the lucky parents who keep Foley's Honey and Tar Com- pound on hand. H. W. Casselman, Canton, N. Y., says: "It is worth its weight in gold. Our little children are troubled with croup and hoarseness, and all we give them is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. I always have a bottle of it in the house." H. Jernan, Red Cross Pharmacy.

OREGON SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

We hold that the title which the state had, has not been extinguished by the running of the statute.

It is contended by counsel for de- fendant that the occupancy of plain- tiff under his contract for the pur- chase of the land, laured to the bene- fit of defendant's grantor, for the purpose of perfecting the title of the latter by adverse possession.

To this, counsel for plaintiff an- swers, that defendant expressly pleads his title by deed from the state and no other title; that the specific allegation that he derived his title by deed from the state of Ore- gon precludes him from proving title by adverse possession. This conten- tion would seem tenable as far as proving the link of title from the state to defendant Van Blokland. Ex- cept for this muniment of title which is set out in the answer, defendant must rely upon his general denial and the allegation that he is the own- er and in possession of the real prop- erty in question. This, we think, raises a question as to whether or not the defendant can avail himself of the statute of limitations for the purpose of showing title to his gran- tor, the state of Oregon.

Even though the statute does not run against the state, adverse pos- session by the state for the statutory period will give title by prescription; Eldridge v. Binghamtn, 120 N. Y. 309; 1 Cyc. 1121.

Where the general statute of lim- itations is relied upon as a defense for the purpose of showing title, and the defendant alleges ownership and the right of possession, it is not nec- essary to specially allege adverse

Take One Pain Pill, then— Take it Easy.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills will help you, as they have helped others.

Good for all kinds of pain. Used to relieve Neuralgia, Head- ache, Nervousness, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Kidney Pains, Lumbago, Locomotor Ataxia, Backache, Stomachache, Cerebricness, Irritability and for pain in any part of the body.

"I have always been subject to neuralgia and have suffered from it for years. While visiting my son and suffering from one of the old attacks, he brought me a box of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I used them as directed and after taking them it was the first time in years the neuralgia ceased from the use of medicine." MRS. E. C. HOWARD, 402 Greene St., Dowagiac, Mich. At all druggists, 25 doses 25c. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

As between the plaintiff and the state or its grantee, the occupancy of the plaintiff under his contract for the purchase of the land, was that of a tenant, and did not inure to the benefit of the plaintiff, but to the benefit of the state, for the purpose of perfecting title by adverse possession; Anderson v. McCormick, 18 Or. 301-303; Rowland v. Williams, 23 Or. 515, 523; 1 Cyc. 1004; Mabary v. Dol- larhide, 14 Am. St. Rep. 639; McAuliffe v. Parker, (Wash.) 38 Pac. 744.

It is clearly shown in the testimony that the state of Oregon through plaintiff Stephenson, its vendee, un- der the contract for the purchase of the land, was in the open, notorious, exclusive and adverse possession of the land, under color of title from August 21, 1882, until December, 1898, more than the statutory period of 10 years, and whatever right ac- quired by such possession of plaintiff inured to the benefit of the state from which defendant Van Blokland derives title.

From the record and evidence on the part of plaintiff, as well as that of defendant, we think that plaintiff has failed to sustain the allegation of his complaint as to adverse posses- sion of the land for the statutory period, and as between the parties of this suit, that defendant is the owner in fee, and entitled to the possession of the whole of the land.

It follows that the decree of the lower court should be modified ac- cordingly, and one entered here de- claring defendant to be the owner in fee, and entitled to the possession of the land.

Tells Consumptives How He Got Well

Tuberculosis is said to be curable by simply living in the open air and taking an abundance of fresh eggs and milk. Undoubtedly, some persons are benefited in this way, but the appropriate remedy for Consumption is Eckman's Alternative. Do all you possibly can to add to strength by increasing weight, eat wholesome, nutri- tious food, and breathe the cleanest and purest air—then, to the sensible things of right living, add the tonic and restorative effects of Eckman's Alternative. Read what it did in this case:

600 West Street, Wilmington, Del. "Gentle, I was told, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. My physician, one of the leading practi- tioners, said that it was lung trouble. I took eggs and milk in quantities, but I got very weak, and I kept on working in the store. The doctors said I would not gain in weight as long as I stayed in the store, but I kept on working and prayed each day that I might get well. I believe my prayers were answered, for Mr. C. A. Lippincott, my employer (Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 306 to 314 Market street, Wilmington, Del.), had learned of a remedy called Eckman's Alternative that had done great good, and upon his recom- mendation I began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of the lungs, which appeared to be old chunks of blood coming up. I now have no trouble with my lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alternative saved my life. I sent my spi- rit later to the State Board of Health to be examined for tuberculosis bacilli, and none were found. "My mother died from Consumption when I was about two years old. "I make this statement so that others may learn of the wonderful merits of Eckman's Alternative. I regard my recov- ery as being miraculous." (Signed) ANTHONY J. SQUIRES, Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bron- chitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evi- dence. For sale by all leading druggists and J. C. Perry, Salem, Oregon.

Was Fight for Life. It was a long and bloody battle for life that was waged by James B. Mer- shon, of Newark, N. J., of which he writes: "I had lost much blood from lung hemorrhages, and was very weak and run down. For eight months I was unable to work. Death seemed close on my heels, when I began, three weeks ago, to use Dr. King's New Discovery. But it has helped me greatly. It is doing all that you claim." For weak, sore lungs, obsti- nate coughs, stubborn colds, hoarseness, la grippe, asthma, hay-fever or any throat or lung trouble it's su- preme. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by J. C.
